OUTLINES.

There is a relief movement in behalf of Southern sufferers at Manchester, England. Over 600 bodies drowned by the Princess Alice disaster have been rescued...

No nurses or helpers of any kind will be received save only those who have had the yellow fever. Bear this in mind. See our "yellow fever notes."

With but one break in its ranks, Maine has sent a solid Radical delegation to Congress for the last twenty-two years. The prospect is that the solidarity has been dissolved. But we will soon see.

Only that little fellow Eugene Hale is if deflated, as is not improbable, then there is even hope for Maine in the day in which Radical States are to be judged. Hale Columbia, how happy will we be.

Speaker Randall speaks very confidently of the complexion of the next House. He says it will be Democratic by at least thirty. So be it. He is confident of his own re-election. He says the Democrats will gain several members in Pennsylvania.

Norfolk, Virginia, has sent five nurses and Hampton one, to the Southern sufferers. Their names are Philip Mordecai, Cornelius Merton, Wm. V. Cuthrell, James F. Parker and Wm. B. Mott, of Norfolk, and Thos. H. Elliott, of Hampton.

The Austrians under Gen. Szapary claim to have defeated the insurgents on Thursday last, and dispersed them completely. The Austrian loss was 65 killed and 377 wounded. General Zach says that after obstinate fighting two of the most important outworks of Bihaac had been captured.

Dr. Brickell, of New Orleans, says he knows that Ben Butler's boasted quarantine in New Orleans was broken by a sea captain, who bought his way in, and died of yellow fever. Dr. Brickell says he saw the patient, and the late eminent Dr. Fenner attended him. By the way, Dr. Fenner was a native of Halifax county, N. C., and a brother of the late Maj. John H. Fenner, who resided near the town of Halifax.

Virginia has received medals at the Paris Exposition for her flour, preserved meats and sumac; and foreign orders for the former, in consequence of this medal, have already been received. Richmond State.

If our last Legislature had appropriated $10,000 towards having North Carolina fully represented in all departments of her industry—her minerals, her forests, her fruits of the loom, her rich fruits of the earth, etc., it would have been money most wisely expended. It was a great mistake not to do this. It is too late, alas.

Three little girls in Baltimore went to work to raise money for the yellow fever sufferers. Their capital was two cents. They invested in candy. They had a table covered neatly with a cloth and then opened shop on the sidewalk. The Bulletin says:

"The neighbors, seeing the persistence with which they labored, went to work and helped them with a will. All sorts of things were contributed and quickly sold. The stock was exhausted yesterday, and to-day, with the result in hand, they went to the station and presented the proceeds to Capt. Delany, who made them a very pretty little speech in return."

Cannot some of our nice little benevolent Wilmington girls open shop too?

YELLOW FEVER NOTES.

The reports grow sadder and more terrible daily. It is apparent that the contributions, liberal as they appear, are not enough to meet the constant demands. Southern gentlemen in Washington have made a strong appeal in behalf of the sufferers. They say it will require a million of dollars alone to feed the well who can find no employment by which to live.

At Memphis the number of deaths are appalling. One hundred and seventy died in thirty-six hours. We glean a few paragraphs from a sad telegram of the 7th:

"The city is reduced to a desperate strait. It seems utterly impossible to secure men enough to bury the dead promptly and to burn the infected clothing and disinfect premises. The Mayor has been down with the fever several days. There is but one officer of the city government on his feet, and the Board of Health, on account of the sickness of its members, is unable to get a quorum together."

"H. Casey Young, M. C., has taken in hand the work of thoroughly fumigating the city by means of burning turpentine and brimstone. Chief McFadden, of the Fire Department, will place his force on duty keeping up bonfires, and as soon as the artillery sent for arrives, the combustion test will be applied. Contributions of articles needed in carrying out this plan will be received by Colonel Young."

"S. A. Taylor, Chairman of the Board of Relief of the Independent Order of Mutual Aid, sends the following:

"Our funds are nearly exhausted. We have forty sick and seventeen deaths. In God's name send us aid."

"A. D. Langstaff, President of the Howard Association, says to one and all, emphatically that no more unscrupulous physicians or nurses from the North will be accepted. Their presence here is only adding fuel to the flames. It is a matter of a few days only ere they are taken sick, and thus increase the labor of those who are striving to stamp out the plague. The number of the sick is hourly increasing. The Howards to-night have 1,100 nurses on duty, 800 of whom, perhaps, have had no food for several days, owing to the inability of the Howards to take or send them food. The situation is becoming desperate. Thousands of negroes are still in the city, kept here by frenzied mobs. A meeting of a few prominent citizens is to be held, at which it is probable a committee of safety will be formed to take charge of the city and adopt measures necessary to drive people out of the city by force who cannot be induced to go by consideration for their personal safety. Dr. Nuttall was taken sick to-night."

Dr. Nuttall is a native of Oxford, N. C. New Orleans has just sent a physician, a druggist, fourteen female and seven male nurses to Greenville, Miss. A New Orleans telegram says:

"At the Peabody Subsistence Association the news received from different parts of the country is very favorable. From all sides communications arrive tendering services and offering contributions and supplies in answer to the letter addressed by the Association. God knows when the supplies are expected, and the Association will be enabled to increase its distributions."

From Holly Springs comes the following:

The deaths are Major B. S. Crump, Dr. Bonner, M. Glassy, D. B. Todd, James Walker, Mrs. Leak, Samuel Abernathy and John Cherowith. The situation is terrible. Two physicians and three nurses arrived from Memphis this evening. Two of the local physicians, Dr. Day and Dr. Daniels are down. W. J. L. Holland, of the Holly Springs Reporter, a strong Democratic paper, has been made President of the Howard Association which was organized there.

Refugees from Canton are spreading the disease in the surrounding country. In one house, seven males off, there are eleven cases. The population is now 1,500. The disease is spreading to new localities. At Lake Station, forty miles from Meridian, there are forty cases; at Bolton ten. From Vicksburg comes the following very painful telegram:

"Our friends are dying all around us. We are doing all we can to protect the government in its liberality. We have the greatest difficulty to obtain labor even to bury the dead. God knows when the suffering will stop. Lights are burning in nearly every inhabited house over the dead and dying. Three thousand are down with the fever."

The fever is spreading rapidly among the colored people at Vicksburg. Ten died on the 7th. There were reported eighty-two new cases among them on that day. Bishop Elder was dying on Sunday, and the last sacrament had been administered to him. The pestilence is raging at Piquemine; only one physician on duty; 100 cases and 27 deaths in a small town, and on the increase. Great distress among the poor. At Port Gibson 79 deaths to the 8th; nurses needed. Great suffering among the negroes. Another case in New York on board steamer Hutchinson, from Morgan City, La.

The death roll is now nearly or quite 4,000. Memphis alone has suffered to the number of nearly 1,300. Thus far the contributions of many places are highly creditable. Chicago $43,000, St. Louis $40,000, Philadelphia $50,000, New York $120,000, Boston $31,500. Smaller cities and towns are doing nobly. Roll on the ball.

Advice of an old nurse—the baby would be always bright and cheerful if an occasional dose of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup were administered.

The health of Goldsboro is excellent. —Crop prospects in Jackson county excellent.

The colored fire company of Charlotte has accepted the city's offer of an engine. —The Charlotte ladies will give a grand entertainment for the benefit of the Southern sufferers.

Commissioner Polk wants each county to send him a map to be hung up in the Agricultural Museum. —Asheville Citizen: The Episcopal congregation, last Sabbath, contributed $99 for the yellow fever sufferers.

We know of a poplar tree being struck so often by lightning as to destroy its entire top, only a part of the trunk remaining. —Brother Key is a great man. He prefers to have the road carried from Milton to Sutherland by horseback instead of by rail. In a fresh time there will be no mail.

Lincoln Press: We have been blessed with a splendid season for four or five weeks, and corn and cotton are looking remarkably well. The camp-meeting at Matthews began last Thursday under the most encouraging circumstances. —Morganton Blade: We see they are putting the slate covering on the south wing of the Western Asylum for the insane. It makes the most substantial, neat, as well as fire-proof covering we have ever seen. The Commissioners certainly exercised good judgment in their selection.

The Tarboro Southerner says Hyman Staton, colored, was dancing at a ball on the premises of John W. Phillips, in Edgecombe county, last Saturday night, when a pistol dropped from his pocket, striking a bullet through the brain of a colored boy lying asleep on the floor, killing him instantly.

The Concord Sun states that J. M. Redwine, Senator elect from Stanly and Cabarrus, is ineligible, having been at the time and is yet Clerk of the Superior Court of Stanly. The Standards, with considerable force. It would be funny if a few more ineligible would turn up. They would then be in the majority, and would have it in their power to turn all the other members out to grass.

Beaufort Atlantic: We regret to state that Mr. S. H. Webb, a young lawyer from Durham, was severely hurt while surf bathing on Thursday. —The Raleigh Observer is responsible for the following item: "Beaufort says a lot of things have been done since Beaufort left this side fishing and talking." This is a rather vague, and if not considered improper, we would ask our respected contemporary to "rise and explain."

Charlotte Observer: A citizen of Wilmington gives $100 to the yellow fever fund, but did not receive his receipt. He is a man of you. No advertising job there, but a genuine, noble impulse to aid suffering humanity. —The business of Asheville is said to be improving. The "win sisters," while, from Randolph, larvae were incarcerated in the penitentiary Thursday to serve out a term. —A negro man has been jailed in Concord for beating his child to death.

Elizabeth City Carolinian: Currituck Items: Major James made a speech at the Court-house on Monday. —A man named Pendleton, living near the Court-house, flung his wife at another man's house, shot and killed her. He then shot himself. He was still living when last heard from. —This morning the 26th ult. —Perquimans item: W. H. Manning, late Democratic candidate for the Legislature, is lying at the point of death. —Bertie item: The Justices have decided the following cases: J. S. Taylor, J. W. Mitchell, J. W. Ballance, George Gay and Eckerton Wilson. The office of County Treasurer was abolished.

Goldsboro Messenger: The dime party of last week was a most pleasant affair, and thanks to the efforts of Rev. Benson T. Blake, some 1500 was realized and forwarded to the sufferers at Holly Springs, Miss. We understand the ladies propose getting up another festival soon for the same object. —We regret to learn that Captain J. Broadhurst had the misfortune to have his mill dam washed out last week, in Indian Springs township. —There are twelve prisoners in the county jail, all black but one, and he is a white tramp caught begging. —The mill near Mount Olive, was washed away by the heavy rain last week, and the rush of water did considerable damage to the neighboring crops.

Raleigh Observer: On Sunday Rev. L. Bracon, of this city, baptised a number of persons at a place called Five miles northwest of this city, and at a later hour preached at Andrews Chapel, a mile further on, and received fourteen persons into the Methodist Church. —A projected meeting is going on at Pleasant Grove Church, eight miles northwest of the city. A meeting of the same kind is being held at Oak Grove Methodist Church, four miles east of Raleigh. It is conducted by Rev. Benson T. Blake. —We are pained to announce the death of one of the most prominent and estimable citizens of Washington, N. C., Mr. Reading Lewis Myers, who died at his residence on Thursday evening last, at 6 o'clock, aged about 63 years. Mr. Myers was a man of great energy and integrity, and possessed fine business qualifications.

Charlotte Observer: Night before last Mr. Thomas Chalm, a well known sign painter, who resides in the upstairs of the building on the corner of Tryon and Sixth streets, occupied the Methodist Church with an accident which the physicians think will either result in his death or render him helpless for the future. He had heard it was in town. They kindly supplied him with a lump of sea-salt, and he went out munching at it with all his might. —Ray Temple's picture are thought by some to bear a striking resemblance to one of the prettiest girls in Charlotte. —The annual North Carolina Conference convenes in this city on Local Items. —The Almanac predicts frequent showers for to-day. —The storm flag continued to fly from the Signal Station yesterday. —Col. L. L. Polk, Commissioner of Agriculture, arrived here last night. He is to speak at Point Caswell to-day.

We learn that Mr. J. S. Burbank, druggist of this city, has volunteered to go to Memphis if his services are needed. —Partly cloudy weather, occasional rains, nearly stationary temperature, and stationary or falling barometer, are the indications for this section to-day.

A preliminary meeting of those who propose joining Mr. R. W. Chadwick's night school will be held at his residence, next north of the City Hall, this evening, at 8 o'clock. —Hon. A. M. Waddell has accepted an invitation of the Chairman of the County Democratic Committee, and leading citizens, to speak at Smithville on Friday, the 13th inst.

Don't forget the picnic to be given at the Wilmington Gardens this evening, for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers. We learn that a great many tickets have been sold. —Dr. Bunce, who, it will be remembered, left this city for the purpose of laboring with the yellow fever sufferers at Savannah when the scourge was there two years ago, is now in Memphis.

The Telephone Between Wilmington and Masonboro Sound in Operation. Telephones were placed in the residences of Capt. A. D. Cazaux, Mrs. Grainger and Mr. W. B. McKoy, at Masonboro Sound, yesterday, and communication established with this city, the instrument here being in a room in rear of the Western Union Telegraph office. The completion of this project will undoubtedly prove a great convenience to those spending the summer on the sound, as they can easily transact business by this medium, without which they would be compelled, as formerly, to come to town. We conversed with gentlemen on the sound last evening, and heard them with great distinctness and all ease, often being able to hear conversations between parties in the room in which the instrument is located at the sound, a distance of eight miles. The Masonboro Telephone Line is a great success, and those interested will doubtless feel amply repaid for the unavoidable delay experienced in obtaining the instruments, which Mr. Angel informs us was owing to the large sales and impossibility of manufacturing them fast enough to supply the demand.

The wires will doubtless be kept busy for some time to come, transmitting messages to and fro. —A colored preacher in "Hot Water," One W. C. Cowan, colored, of Masonboro Township, and pastor of a colored church, was before Justice Wagner yesterday, and bound over for preliminary investigation on Thursday afternoon, at 8 o'clock, on various charges, including an assault with intent to commit rape, about two weeks ago, on the person of one Harriet Smith, colored, who also wears out a peace warrant against him; and disturbing a religious congregation. Catharine Cowan, the wife of the above, was also bound over for a hearing at the same time on a peace warrant and for assault and battery.

We hear that Justice Hill had some of the parties connected with the above prosecution bound over on counter charges brought against them by Cowan. —The Law School. Judge Cantwell's lecture at the City Hall, last night, was attended by the usual class. He explained the various steps of the passage of a law through the Legislature, mode of authentication, constitutional provisions, laws required to be passed, particular limitations on legislative authority in the National and State Constitutions, and general rules of interpretation. The case for trial on the first Tuesday of next month was stated and explained. Case of felony; punishment, death. Mr. Emple will appear for the State, and Mr. Ricard for the appellant. Seventy-five visitors are to be invited, and from them the jury empanelled.

En Route to Memphis. A physician by the name of Dr. Vincent arrived in this city from Fayetteville on Monday night, on the steamer Waco, who stated that he was formerly a quarantine officer in South America, and that he was on his way to Memphis to offer his services to the afflicted people of that city, saying that he expected to reach there on Sunday morning. —Fighting. Two colored boys named Robert Walker and Philip Wright were arrested yesterday afternoon, in front of the market house, by Officer Nelson, and taken to the guard house on the charge of fighting. They were recognized for their appearance before the Mayor this morning.

Mayor's Court.

The first case called yesterday morning was that of Julia Ford, arrested on suspicion of having set fire to the house of Eliza Lucas, destroyed on Sunday morning last. The testimony of one of the witnesses for the prosecution, James H. Harris, was to the effect that when he arrived at the fire there was only one person present besides the inmates of the house; that the flames were running up the side of the house and spreading with great rapidity, as if fed by some combustible material, and that he plainly detected the odor of kerosene; that Julia Ford was walking backwards and forth in her room, and that her trunk had to all appearances been packed for removal. Ann Hankins, another witness for the prosecution, testified to the threats made against her in consequence of the fact that she had her up before Squire Mills, on a warrant on the preceding Saturday, and that Julia Ford quarrelled with her that night from 7 o'clock until 12, threatening her with vengeance. John Martin was introduced by the defence, who stated that he saw the fire as he was going home about 2 o'clock in the morning, and it was burning so low down that he thought at first it was a fire in the yard, but upon examining more closely he found that the building was on fire. He was the first one there, and upon getting on the inside of the lot he heard a woman screaming for help in one of the lower rooms. He rushed to her assistance, and she was passed out of a window into his arms, by some one on the inside, and he passed her over the fence to Henry Loftin; that the woman was the prisoner, Julia Ford, and she was in her night clothes. He detected no smell of kerosene. Henry Loftin, another witness testified as to the condition of the room, which showed no signs of any preparation by the occupant to desert it. The trunk was subsequently opened and found to contain underclothing and one fine Swiss muslin dress, while the bulk of the occupant's clothing was scattered about the room. A seaman, belonging to the British barque North Carolina, swore that Julia Ford was on board the vessel from about 6 o'clock to 8 on the Saturday evening in question, and then he and one of his shipmates and the defendant walked down the street some distance, when the woman left them; that he found her at her house about 10 o'clock that night and remained until about 11 o'clock, and heard no quarrelling between Julia Ford and Ann Hankins during that time. The case was then continued for the prosecution until this morning, in order to have Eliza Lucas, the owner of the house, present, she being at that time sick in bed. The defendant was thereupon recognized for her appearance this morning.

Mr. Solicitor Moore, of the Criminal Court, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Marsden Bellamy for the defence. George Ames, colored, arrested for assault and battery on the person of Lena Carter, colored, was ordered to pay a fine of $10 or be locked up in the city prison for fifteen days. The next case called was that of Mary Giles, colored, who was arrested on Dickinson's Hill, about 12 o'clock Monday night, by Officer McMillan. It seems that she was shouting murder at the top of her voice, and upon the officer's arrival she was found alone in the room. She stated to the Court, in answer to the inquiry as to her reason for crying murder, that she was being beaten by a man named Sellers Ferguson. A warrant was thereupon made out against Ferguson, and Mary Giles recognized to appear as a witness against him this morning.

Several Interesting Marriage Ceremonies. A very interesting marriage ceremony took place at the Second Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. James G. Holt, connected with the Institute for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, at Raleigh, and Miss Annie O. Stewart, daughter of Mr. John Stewart and Mrs. Mary E. Stewart of this city, both being deaf mutes. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Payne, pastor of the church, while Mr. David C. Dudley, Principal of the Institute, acted as interpreter. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity with persons who were desirous of witnessing the novel ceremony, and who were evidently very deeply interested spectators. Seven carriages containing friends and relatives of the bride and groom accompanied them to the depot, and the "silent partners" were the recipients of many hearty congratulations and good wishes for their future prosperity and happiness. The bride has been an inmate of the Institute for some time past.

Festival Thursday Night. We learn that a number of the young ladies of this city propose giving a festival at the City Hall to-morrow (Thursday) night for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers. Extensive preparations are being made for the proposed entertainment, which is expected to be a grand success in every particular, even pecuniarily, as they have sufficient confidence in the liberality of our citizens to believe that they will not let this opportunity go unimproved of doing something handsome for the suffering and distressed people of the plague-stricken cities.

Col. Waddell's Speech to-morrow Night. We would remind our citizens of the fact that Hon. A. M. Waddell has made an appointment, at the solicitation of our business men and others, to speak in this city to-morrow (Thursday) evening, on matters affecting the commercial, maritime, mechanical and manufacturing interests. We hope to see a large turnout on that occasion, as the subjects to be treated upon are of interest to all.

Emerson's Minstrels.

The theatrical season in this city will be opened on Saturday, the 1st inst., at the Opera House, by the appearance for the first time on our boards of Emerson's Minstrels, consisting of twenty-three performers, who will play for one night only. The Philadelphia Evening Star, speaking of their performance in that city, says "the performance, as a whole, was refined, enjoyable, and unpretentious; there was not a single dull or pointless number on the programme; and attractive as this was, it gave no idea of the amount of entertainment in store for the audience; who were, in fact, almost treated to a 'double bill,' so frequent were the encores. The 'original big four' were indescribably grotesque. Emerson, in all his sayings and doings, and particularly in his creation of 'Moriarty, M. P.' was in his happiest mood; the singing of Mr. Charles Heywood was something phenomenal, his high soprano notes recalling the sweetest tones of Susan Galton; in short, all did well."

Aid for Fever Sufferers. The following subscriptions for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers have been received at this office: Previously acknowledged $315.51 Cash $50.00 Cash $50.00 Cash $1.00 Eddie Kelly $1.10 Box at Webb's Saloon $4.45 Total $390.56

Military Review. The colored military companies of this city, comprising companies A and B of the Fifth Battalion of the North Carolina State Guard, under command of Lieut. Col. Geo. L. Mabson, will be inspected at the Walker lot, on Fifth, between Chesnut and Mulberry streets, this afternoon at 5 o'clock, by Brig. Gen. M. P. Taylor.

RIVER AND MARINE ITEMS. —The Quail, Auld, cleared from Baltimore for this port on the 6th inst. —The Ada, Danielsen, cleared from Liverpool for this port on the 28th ult. —The Normand, Sönnens, sailed from Rochester for this port on the 26th ult. —The Malina Schult, Krager, cleared from London for this port on the 28th ult. —The German barque Othello, Meidfradt, sailed from Dublin for this port on the 7th inst. —The British barque George Davis went to sea over the Western Bar, on Monday, drawing seventeen feet of water on an ordinary spring tide. —The steamer J. S. Underhill has been taken off the river for the present, and will undergo a thorough overhauling and be provided with a new boiler before she again resumes her trips. It is expected to make some decided improvements in her, the exact extent of which has not yet been fully determined upon. She will probably be laid up for a month, and in the meantime the steamer Passport will carry the mails.
