The South Carolina State Fair opened at Columbia on Tuesday, with the thermometer standing two degrees below freezing.

As we supposed would be the case. L Cass Carpenter alias Cupert has been found guilty. This scores three thus far in convicting the South Carolina robbers, known commonly as carpet baggers.

We who know Colonel Walter L Steele's fine abilities are not surprised to learn by telegraph that, although a new member of the United States House of Representatives, he has made a speech on the repeal of the resumption act that "was highly applauded." lectual powers, and that he will take a prominent position we cannot doubt.

Senator Maxey, of Texas, is in earnest in his efforts to induce Congress to establish a system of defensive works on the Rio Grande. He made an elaborate speech on the subject in the Senate yesterday. In view of the threatening tone of the Mexican press, the known character of the people, and the constant depredations and invasions of Mexican banditti upon Texas, it would seem not unreasonable that some such system should be adopted as that asked for by Mr. Maxey. An ounce of precation is worth several pounds of fight. With a cordon of forts, and four regiments of cavalry such as Congress has just provided for, it will become a hazardous business for the robbers to continue their raids upon the people of Texas. The people of that State have been long suffering, but are becoming restive under the robberies.

-The time is getting short for those who are desirous of paying their State and county taxes without additional costs, as the sale of property of delinquents will take place on the first Monday in DeAccident at the W. & W. Raliroad Wharf.

Yesterday afternoon a number of flat cars attached to a freight train on the Wilmington & Weldon railroad, which had just come in, in some way got detached from the other portion of the train somewhere in the vicinity of the bridge over Fourth street, where a stoppage was about to be made, and moved on down the track. Being on a down grade they naturally gathered impetus as they went, and soon everybody was rushing to see a train of cars going thundering down the track without any engine attached. There was no such thing as stopping them, and on they went, with constantly increasing speed, until finally they came to the end of the trestle on the wharf, when the foremost car plunged off, coming in violent contact with the side of the German Barque Star of Hope, which was lying at the end of the wharf, taking in a cargo, and then, crushed to atoms, falling into the river at the side of the vessel, with its load of wood. The second car, which was loaded with rosin, followed the firs and fell crushed and splintered into the river. while the third, which was loaded with tar, plunged over the trestle, but as the momentum of the train had been checked by the accident, it was left suspended, but broken in the middle, with one end on the trestle and the other in the river. About six or eight feet of the end of the trestle was broken and destroyed by the accident, but the damage to the barque appeared to be

We learn that the loss by the accident will not be less than from $1,500 to $2,000, to say nothing of the rosin tar and wood, nearly all of which, however, will probably be saved, workmen being engaged yes. terday evening in fishing it out of the river.

This being the first incident of an exciting character that has occurred here for some time, quite a large crowd of curious people were attracted to the spot.

An Exciting Dog Fight.

The most exciting dog fight of the season occurred on Seventh street Tuesday night. Dog No. 1 was passing quietly along with his owner, "saying nothing to nobody, when suddenly Dog No. 2 sprang out of a gate and commenced a furious assault upon him. The latter showed pluck and a desperate struggle for the mastery ensued, the owner of Dog No. 1 in the meantime trying vainly to separate them, in the midst of which humane efforts he tumbled backwards over a pile of scantling which had been left on the street, and before he could get to his feet the dogs were fighting over his prostrate form, Finally extricating himself from this rather unpleasant predicament, and by this time his "Irish" being theroughly aroused, he seized piece of scantling and commenced belaboring the strange dog with the view of making him quit his hold upon his favorite "purp," which was in a fair way to be "chawed up" into sausage meat This change of tactics on the part of the master of Dog No. 1 brought the owner of Dog No. 2 hurriedly forth from his quiet domicile, and between them the dogs were separated, whereupon the two gentlemen "exchanged the compliments of the season," and the owner of Dog No. 1 resumed his walk in a somewhat wearied and jaded condition, but not a bit out of humer at

These remedies are a certain cure for Censumption, as the Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, create a healthy bile, and remove all diseases of the liver, often a cause of Consumption. The Sea Weed Tonic gives tone and strength to the stomach, makes a good digestion, and enables the organs to form good blood, and thus creates a healthy circulation of healthy blood.
