OUTLINES.

Weston has begun his 2,000 mile walk over English country roads. Inquiry has been made in the Italian Chamber relative to the disappearance of Col. Gola. Robert Anderson was convicted of the murder of his wife, at Louisville, on the evidence of his little son. The Cheyennes hold a very inaccessible position. Sioux scouts have been sent for; one soldier was killed. United States ship Constitution is believed to be uninjured. Mobile & Montgomery Railroad has declared a semi-annual dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. Edward Matthews Ward, the eminent English painter, cut his throat while insane. Chief Justice Ryan has been nominated for United States Senator by Wisconsin Democrats. U. S. Circuit Court at Baltimore, Judge Bond presiding, sentenced W. A. Farewell and Thomas Cook, Judges of election, to pay $5 fine and $150 costs for interfering with United States officials. An iron company has failed, in England, for $280,000. U. S. ship Constitution is making three inches water per hour. Teller committee leave for Washington; U. S. Commissioner Lane is to take the testimony of witnesses not examined. Red Cloud arrived at Fort Robinson. Scout Girard testified in the Reno inquiry; he thought one hundred and fifty men ought to have held the Indians in check for some time. New York markets: Money 1 1/2 per cent; cotton quiet at 9 7/16 cents; flour without decided change; wheat very dull; corn quiet and without important change; spirits turpentine quiet and firm at 27 1/2 cents; rosin firm at $1 3/4.

The fire in New York on Tuesday night burned up a million dollars worth of property.

The whole Custer matter is to be inquired into, not only the slaughter, but the circumstances preceding it.

Governor Hampton, in a recent interview, declared it to be his solemn conviction that the prayers of the people saved his life. He then gave his reasons for so thinking.

It is now said that P. S. O'Brien is in a fair way to get the cash of the dead millionaire. At any rate, the late O'Brien's attorney says he would not pronounce the O'Brien from Raleigh an impostor.

The New York Sun of Friday has additional evidence that the body of A. T. Stewart has been found. Mrs. Stewart says Judge Hilton said, when asked, "that he preferred not to talk about it at all."

Fechter, the actor, is taking criminal action against Col. McClure, of the Philadelphia Times, for accusing him of drunkenness, &c. The Times so far has been tested in the courts frequently, and its charges have invariably been sustained.

A Governor, by the exercise of his dangerous one-man power, may save a villain from the gibbet, provided he "takes time by the forelock." But there is one thing he cannot do by his authority—he cannot bring a dead man to life. Gov. Hartranft was "one minute too late."

The Baltimore Gazette, in noticing Gov. Vance's election, says this of Senator Merrimon: "Senator Merrimon has been of great service to the Democracy of the State, breaking down the rule of Radicalism, but Gov. Vance is undoubtedly the choice of the people, and in many respects a more representative man. It is said that Merrimon will be rewarded with a nomination for Governor in 1890, or may be chosen to succeed Senator Ransom in 1893."

We hope the Legislature will not make the mistake of supposing that it must remain in session sixty days if they can get through sooner. The South Carolina Legislature adjourned after a session of three weeks. More work and less talk is the desideratum. American legislative bodies are afflicted with wind. Do the work well and thoroughly, bottle up your gas, and then go home as early as possible to your constituents.

Judge Settle is praised by Radical papers for his views as recently expressed concerning the jurisdiction of Federal Courts. He takes the position that they can take jurisdiction in any case that may arise in which either party thereto may apply for a transfer from the State Court upon the bare assertion that he cannot have justice awarded him in that Court. The Alexandria Gazette suggests that, if Settle is correct, then the State Courts should be abolished at once. It would be an immense relief. If the latter day oracles of judicial wisdom had been entrusted with the formation of our government what a lovely despotism we would have had.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXIII.—NO. 100. WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, JANUARY 19, 1879. WHOLE NO. 3,571.

Spirits Turpentine.

William F. Keaton, near Woodville, died on the 10th, aged 65 years.

The revenue depot at Salisbury was recently entered last Saturday night and about thirty gallons of "moonshine" abstracted.

The administrators of the late I. G. Lash, of Forsyth, distributed $150,000 among the legatees last Tuesday as the first installment.

Raleigh Observer: The site of the Masonic Temple brought on yesterday $3,000. There are 105 students at Wake Forest College.

Danbury Reporter: Revenue raiders in this county resemble the locusts of Egypt in number as well as in habit. It seems that commissions have been scattered around profusely.

Salem Press: William Ebert killed a hog weighing 606 pounds. Over fifty young men are engaged in the clearing business in Salem and Winston, and only some eight or ten are learning trades.

Wilson Advance: On last Monday evening while one Dave Ebylin, colored, who lives a short distance from town, was carelessly handling an old pistol, he accidentally discharged the same, the ball passing through the right hand and lodging in the left hand of another negro named Jerry Barnes, who was standing near by, and inflicted a very severe wound.

Charlotte Democrat: A white man named Joseph Jeffers, living near Faine & Goodson's Store, in Lincoln county, was out possum hunting on the night of the 8th inst., in company with others, and lying down by a fire in an intoxicated condition, his clothing caught fire, and he was so badly burnt that he died in a few days afterwards. He was a farm laborer, and leaves a wife and three children.

North Carolinian: We think it due the colored people to add a word. At nearly all the fires that have occurred in our town they have rendered most invaluable aid. Not many Democrats in the District take any stock in the "contest" of Major Yeates. They think and say that he was beaten at the polls, and that he ought to gracefully submit. It is a very sensible view of the case. We believe in toleration. We consider it one of the blessings of modern civilization.

Salisbury Watchman: Apropos of robbing robin roosts, Mr. Noah Shuping, with four assistants, killed 1,320 birds in one night. This is a fact. Mr. H. C. Trotter, son of Mr. Wilson Trotter, while leading a pistol, had the misfortune to lodge a load in the palm of his hand. Dr. Chunn took the ball out, and we are glad to know the wound is not a serious one. Boys, beware of pistols. Mr. Pinkston last, by means of setting a steel trap on a snag, ten lawns and one owl. Mr. A. L. Hall killed a hog a few days ago that weighed 552 pounds. A little girl about six years of age, daughter of Mr. Wesley Leitz, a tenant on Dr. Chunn's farm, was burned to death last Friday. Her mother was at the spring washing and the child came running with her clothes alight in a flame, and when she arrived at the spring, nothing was left upon her person save a collar-band and her stockings. She lived from 12 M., at the time of burning, until night.

Thermometer Record.

The following will show the state of the thermometer, at the stations mentioned, at 4.31 yesterday evening, Washington mean time, as ascertained from the daily bulletin issued from the Signal Office in this city: Atlanta, 54; Key West, 70; Augusta, 50; Mobile, 69; Charleston, 60; Montgomery, 60; Charlotte, 51; New Orleans, 58; Corcoran, 51; Punta Rasa, 73; Galveston, 53; Savannah, 64; Havana, 73; St. Marks, 62; Jacksonville, 62; Wilmington, 56.

Boat Time.

The train on the C. C. Railway, due here last night, did not arrive owing to the fact that a wash-out in the trestle work near Peloton prevented its passing that point. The damage was not, however, very material, and a force to repair the injury was put to work at once. It is expected that the train will make its appearance this morning at half past 5 o'clock.

Inquest.

Coroner Hewlett was summoned to Masonboro Sound, Friday, to hold an inquest over an old negro, Ned Parsley, whose death occurred the day previous. He informs us that the jury rendered a verdict that deceased came to his death from natural causes. He was an old and infirm man, and had been ill for some time.

Local Note.

Go to church to-day—if you choose.

Only one added to the dead list in Bellevue for the week just closed.

In "Oakdale," during the week, one child and two adults were interred, one of the last named being brought here.

Bishop Atkinson will continue his lectures expository of the Creed, at St. Paul's church, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

Register of Deeds issued five marriage licenses during the past week, three of which were for whites and two for colored couples.

In Pine Forest Cemetery, for one week, closing last night, there were six interments—three children and an equal number of adults.

The Comas Club give their next hop on the 23d inst., at the Little Giant Engine Hall, and we acknowledge an invitation to attend what will doubtless be a pleasant affair.

The British brig Zingy, Capt. Burns, which reached here last night, had aboard two hundred and eighty-seven hogsheads of molasses. She is from Matanzas, and comes to Messrs. Worth & Worth.

Rev. J. L. Carroll, a native of Duplin county, and a gentleman of fine abilities, is now in Wilmington. He resides in Virginia, and has recently received a call to the Baptist Church at Lexington in that State.

The box sheet for the performance of "Our Boarding House," Thursday night, will be opened at Heinberger's Tuesday morning, and for the first night of Genevieve Rogers, when "Maud Muller" is to be the attraction, on Wednesday morning.

Humane acts are always worthy of record, and we are glad to know that Capt. Keller, of the schooner Allegro, which reached here Friday, in the hour of his deepest distress at sea, was furnished with coal by the English steamer Andes. But for this act, the result to the human freight of the Allegro could not be told.

The first "down the river" of the new year, in the nature of pleasuring, was made on the steamer Passport Saturday morning. The party of ladies and gentlemen not only went to Smithville, but outside, and in spite of the little unpleasantness of "going to Europe," in which the ladies reluctantly indulged, the trip was one of decided enjoyment.

Te-Deum's indications. For the South Atlantic States, rains, followed by clearing, cooler weather, rising barometer, and variable winds, shifting to northeast and northwest, are the indications for to-day.

Philomathean Literary Society.

At the last meeting of this Society—a most excellent one, by-the-by—the following officers were elected for the next twelve months:

President—M. S. Willard. Vice President—Geo. W. Bailey. Secretary and Treasurer—G. H. Smith. Editor—W. H. Sprunt. It is gratifying to record the existence of such societies in our city, and especially when their statistics of membership prove that they are effecting the objects of their creation: real intellectual growth. The "Philomathean" is thriving, and is found to be a source equally of pleasure and improvement. Eight or ten members have been very recently added to its rolls.

Smithville—The Liqueur Question.

A correspondent at Smithville says there is quite a little excitement in the village by the sea by reason of the circulation of a petition to forbid the sale of liquors within four miles of the various churches located in Smithville. We are informed that it reminded one of the famous "Bascom" Corner of the X Roads. You could see the interested ones in groups of three and four, in various directions in the streets, discussing the great problem of future drinks, &c. The petition is signed by men, women and children. So great has been the feeling that even the question of county officers has been ignored, as well as politics.

A counter petition is also in circulation, and is receiving many votes.

Bridge Completed.

The new bridge over the Carolina Central Railway, on Fourth street, was completed yesterday. It was constructed under the immediate supervision of Capt. Aylette, the Bridge and Trestle Master of the Eastern Division of the road over which it stands. A gentleman whose judgment in such a matter can be trusted, assures us that it is substantial and would bear the weight of a train of cars. Capt. Aylette has made a master-piece of this improvement and laid the foundation for quieting the complaints and fears which were provoked by the old structure which the new bridge replaces.

Supreme Court.

Although this tribunal has passed from this Judicial District, the call of cases in the Fourth District, last Friday, are of interest in this city and we append them: State vs. Aaron Covington, from Richmond, appeal dismissed. P. W. Kerchner vs. Henry Fairley, et al., from Richmond; argued, Hinesdale and Devereux and Dowd & Walker for plaintiff, and J. D. Shaw for defendant. W. A. Rogers, executor, vs. Robert McKinnis, et al., from Richmond; continued under former order. Henry VonGlabbe, et al., vs. A. J. DeHomer, from Brunswick; argued, W. S. & D. J. Devane and D. L. Rouse for plaintiff, and Steadman & Latimer and George Davis for defendant.

The Schooner Magie VanDusen Abandoned.

We mentioned yesterday that telegraphic news had been received here that this schooner, 184 tons, which was commanded by Capt. Thomas, and cleared from here by Harris & Howell, was in a dangerous situation. Advice now at hand show that her abandonment was necessary. Captain Thomas gives this account of his voyage, after leaving Smithville for Baltimore: "Had a succession of heavy gales with hard squalls from W. to N. W., which carried us into the Gulf stream; the sea was very heavy, breaking clear over us, causing the vessel to leak some 1,000 strokes per hour, washing away our boat and all of our water casks and rudder, and severely injuring the Captain, while at the wheel; we were constantly at the pumps for six days, with nothing to drink but a small quantity of brackish water, two of the crew being badly frost-bitten and completely used up. On January 10th, saw a barque to windward; hoisted our signal for assistance, the wind at the time, blowing a gale from the northwest, with a very heavy sea. The barque bore down to us, and proved to be the Other Emory, Swatwidge, from Barrow, for New York. The sea being too heavy to launch a boat with safety that night, he promised to stay by us until an opportunity offered to take us off. After keeping us in sight all night, at daylight, on the 11th, he launched a boat and got us safely on board with our clothes and effects. The sea being very heavy, and the barque being short of water, Capt. Swatwidge did not think it prudent to attempt wrecking the vessel. Capt. Thomas, on behalf of himself and crew, begs to express their sincere thanks to Capt. Swatwidge, his officers and crew for their humanity in rescuing them from their perilous position, and for the kindness received on board of his vessel, until landing safely at New York."

Consist Remy.

People with a dramatic turn of mind will not be at a loss for opportunity to engage themselves during the coming week. Bright, pretty little Genevieve Rogers is creating a sensation north of us somewhat akin to that produced by Maggie Mitchell in her earlier histrionic career. The Dispatch critic is quite fascinated with her appearing in "Big Richmond," considering that he is usually so staid and unimpassioned. "Heinrich Remy" is a good one, but that, as it was Miss Rogers' first appearance there, and the company had rehearsed it but twice, "the success of the play last night was really wonderful. Miss Rogers is one of the most natural artists on the American boards, and is as pretty as a picture on the wall." It is hoped that her engagement here will be as successful as her merits demand.

Miss Genevieve's other piece is "Maud Muller," and those who have seen her in it refer to her acting as superb, and pronounce it as one of the sweetest characters in the English language.

Mayor's Court.

The receipts of the last twenty-four hours at the City Hall were four bodies, dark grades and ordinary stock. We note as transactions of the day, with business closing dull, the following:

Wm. McNeill, a colored youth, who, in the absence of a genuine fire raised a false alarm, was sent down for one day. Edward Merrick, colored, was arraigned on the charge of being both drunk and disorderly. Edward was one of the impetuous kind, and being unable to contribute $5 to the city treasury, went into exile in the basement for thirty days.

Ben Galloway, colored, became too demonstrative, and for muscular development attacked William Mitchell, and was given two days in the C. P., that his martial ardor might cool; and William Cowan, for a like offence, was sent to companion him until the expiration of the sentence. Sabbath reflections may reform the dualists.

The receipts of the week foot up about 15; stock on hand 6.

RIVER AND MARINE ITEMS.

Nothing down the river inside the bar. The Elidier, from this port, has arrived out. Norwegian barque Valleyrien, Olsen, was at Dred on the 15th inst. Barque Acropolis, Johnson, arrived at Liverpool on the 15th inst. Norwegian brig Hornet, Davidson, arrived at London on Wednesday last. German barque Molina Schult, Kruger, arrived at Bremen on the 15th inst. Norwegian brig Hornet, Peterson, which cleared from this port for Glasgow, put into Queenstown last Wednesday, leaving with loss of jibboom.
