Mrs. Vosburgh has fled, and no one knows whither nor why. It complicates the Rev. Vosburgh's case.

A new monthly magazine has been started at Mobile, Alabama. It is called the Gulf Stream, and is edi ted by Mr. T. C. DeLeon, a well known journalist and writer for the periodicals.

This time it is Stanley Matthews, and his complaint is that Haves does not heed his recommendations. In fact, there is a talk of a widening chasm and the hand-shaking is becoming more difficult.

The opinion in Washington is grow ing that the House will declare by a formal vote that it has no purpose to destroy the President's title to his of fice by the proposed investigation. It is said the moderate Democrats will vote for such a resolution. Mr. Hayes is represented as taking a very deep interest in the investigation. Very likely, and very natural, too, under the circumstances.

Tennyson wrote his ballad, "The Revenge," thirty years ago. He offered it for $75. It was declined, In the meantime the great poet went on weaving his immortal chaplet. The other day only the Nineteenth Century was glad to pay him $1,500 for the same rejected poem. We incline to think it was a very hard bargain, and that $75 would have been a good

At the grand concert given in Mr. Gilmore's honor, which came off at the Crystal Palace, Sydenham, England, on the 21st mst., thirty thousand people were in the audience, and three thousand singers and three hundred instrumental players occupied seats in the great transept. The London papers are quite cordial over the success. Mr. Gilmore and his American band are on their way to the Paris Exhibition.

Radical Plans to Thwart Investiga

[Washington special to Baltimore Sun.] Secretary Sherman was on the floor of both Houses to-day, consulting with his party friends and imparting to those who were deemed worthy of confidence the details of the plan which the administration has concocted to break down the investigation. The plan is simple and very shrewdly conceived. It is to disseminate industriously, at all important points and commercial centres, the view that the Democrats intend, under any circumstances, to make the attempt to forcibly dispossess Mr. Hayes, and to declare, therefore, that the public tranquility is threatened, and that all business interests will be to bear so strongly that the investigation will be stopped. One of the initiatory features of this plan was developed in the statement, which was generally circulated from Wash-

The Labor Party and the Army Bill. [Washington Special to Baltimore Sun, May 22.]

The Radical Greenback Labor Club of this city to-night adopted resolutions declaring that any proposition to increase the army or put the militia of the States on a war footing can only be regarded as a threat against the people, and one that can-not fail to bear the bitter fruit of revolution; and that the proposition to restore Grant to any position of power looks to the subversion of the public liberties, the establishment of military despotism, and the butchery of American workingmen.

> What Shorman Says. | Washington Star.

Secretary Sherman was to-day asked by a reporter of the Star if he was not worried by the newspaper stories affoat about his connection with the Louisiana election. The Secretary replied: "No, I am glad that this matter has got beyond lying newspapers and cowardly innuendoes. Specific charges have been made, and what I want is an open hearing and no favor. This I intend to have, and if I succeed in gaining such a hearing the men making the charges against me will be convicted as liars and libellers, and perhaps something worse."

Drowning of a Colored Girl. A colored girl by the name of Betsy

Griffin, employed on the steamer A. P. Hurt, her step-father being cook of the boat, was drowned on Saturday last. was last seen about 3 o'clock on that day, while the boat was lying at the wharf at Fayetteville, when she suddenly and mysteriously disappeared. The officers of the boat, however, were under the impression that she had seized a favorable opportunity and for some cause had left the boat; but this theory was exploded on Thursday morning, when the body of the unfortunate girl was discovered about three miles below Fayetteville, the supposition being that while engaged in playing around the boat or wharf she accidentally fell overboard and was drowned. Deceased was about 13 years of age.

A colored man, whose name was no given, called at the City Hall, yesterday morning, and asked the Janitor to lock him up in the guard house, stating that he was drinking, and was afraid if he was allowed to go at liberty he would get drunk, and, as a consequence, get into trouble. The Janitor told him that there was no charge against him, and he would not accede to his request. He subsequently sent a friend to intercede for him, and finally appealed to the Mayor, who took pity on him and gave him an order on the Janitor to lock him up, according to his request, until he got, thoroughly sober.

Unmailable Letters.

The following are the unmailable letters remaining in the city postoffice:

Samuel Southerland & Son, Richmond Va.; Mrs. J. B. Batchelor, Raleigh, N. C. The Government and Quarantine Gen. J. M. Woodworth, U. S. Supervising Surgeon, arrived here vesterday morning, his visit, as we have already stated, being in connection with quarantine and marine hospital matters. During the forenoon he had an interview with Mayor Fishblate at his office in the City Hall, at which Dr. A. E. Wright, Superintendent of Realth, Dr. W. W. Lane, in charge of the Marine Hospital, and Aldermen H. G. Flanner and I. W. King, composing the Sanitary Committee of the Board, were present by invitation. Gen. Woodworth was evidently no little concerned at the lack of such accommodations as he deemed essential for persons liable to detention at the quarantine station, both for the sick and the well. The quarantine bill recently passed by Congress will, he thinks, prove a remedy for the inadequate provisions now existing for the accommodation of those subject to quarantine, and Gen. W. stated that if the quarantine station were turned over to the Federal Government that the necessary visiting stations, wharves, hospital for the sick. house of quarantine for the well, &c., would be provided, in which case on the arrival of a vessel from an infected port the officers and crew would be removed when the vessel could be thoroughly fumigated and cleansed, and all other necessary precautions taken before she was allowed to come up to the city. The arrangemen proposed, Gen. Woodworth declares, will not interfere nor in any manner clash, with the duties and responsibilities of the city authorities in matters pertaining to the quarantine.

Curious Excavation. A sudden and remarkable caving in of earth occurred at the intersection of Fourth and Market streets, yesterday morning, leaving a hole in the space between the rails of the street car track about ten feet deep and two or three feet across. From the appearance of the excavation there must have been a well, pump or cistern at that point some time in the remote past. A venerable citizen informs us that St. James' Church formerly stood in that immediate vicinity, and suggests that a vault may have been located at the spot where the ministure earthquake took place. A sign of warning was immediately placed over the excavation by order of the Chief of Police, until the hole could be filled up, which was soon afterwards done, several cart loads of dirt being emptied into it.
