Washington society is not satisfied with Congressman Acklen's published statement. It wants to hear from Gen. Rosser.

Captain Reuben F. Bernard, of the first cavalry, who distinguished himself so much in the recent battle with the Indians, was promoted from the ranks in 1863.

New York will be called on to celebrate July 4th without fireworks. The law prohibits such amusements. Gasworks will be run in spots. That is if the usual oratorical fulminations take place.

President Hayes and family are off again, this time for Pennsylvania. His junketings are as numerous as Grant's, but he does not remain at Long Branch all the summer, and that is something.

Gen. Fitz John Porter is fully satisfied with the commission investigating his case, and he says that the "verdict will be intelligent, fair and impartial." If so, he will probably be acquitted and vindicated.

Mr. Stephens will canvass his dis trict. He has purchased a carriage and a pair of horses, and he is now going for the scalps of all who oppose him. The independent man wheteth his hatchet and sighs for the same old pasture.

Kellogg has again loomed up as a power with Hayes. He goes to the White House every day, and great consideration is given to his recommendations to office. Hurrah for civil service reform. The Potter investigation has drawn together many a tellow who has been trying to sleep

There is tremendous excitement in Kentucky over the race to come off to-day between Ten Broeck and Mol. lie McCarthy. Ten Broeck is said to be in splendid condition. He made unparalleled time last week, running three miles in 5.36, finishing the last two miles in 3.341, and with his shoes on. The stables of the two horses are guarded all the time by the police. It is supposed 50,000 people will witness the race.

Ten Broeck was never beaten until Aristides did it at Lexington, Ky.

The distance  $2\frac{1}{8}$  miles, time  $3.45\frac{1}{2}$ . In 1876 he ran three miles at Louisville in  $5.26\frac{1}{2}$ , and four miles in  $7.15\frac{1}{4}$ , largely swell the attendance.

The Georgia Humorist's Opinion o Independent Candidates. [Atlanta Constitution.]

Times use to was when the people called a man from his retirement and axed him to serve them, but now-adays a feller can hold on to an office until he thinks it belongs to him. He don't wait to be called, but he gits there first-shead of everybody and you can hear him a mumblin "I'm in and I'll be durned if I aint a goin' to stay in. I've got some pursonal friends, and I can get the niggers and scalawags and you may go to the devil with your convention." You see they control the scalawags by keepin' 'em in office, and the scalawags control the niggers, and they all mix up hash together and call it independence. This party hash is growin' bigger and bigger, and if our people don't mind will absorb a heap more sorebacks than Toombs. Bob never would work in a wagon with a driver behind no how. and I have thought that maybe if he could get in the rear and butt it around like a goat, and once in a while turn the concern over, he would be satisfied. But some how or other I like Bob-as a man-not as a very

Ploughing for Gold.

. B. A.

Special from Lexington, N. C., June 26. This town has been thrown into a wild state of excitement by the discovery of bars of gold buried in some of its very streets. Yesterday Mac Dusenberry, a colored boy, ploughed up a bar of the precious metal five inches long and over three-quarters of an inch thick, and weighing twenty ounces, its value being computed at $400. It is a beautiful bright yellow, and was evidently molded into its present form about a year ago. John Dobson found a similar bar buried in his back yard, and several citizens have found similar bars, the whole amounting in value to about $10,000. Many citizens are now at work rooting up their back yards in search of more of the metal. The appearance of the gold is accounted for by the fact that forty-five years ago a stage was robbed here of gold bars to the amount of $40,000, and it is supposed that the thieves hid the Abduction of Children. The Hagerstown (Md.) News says that within the past few days two children have been abducted in that neighborhood, but fortunately they escaped. One, a boy of nine years of age, son of Michael Tull, was forcibly carried off by a woman while he was picking berries, and was taken nearly to Williamsport, where he made his escape and reached home in an exhausted condition. The other, a boy nine years of age, son of John Weller, of Funkstown, was abducted on Sunday afternoon by a tramp. The boy reached Hagerstown late Sunday night, having escaped from a tramp camp, and was cared for by the surrounded by Savages. A courier from Canyon City, Oregon, brings news to Baker City that fifteen scouts, under Capt. Burnham, have been surrounded by about a hundred Indians, near the south fork of the John Day river, and the probabilities are that they will be butch ered before aid can reach them. Some of the scouts had imprudently fired upon the Indians, contrary to Burnham's orders, thus attracting their attention. The courier also says that hostiles are pouring into the John Day valley, with military, supposed to be Howard's, in pursuit. Mrs. Werthelmer's Suicide.

NEW YORK, July 1. The body of Mrs. Henrietta Wertneimer, who mysteriously disappeared from the West End Hotel, Fort Washington, on Tuesday last, was found in the river at Yonkers this morning. The fact that her dress and jewels were undisturbed, and that no mark of violence was found upon any portion of the body, confirms the fact that the lady committed suicide.

No one can witness the sufferings of the baby without feelings of extreme pity. For these sufferings, however, Dr. Bull's Baby syrup is a sovereign remedy.

- Lumberton Times: U. S. Commissioner J. T. Bullard had Messrs. Phillips & Smothers, of Shoe Heel, before him last Wednesday, charged with selling or retailing spirituous liquors without license. After hearing the testimony he decided that they were guilty, and bound them over to the U. S. Court, to be held in Wilming-ton on the first Monday in November, in a bond of $200.

- Raleigh News: The conferring of the degree of Ph. D (Doctor of Philosophy) by the University, on J. B. Killebrew, has met with great gratification 10 Tennessee. Doctor Killebrew is of Edgecombe stock, and graduated at the University in 1856. His books and pamphlets and speeches have done much to induce emigration to Tennessee, and arouse energy among her people.

- Edenton Gazette: On Tuesday night, 18th inst., a negro named Riley Moore was shot in the leg by a gun which had been set by a farmer near Plymouth for a thief who had been committing depredations upon his corn crib. The gentleman from whose barn the corn had been taken is named John Tetterton. The negro, anxious to avoid detection, neglected to call in surgical aid until last Sunday, when he had it amputated. He has since died.

- Concord Sun: The "Mutual Admiration Society," commonly known as the Press Convention, will assemble at the Sparkling Catawba Springs next Wednesday. - Those of our farmers who have had their wheat threshed report that the yield was far better than anticipated. A very large crop was made in this county, and if money is scarce there will be plenty of bread in the land and no famine is apprehended. Corn is growing rapidly now, and wherever there was a stand the growth is perceptible daily.

- The Charlotte Observer states that Rev. Edward Eagles, formerly of New Hanover, and pastor of one of the colored Baptist churches of that place, has been voted out of the pastorate on account of Beecherism. He has also been indicted for the same. The Observer adds: A week ago another colored preacher or exhorter left the city between suns, taking with him the wife of one of the brethren who works at one of the mines near the city, and she taking with her the sum of $55, comprising the entire savings of her husband from the first of last January.

- Charlotte Observer: At a meeting of the vestry of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, held last night, on motion a committee consisting of the two wardens of the church was appointed to take under consideration the recommendation of the rector in regard to building a parsonage for the parish. —Several farmers were in town vesterday and report the crop prospects encouraging. Corn is small, but there is a good stand, and the crop has plenty of time to grow. Cotton is also small, but is in good condition, it being not so easily affected by the dry weather. Wheat, however, was a poor yield, but the grain is unusually large and fine, and turns out excellent flour.

- Robesonian: An independent candidate is one who has more confidence in himself than his neighbors have in him.

I'm a Jeffersonian Democrat, and early and advocate the doctrine that office should rotate. We understand that the Commissioners have decided not to abolish the office of county Treasurer as yet. - Shoe Heel correspondent: Our fellow townsman, Mr. J. C. McCaskill has invented and obtained a patent for an improved turpentine scraper, and Mr. J. G. Cobb has patented a puller, both of which are destined to supercede the tool now in use.

- Asheville Pioneer: United States Marshals have a hard time of it in this District. A letter from Franklin, Macon county, states that Deputy Marshal J.
M. Lyle was waylaid and shot at at two different points in the southern portion of that county, on the 17th inst., and in the last assault his horse was wounded. It is also stated that in many neighborhoods in that section the illicit manufacture of whiskey is carried on with hardly a semwhiskey is carried on with hardly a sem-blance of privacy, and in open defiance of officers and the law. — A fishing party from this place, who have been on a pisca-torial expedition to Toe River for the past ten days, returned yesterday. They caught seven hundred and forty trout, and were delighted with their trip.

- Hillsboro Recorder; Graham Sikes of Chapel Hill township was before Commissioner Strayhorn on Friday last, charged with retailing spirituous liquors in the town of Chapel Hill, and also for illicitly distilling whiskey. He was bound illicitly distilling whiskey. He was bound over for his appearance at the next term of the Federal Court in a bond of $300. ——

Mr. Walter Thompson has brought us a parcel of old books—among them a copy of an Edinburg edition of the English Book of Common Prayer, printed in 1768, the property of an Orange county family of colonial days, and a memento of the time when the Church of England was the Church of State and all the country was - Fever is prevailing at Lumber-Church of State, and all the country was dotted with churches of that faith. -As for the results, the wheat crop is now conceded to be below the average in yield. though fair in qualtity. Oats, of which a large breadth was sown, and which was apparently fine, is reported to be light in grain. The corn crop is backward owing to cool nights. Tobacco is reported prom-ising with an excellent stand, and no drawback as yet to its growth. Cotton is a smaller crop this year than usual in the county, and has suffered also from cold nights, and cannot now be spoken of encouragingly.

More Archaological Discoveries.

Mr. S. P. May, of Asheville, writing as from that place, speaks of a mound sim lar to that described in the STAR of the 22nd ult., which covers a surface of nearly an acre, and which, when first known by the early settlers, was some twenty feet in height, but has been, by the continued cul tivation of crops on it, reduced to not more than five feet. Mr. May says: "Among the bones scattered by the plough are some of the human species, which, upon examination, I think must be those of Indians. The informed, to the effect that "we, the earthenware is similar to that I saw in Flo. Democratic party, will accept and support rida. We found numerous sea shells and pieces of charcoal. Several years since an from this District." This resolution was inexcavation was made and the parties concluded that the bodies were cremated with pine wood. I think that only part of the bodies were cremated. In the immediate vicinity we found clay ware burned to about the size of a ten cent silver piece. This mound has not been fully examined, and l could not discover from what locality the earth was brought. I think that this mound should be thoroughly examined. It is distant about fifteen miles."

MR. EDITOR-Allow me a word in explanation of the registration hours. The justices and registrars, at the time the hours were agreed upon, anticipated just such communications as Fair Play's. It is not necessary to go into details as to why the hours adopted, from 6 to 9 A. M. and 4 to 61 P. M., are more suitable to the public generally-that matter is plain. The law does not say the books are to be kept open from sunrise to sunset, but between sunrise and sunset. Fair Play does not seem to know that the pay of a registrar is one cent for every name copied, and three cents for every new name registered. At these figures and with a thirty days' "hack at the business" registrars are not likely to become very wealthy. These hours were fixed in order to allow registrars time to engage in some other business. Under the present law no registrar can get more than twentytwo dollars for his thirty days' services, and some will not make more than fourteen dollars. I trust Fair Play will see the injustice of his remarks, by imagining himelf a registrar. REGISTRAR.
