The fine Stewart Woman's Hotel is to be converted into a regular commercial hotel. It was a magnificent failure. The idea was very fine and very absurd.

Thirty four Americans have been selected as a part of the International Jury at the Paris Exhibition. It is said that there are more American so called commissioners than from all the other countries exhibiting. Great is humbug.

The State devotes a full column to an obitual of John A. Worsham, Richmond's most famous gambler. His gambling place, Corinthian Hall it was named, was a very sumptuous and lavish place of enticement. Rev. Dr. Curry conducted the funeral

Who will say we are not bridging gloriously "the bloody chasm" and forgetting the bitterness of the past? At St. Louis the graves of the gray and the blue were decorated alike, whilst at Portsmouth, Va., on memorial day, the Army steamer Monroe was offered to the Hampton volunteers, whilst flowers were sent from Brooklyn and New York.

The Chicago Board of Trade is scared almost into a "canipscian fit." Communists are in every street and every closet. It passed, on the 24th, a resolution calling on Congress earnestly to provide an army of at least 100,000 men, "to the end that all parts of our country may feel that it has something like adequate protection against the emergency liable to rise if complications from without or if demonstrations of violence from within menace our country." Who will dare say that this is not a great and "galo-rious kedentry?"

Ah, ha! Secretary Sherman is nice fellow. He invited Anderson, the Louisiana election supervisor, to visit Washington and have an interview with him. A Washington special to that highly delectable and humorous sheet, the Philadelphia Press, tells this story:

"Mr. Anderson, having stated in a letter recently published that he had not been engaged in a conspiracy to promote an illegal return of the vote of Louisiana, and who was invited here by Secretary Sher-man to corroborate said statements, is highly indignant to-night over what he calls an attempt to entrap him by forestalling his testimony before the committee."

In other words, Sherman got him into a private room where there was a lawyer and a short-hand reporter. Anderson saw the trap set for him and would not "bite." He told Sherman if he wanted to hear what he knew he could come before the investigating committee and listen. John is a cunning fellow.

There are tens of thousands of people who will be glad to learn that Jefferson Davis has at last gained his suit for the recovery of his plantation. The Court of Appeals of Mississippi has rendered a final judgment, after a rehearing of the cause, restoring to him, in full title and interest, his magnificent farm known as Briersfield, in Warren county in that State. Mr. Davis had paid his brother Joseph for it, but the formal title remained with the latter when dent was a prisoner at Fortress Mon-roe, Jos. Runaway. Two horses attached to a carriage, the property of Scott, the Livery Stable man, were standing in the street in the vicinity of the market house last night, about halfpast 10 o'clock, when they became frightened at something and ran frantically up Market street to Third and up Third street to the neighborhood of the City Hall, when the vehicle came in collision with a tree, and one of the horses was thrown violently upon the stone pavement. The vehicle was damaged considerably, and it is thought that the horse that fell-upon the pavement was also injured pretty badly. Both horses became detached from the carriage, however, and continued their course up the street. Nobody hurt.

A Dear In-vest-ment. Henry Brown alias Wm. Henry Davis, colored youth, had a hearing before Justice Wagner, yesterday morning, on the charge of larceny. The evidence went to show that defendant had been in the employment of Mr. W. M. Collins, of the Office Saloon, and that he embraced the opportunity to try on a vest belonging to Mr. Collins, which he neglected to return to that gentleman's wardrobe. He was required to which the pic-nic took place, and Mr. give a justified bond in the sum of fifty Stevenson and lady, the occupants of the dollars for his appearance at the approaching term of the Criminal Court, in default of which he was sent to board with Dan

James Williamson, a colored boy, was arraigned before the Mayor's Court, yesterday morning, on the charge of stealing cotton from Mr. Owen Fennell, Jr. It seems that Mr. F., upon going into his cotton shed unexpectedly on Monday afternoon, discovered the boy in there, with some of the bales cut open and the cotton scattered about. Defendant was ordered to give bond in the sum of $50 for his ap-Court. He was then turned over to the Sheriff, and upon failure to give bond was lodged in jail.

A suggestion. It has been suggested that the repre sentatives of the old Third Regiment take the initiatory steps towards holding grand social reunion in our city at an early date of the boys who were the grey from this section, devoting a certain portion of time to relating army incidents, &c., and winding up with an excursion to the fortifications and points of military interest generally in the neighborhood of Smith

Tom Johnson Heard From Again. It is now reported that the notorious Tom Johnson, colored, the escaped convict from the Penitentiary, is making his headquarters in Brunswick, in the neighborhood of Easy Hill: It appears that several robberies have been attempted in that vicinity lately. In one instance a colored man by the name of Jim Mallett, having been absent from home, returned and heard some one in his house. He cautiously opened a window individual with a large trunk in the middle of the floor, engaged in making an inventory of the contents, and with a doublebarrel gun at his side. Mallett, who did not feel inclined to attempt to capture the fellow single-handed, hurriedly closed the window shutter and shouted for help, and in the meantime the thief beat a retreat through the back door and escaped. A few nights afterwards another attempt was made in the same neighborhood, and the belief has become very general in that section that the thief is none other than Tom Johnson:

Excursion of the Catholic Sunday

Yesterday the Sunday School scholars with their teachers, connected with St Thomas' Catholic Church in this city, had their usual annual excursion. They assembled at the church, at about 8 o'clock, and marched in procession down to the foot of Dock street, where the steamer North East was in readiness for them. Then they embarked and were taken to a beautiful grove about ten miles up the river, where they spent the pleasant day that set in after the incessant rains of the one previous, in rambling through the shady groves, or "tripping the light fantastic toe," or, better yet, in attacking the well filled baskets that had been provided for the occasion.

Captain Paddison, of the North East Mr. E. Hamme, the owner of the place at premises, contributed considerably to the pleasure of the excursionists by their many efforts to render the occasion enjoyable.

Election Blanks. The Raleigh Register reminds Registers of Deeds that in making requisitions upon the Secretary of State for books, &c., for the approaching elections in August and November, they should order as many each of registration and poll books and returns from precinct judges to boards of canvassers, as there are voting places in their respective counties; one election book for clerk and one for register of deeds; enough copies of election law to supply all judges pearance at the next term of the Criminal and inspectors of electors, county commissioners, register and sheriff; certificates of removal from one township to another; judges and solicitor abstract, six; legislative abstract, two; county abstract, two; Congressional abstract, six. They should state the number of polling places in their counties. This is important, and the press of the State should call attention to it.

Suggestion to Farmers and Others. Our farmers and citizens generally should bear in mind that a space is left in the Agricultural Department at Raleigh for the display of the products of each and every county in the State. We should like to see New Hanover well represented, and hope samples of our productions will be sent up to Col. L. L. Polk, Superintendent of the Department, and especially specimens of rice and peanuts, in which our county can make a good showing. We learn from a gentleman from this city who recently wen having a big mass meeting and barbecue at through the department that New Hanover list making a very poor display considering her ability.
