Mr. A. B. Williams, the newspaper correspondent who went on the Azor to Liberia with the unfortunate immigrants, saw but one prosperous and happy man, and he was an undertaker. He was a blue-blood from Virginia-a colored man and brother, and he made some $2,000 a year out of the misfortunes of his fellows. From all we can learn Liberia is a good land for the undertaker and the rainfall here as five and seventygrave-digger to seek. It is the land babilities favoring its continuation.

Winston dealing in "filth and agrarianism." The moral men must have changed suddenly and radically. Here at his home he is known as a very modest man—a gentleman of high honor who has a loathing for unclean things, and those who know him will be surprised to see him put below Billy Henderson. His neighbors esteem him an honorable gentleman, and as averse to Radicalism and "communistic doctrines"—aye, and "filth"—as any other man.

The Riccion Yesterday. Taking into consideration the deep earnestness displayed by the two rival factions of the Republican party during the campaign which has just closed, and the amount of bad feeling which seemed to have been engendered during the canvass, the election in this city yesterday passed off very quietly. In the First Ward there was a great deal of excitement, and many of the adherents of the two factions were exceedingly demonstrative and noisy in present ing the claims of their respective candidates, the opposing forces threatening at times to come together, but there was a strong police force on the ground at both the Upper and Lower Divisions, which, though there were fortunately no actual breaches of the peace of sufficient magnitude to call their services into requisition, no doubt had a restraining influence. We have never seen more earnestness and zeal manifested in any election than was displayed by the Manning men and the Garrell men yesterday, and this was not only the case in the First Ward, but was almost equally so in the other wards of the city. The First Ward, however, was really considered the battle ground, and here the xcitement ran to the highest pitch.

What's up? Roscoe Conkling's home organ, the Utica Republican. is now saying soft things of the Nationals. What means this? The explanation given in the Philadelphia Ledger is this: "It even goes so far as to drop a word of sympathy with the anti-Chinese emigration nt, while on the contract system of employing labor it is as outspoken as Dennis Kearney himself. The inference from all this is, that Mr. Conkling believes that the Nationals will be able to carry some of the Assembly districts this fall, and that he is now casting about to secure their votes in the Legislature to help re-elect him to the U.S. Senate.

Relief for New Orleans. The New York correspondent of "Appeals for help are beginning to come from New Orleans. Dispatches were received at the Mayor's office this morning, showing that the fever is rapidly spreading there, and that the proportion of fatal cases is unusually heavy; also that there is a stampede from the city, and that pretty much all business is suspended. Private dispatches to commercial houses having New Orleans con-nections confirm these statements, and it is probable, therefore, that the

The Conflict of Authority in South Carolina-A Compromise Probable without Prejudice to the State. [Special to Baltimore Sun.] WASHINGTON, July 30.

Notwithstanding the announced purpose of the President to assert the sovereignty of the Federal govern ment and to remove the South Caro ina internal revenue cases to the U. S. Circuit Court, there has been a strong feeling to-day in official circles that this line of action may be after all abandoned, and a solution of the existing difficulty reached in another way, without further issue between the Federal and State authorities Nothing definite regarding this can be ascertained, but the fact that the matter is seriously discussed in administration circles gives some credibility to the story.

The administration is very desirous of avoiding a conflict or raising an open issue with the State of South Carolina, and there can be no doubt the President will avoid one, if he can consistently with the duties of his office, as he understands them. It is hinted, but not officially, that the cases may be compromised without prejudice to the State, and this may account for the delay in the proceed Delegate to Five European Con-
