From Washington. [Special to Richmond Dispatch.]

WASHINGTON, May GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR THE CON-GRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN.

The Republican Congressmen con tinue to make active and systematic preparations for the coming campaign, and no Senator is regarded as old enough on distinguished enough to be exempt from earnest work. They evidently appreciate the im portance of the crisis, and know that they will have to carry the full weight of the Presidential frauds in the death struggle they intend to make in November to get control of the House. Under smiles the malignants among them conceal their hate of Hayes and his policy, and seem to have made a vow to be kind and conciliatory towards even Schurz for the time being.

WHAT THE DEMOCRATS ARE DOING. The Democrats are at last waking up to the necessity of preparing vigoronaly for the campaign. They begin to understand that something else is needed besides the general charges that Robeson & Co. stole everything that came within their reach short of a saw-mill and a redhot stove. I was glad to see that the joint campaign committee of the two Houses last night held a protracted session, and that Messrs. Randall, McDonald, Eaton, Banning, Wood, Reagan, Clarke of Missouri, Morrison, Jones of New Hampshire, Blackbarn, Ceckerille, Wallace and Hunton were present. They transacted some business that cannot be given to the public, but agreed that Ohio ought to be redistricted by the present Democratic Legislature, so as to relieve it of the gerrymander by which thousands of Democrats are deprived gressman A. M. Waddell, North Carolina, delivered a lecture to night in Steinway Hall, on "The Contederate Soldier," in response to the request of several thousand Union veterans. The proceeds were for disabled soldiers of the Forty-seventh New York Volunteers. The hall was about three-fourths filled. Among the persons who were present on the platform, which was decorated with lags, were Postmaster James, Thurlow Weed, and a number of officers from Governor's Island. The lecture was mainly historical in its character, closing with an eloquent peroration in which the speaker said that the South was doing its best to rebuild its former prosperity, and that the Confederate soldier, acknowledging the bravery of those of the North, only asked that the past be forgotten.

Election of Officers. At the annual meeting of Wilmington

Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, held last night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President-Col. Roger Moore. Vice President-R. H. Beery. Secretary-W. J. Gordon. Treasurer-W. P. Toomer.

Foreman-R. H. Beery. First Assistant-J. M. Cazaux. Second Assistant-R. H. Grant. the front tillers of the Hook and Ladder Truck, which was on its way to the fire, drawn by the horse belonging to the company, and after running for some distance, becoming thoroughly exhausted from the rapidity with which the animal was travelling, Mr. Groves shouted to the driver to stop the horse, but there was so much noise at the time that he did not hear him Finally he was completely overcome and fell to the ground, one of the front wheels passing over his breast and the rear one over his legs. As soon as the accident was known the truck was stopped and Mr. Groves was taken up and carried into the front porch of Mrs. Herring, who resides near where the unfortunate occurrence took place, which was on Ann between Fifth and Sixth streets, but was soon afterwards removed in a carriage to the residence of the family on Fourth, between Dock and Orange streets. Three of our prominent physicians were called in and they announced that no bones were broken and that he had apparently received no internal injuries, though his breast and legs were very badly bruised. Fortunately, the accident occurred where the street was very sandy, and the body of the young man thus yielded to the weight of the truck as it passed over him, otherwise his injuries would doubtless have proved fatal. We learn that Mr. Groves' companion at the tillers was also exhausted and would have soon fallen if the truck had not been stopped. The horse, as we have once before had occasion to remark, is difficult. to control when he is running to a fire, always going at his atmost speed.

The Clarkton Robbery-Capture of One of the Thieves and Burglars. From a gentleman who arrived in this city last evening from Whiteville, and from Capt. Everett, of the Carolina Central Railway, we learn that Charles Hill, colored, the 20-mile post. was captured at Whiteville, on Saturday night last, with the watches and the bulk of the property stolen from Messrs. Clark & Currie, of Clarkton, Bladen county, alluded to in the STAR a few days since, in his possession. Hill at first refused to give his name, but finally confessed the deed, and gave his name as above. He said he had already served in the penitentiary for similar crime. He implicated no one the transaction but himself. He was anrested just before the Southern train left-Whiteville, upon which he had made his arrangements to leave, having purchased his ticket. Sheriff Haynes, of Columbus, left Whiteville with a posse, yesterday afternoon, in search of another party who was suspected, and of whose whereabouts on Sunday night he had definite information.

We shall doubtless be able to give fuller particulars of the capture of the burglars inour next issue.

was unnecessary.

A furious storm of wind, rain and hail accompanied by thunder and lightning, passed over this city and vicinity on Sunday morning, between midnight and day The wind at times was terrific, and many persons left their beds under the apprehension that the roofs of their houses might come rattling about their heads. Several trees were uprooted, broken branches scattered about the streets, fences prostrated, &c. The covering to the scuttle was blown from the top of the Opera House and landed in the City Hall yard." There appeared to be very little hail accompanying the storm hereabouts, but it was probably quite severe elsewhere in this immediate section, which was indicated in the decided change in the atmosphere during the day. Sunday night, about 11 o'clock, after a day of unusual pleasantness, another storm burst upon us, accompanied by severe thunder and lightning and a considerable sprinkling of hail.

state of purity, and health is the result.

Since writing the above we are informed by E. F. Martin, mail carrier between this city and Jacksonville, Onslow county, that between Henry Batson's and Holly Shelter, in Grant Township, Pender county, for the space of a mile, a furious tornado swept through the woods early Sunday morning, and hardly left a tree standing, its range being about a half mile in width. It passed through a portion of the premises of a gentleman in that neighborhood, sweeping his bee-hives from their positions, but fortunately did not strike the house.

As Martin was coming along the road, on Sunday, he noticed a large tree prostrated across the government telegraph wire near
