Congress assembles on Monday. The news reports from Washington will soon become interesting. Now is a good time to subscribe to the MORNING STAR.

The corner-stone of the Lee mausoleum was laid at Lexington, Va., on Thursday, the 28th. Prof. J. J. White delivered an address of welcome, Gen. Pendleton offered prayer, and Senator Withers pronounced a eulogy. A special dispatch to the Baltimore Sun says:

"Hon. J. R. Tucker introduced Gen Johnston as a companion of Gen. Lee at West Point, a fellow-soldier through long years, a comrade in many battles, and the greatest living soldier of the late war.

"Gen. Johnston responded with feeling thanking Mr. Tucker for his kind words, and the committee for giving him the opportunity of participating in ceremonies commemorative of the great and good man who had been his friend from youth until Gold took him. He then placed in the cavity of the corner-stone the records of the Lee Memorial Association, a letter of Gen. Washington to-the Board of Washington College, donating $50,000, dated June 17 1778, Gen. Lee's letter accepting the Presidency, dated August 25, 1865, with a number of other documents. Rev. Gen. Pendleton pronounced the benediction, three hearty cheers were given for 'Old Joe John ston,' and the proceedings were ended."

The State Board of Canvassers.

Raleigh Observer Report Condensed.] At the session of the State Board of Canvassers, at Raleigh, on Friday, both candidates from the First and from the Second District were represented by counsel.

Before the returns from the First District were opened the counsel asked that the actual canvass of the vote be delayed until there should be afforded an opportunity of examining the returns from the various counand if they contained the vote actually cast, which, after a slight discussion, was agreed to. The returns were then opened, and upon their face showed the following vote:

J. J. Martin, 12,135; J. J. Yeates, 12,084; J. B. Respess, 430, giving Martin a plurality over Yeates of 51. Definite action as to this District was postponed.

After considerable argument by the counsel of each candidate as to the power of the restraining order served upon the Board, restraining them from counting the vote in the Second District, the Board adjourned without final action.

At a subsequent session the returns from the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Districts were opened and the votes counted. The following are the official majorities: Third District, Russell, 881; Fourth District, Davis, 3,511; Fifth District, Scales, 2,646; Sixth District, Steele, 4,650; Seventh District, Armfield, 1,103. In the Eighth District there was no opposition to Hon. R. B. Vance, his total bote being 2,894.

The National Republican on Hussell. Judge Russell, the so-called Greenbacker, who is elected to succeed Waddell, of North Carolina, in the Forty-sixth Congress, has fallen down from the pinnacle of independentism, so to speak, and begun to manœuvre for a re-election to a second term even before his first one begins. In a recent speech at Wilmington he declared himself in favor of the payment of all Southern claims, whether the claimants were loyal to the Union or not, and the pensioning of Southern as well as Northern soldiers of the late war, each of whom, he declared, fought for their country. It is evident from this that there will gained. be a Fourth Party in the next House -a Russell party; that is, if Russell lives to take his seat, which we fear he will not. A man with so much on his mind, so many schemes in his head, is apt to explode, you know.

Another Attempt to Capture Tom Johnson.

One more unsuccessful attempt was made, yesterday, to capture the irrepressible Tom Johnson, alas Alonzo Eiri, J. A. Ash and J. W. Whitney, two colored special deputies, were lying in ambush for him in the neighborhood of the spot where the old Union depot was formerly located, when they succeeded in capturing a friend of the noted desperado, who confessed that he was on his way to the city to purchase ammunition for Johnson, and who gave the party a good deal of information useful to them in the premises. They then sent the man on to perform his errand, while they remained in ambascade awaiting the expected approach of the defiant Johnson himself. In the meantime word had been sent to Daniel Howard, the jailor of what was about being attempted, and requesting his assistance, with a small posse Howard, with two or three others, started hurriedly for the spot; but, unfortunately for the success of the undertaking, they, not knowing exactly where Ashe and Whitney were in ambush, went some distance beyond them, and suddenly, as they were walking along the embankment a man was seen making his way leisurely along the railroad, whom they hailed, when he turned upon them, and they were astonished to find themselves almost in the very presence of the redoubtable Tom Johnson. As soon as he discovered that he was in such close proximity to the officers of the law he very deliberately removed the cover from a weapon he carried in his hand, which they had supposed to be an ordinary gun, and crammed it into his pocket, when a very dangerous looking and exceedingly uninviting sixteen shooter was presented for their inspection, with the remark from Johnson that if they could shoot any faster than he could they were at liberty to try. He then started off in the direction of the Athletic Club grounds, when Howard shouted, intending to deceive him, "Look out, fellows, he's coming towards you," when Johnson wheeled and started in another direction, and thinking, probably, that he was about to be surrounded, made pretiy good time. He was fired upon three or four times, as he retreated, but succeeded in getting off without, it is thought, recerving any material injury, if he was touched at all. Ashe and Whitney think they would have captured him if he had been allowed to proceed as far as their ambuscade before being made aware that an attempt was being made to "take him

The Wilmington Light Infantry. The committee appointed by the Wilmington Light Infantry Company, at their recent meeting, consisting of four persons from the active members of the Company. two from the honorary members and two from the Veteran Corps, charged with the duty of devising some means to revive the Company and add to its strength and efficiency, have had a meeting and have appointed two sub-committees, the duty of one of which will be to wait upon our merchants and citizens generally, and the other to draft a suitable memorial or address to the citizens on behalf of the Company, which will be placed into their hands. We are glad to see that the committee have gone to work with such earnestness and zeal in the matter, and hope that their efforts may be crowned with the utmost imaginable success. This time-honored organization, which in days past has been looked upon with such pride, and has numbered in its membership so many of Wilmington's best and bravest sons, many of whom now sleep in soldiers' graves. droop for lack of interest, but should be cherished and encouraged by the good people of Wilmington.

After the Wrong Man. A young gentleman of this city, who is not very deeply immersed in politics, was somewhat surprised yesterday afternoon to receive a telegram, dated at Washington City, 2.10 P, M., and purporting to be from N. P. Deweese, Chairman pro. tem., countersigned by Alex. Troupe, Secretary, and couched in these words: "National Executive Council deem it important you should meet them here on Monday. Don't fail." This was followed later by another dispatch to the same purport, upon which our young friend, whose name happens to be Russell (without the prefix of D. L.), telegraphed to the Chairman pro. tem. of the Republican Executive Council, that he was not in politics, and that D. L. Russell must telegrams came to his name instead of that

The Concert. The grand vocal and instrumental concert, alluded to a few days since as being stant. We are assured that the very best amateur talent in the city will be brought into requisition on that occasion, and that the entertainment will be one of the most brilliant and enjoyable of the season. Prof. VanLaer, and the Club have always offered their services gratuitously whenever necessity required, and now we hope the public will show their appreciation by giving them a rousing house on next Friday evening. They intend that the entertainment shall deserve such a recognition.

The proof of the value of any article is its popular use and the testimony in its favor. The sale of Dr. Bull's great remedy for coughs and colds is immense and the estimony voluminous.

Miss Helen D'Este To-Morrow Night. Miss Helen D'Este, supported by a select Dramatic Company, will commence a brief engagement at the Opera House, in this city, to-morrow evening, on which occasion will be presented "Woman's Devotion," to be followed on Tuesday evening by "A Celebrated Case." Miss D'Este, whose acting is highly commended by the press elsewhere, was quite a favorite with Wilmington play-goers five years ago, and has doubtless made much progress in the perfection of her skill and genius during the interval. The two plays she has selected are highly spoken of by our exchanges, and are said to afford the excellent artiste am-of actresses in her peculiar line. We hope to see a large attendance at the Opera House to-morrow evening.

City Bond Book.

We noticed at the City Hall vesterday the new bond book, in which, in accordance with a late order of the Board of Aldermen, is being made a complete record of all the city bonds issued, for what purpose they were issued, the number of each, the soupons paid, and all other necessary information. The work, which is a model of neatness and convenience of arrangement, has been done by Capt. John Cowan, and is approaching a state of completeness. When finished it will be a very useful book to the city, and will meet a want that has long been felt by the authorities.

A CARD. WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 29th, 1878.

DEAR SIR,—As an act of justice to a political opponent, please do me the favor to state in your paper that the charge, which I understand has been made in a newspaper called the Sun, that I advocated, in a recent speech, social, as well as political equality, is absolutely without the alightest foundation.

Very respectfully,
