Baltimore is tired of extravagance and high salaries. The proposed reduction, if adopted, as it probably will be, will save the people of that city $26,235 50 in the matter of salaries alone. Retrenchment and reform are the Democratic watchwords just now, and all along the

In the discussion on the Army bill in the House on Tuesday, Hos. Jos. J. Davis, the faithful Representative of the Fourth District, uttered the plain truth when he declared that a large standing army had always been the instrument of despotic power, and that a well organized militia was the dependence of freedom.

The Georgia and Alabama Legislatures have taken steps to protect themselves against the deportation of colored laborers to Texas. The Baltimore Sun says:

"For some time past there has been a heavy emigration from these States to Texas, to the great inconvenience of Georgia and Alabama farmers and planters. To prevent this a license tax of $100 has been placed on every one soliciting people to emigrate. A farmer, therefore, who goes to either of these States to secure labor is liable to this tax as an emigration agent. The result has been to very nearly destroy the colored emigration."

The tax-payers of New York city are becoming restive and excited over the high salaries of officials. They are beginning to cry for a reduction. The figures are enormous.

We give a part: "The Common Council and its attaches are paid $18,000; the Mayor and his subordinates (six clerks, two messengers and a stenographer), $15,800; the employes of the permit bureau, $9,400; of the finance department, $62,790 of the auditing buteau, $35,026; of the bureau of arrears, $24,984; of the tax department, $31,408; of the bureau for the collection of assessments, $13,104, and so on."

INAUGURAL CEREMONIES. The Senate took a recess for fifteen minutes in order to make preparations for the inauguration of the incoming Governor, Hon. Thomas J. Jarvis, who has presided over the deliberations of this body during the session with so much dignity and impartiality.

After the expiration of the recess, Senator Dortch called the Senate to order, when that body, headed by its officers, proceeded to the House of Representatives to witness the inaugural ceremonies.

SENATE SESSION RESUMED. The inaugural ceremonies being concluded, the Senate repaired to their Hall, and was called to order by the President. Mr. Bynum moved that the body do now proceed to the election of President, as a vacancy had occurred by the election of Hon. T. J. Jarvis to the Governorship. Carried. Mr. Leach, in a few brief and eloquent remarks, nominated for the high and responsible position of President of the Senate, the Hon. James L. Robinson, of Macon.

Mr. Evans nominated Hon. Geo. B.

Everett, of Forsythe. The nominations being closed the President ordered the ballot to be taken, which resulted in the following vote: Robinson, 33; Everett, 11; Dorteh, 1-Mr. Robinson voting for Mr. Dortch. Mr. Robinson having received a majority of the votes cast was announced as being duly elected. Senators Leach and Brower were appointed to escort him to the chair.

These all took positions near the Speaker's desk, the Governor and Lieutenant Governor sitting on the right, while the members of the Supreme Court sat in front of the Speaker.

Rev. W. S. Black, of the Edenton Street Methodist Episcopal Church, then offered a prayer.

The oath of office was then taken and subscribed to by Governor Jarvis, being administered by the Chief Justice, the new Executive repeating the words in a clear voice. The new incumbent of the gubernatorial chair then ascending the platform, delivered his inaugural address, which was interrupted by frequent applause, and at their conclusion the Governor elect received the hearty congratulations of the distinguished gentlemen around, the first to grasp his hand being Gov. Vance.

The Senate then returned to its chamber, and Mr. Speaker Moring called the House to order. At 1 P M., the House adjourned.

> The Address. |Raleigh Observer.]

The address yesterday was a message both to the Legislature and the people. It came sounding the notes of a North Carolina policy, and it places the State firmly on a North | port. Carolina system. Coming as he does from the sea washed beach of Currituck, the birth place of the State, the Governor proclaims as the domain of his administration the furthermost limits of Cherokee. He clasps hands across the Blue Ridge with Lieutenant Governor Robinson, and the hope indulged by old Doctor Caldwell in the classic shades of Chapel Hill, becomes the aspiration and the spoken purpose of the State. The public spirit will quicken at the declaration

> Senate Sergeant-at-Arms. [Special to Baltimore Sun.]

A formidable candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate after the 4th of March has appeared in the person of Col. John A. Sloan, of North Carolina. Colonel Sloan was a gallant officer in the Confederate service. After the war he was engaged in business in Richmond, Va., for a period, and commanded the First Virginia militia regiment on the occasion of its notable visit to Baltimore some vears ago. He is well and favorably known throughout the South, and will be warmly pressed for Sergeant-at-Arms by leading Southern Senators.

The Santord Connection-How the

A special dispatch to the STAR, from Raleigh, last night, furnished nothing beyond the intelligence brought by railroad passengers as to the situation of the bill to allow the Air-Line Railroad to establish a connection at Sanford. The measure came up yesterday, but owing to the ab sence of many interested parties it was postponed, and has been made the special order for next Wednesday, at 11 o'clock. peared in the Raleigh papers on the posture of affairs at the capital as to the chances of defeating the bill, though we are sure that the interests of this city-which is the interest of the whole State in this particular matter-have been presented faithfully, ably and fully. One proposition is undeniable: that its passage will still furdetract from the development of the chief seaport and metropolitan city of the Old

North State.

Rope-Walking. The promise of Professor Dare was redeemed yesterday, both at 1 and 5 o'clock, and certainly his feats on the tight-rope, at an elevation of 60 feet above Market street, were perilous enough to satisfy the most morbid appetite for the hazardous. He walked backward and forward, played blind man's buff on a straight line, fell from the rope and caught himself underneath the arm, recovered his upright position, walked head downwards, and fairly danced at his giddy height. A vast multitude witnessed the performance, but a large, perhaps the greater number, declined to remain and see the most difficult of his manœuvers-the taking up of a collection for the benefit of the poor.

Mayor's Court. The music at the City Hall yesterday was n the shape of a quintette, and the performers were John Hill, Ben Allen, Mike Peden, and J. J. Wilson, colored, and John Hawley, white-all for disorderly conduct. The two first were sentenced to pay $150 or take the C. P. for five days; the third was sent down for one day without alternative; the fourth was discharged, and the fifth allowed to pay $1 or remain in the city lock-up for five days.

The telegraph informs us that among the nominations confirmed by the U.S. Senate yesterday, was that of Col. E. R. Brink, of this city. We do not know that any effort on the part of the Administration party here has been made to displace the Colonel, but if so it has failed. We believe the President would have found it a difficult matter to have filled the position with a gentleman of greater popularity or one who would discharge its duties more acceptably to the mass of our people.

Life-Saving Stations. The workmen employed in the erection of the thirteen new life-saving stations between Capes Hatteras and Henry, ordered by Congress last year, have completed their labors. This is a matter of great general importance at this point. The stations are now only five miles apart on the North Carolina and Virginia coasts be-

It is only necessary, we presume, to remind the readers of the STAR that the lecture of Col. McRae will be repeated tonight, to insure a full attendance at the Opera House. The subject, "Genius and Talent," is adapted to the peculiar, happy style of eloquence, blended with humor, which has long since secured Col. McRae merited distinction as a public speaker. He certainly possesses, in a remarkable degree. the faculty of being grave or gay, caustic, or mild, as the requirements of his subject may demand, and in eliminating character presents portraits so natural, real, life-like, that if the personages drawn were unnamed, they would be recognizable by the features or characteristics with which he invests them. Go and hear him.

The Hop Last Night. The hop of the "Married Men" at Germania Hall last night, was a brilliant affair and illustrated how thoroughly domestic education qualifies Benedicts for manages rial duties. Bringing together, as it did, matrons and maidens, bachelors (young ones, of course), and married men, there was a larger element of beauty, wit and fashion|than have ever graced the hall since it was dedicated to the votaries of the "poetry of motion." No one who participated seemed to weary of responding to the calls of the music, and at its close it was, by common consent, conceded to be the affair of the season-creditable to those under whose patronage it was given, and a merited recognition of the pleasant entertainments given by the Lotus and L'Arioso

In referring to a contemplated visit of a literary lady to this city, we ventured to say that there was gallantry here if we were in the yellow and sere leaf. The saucy fellow of the Charlotte Observer thereupon says, "Twon't do. Stand up to the -The pro tem. of this department | rack, old gentleman; your age won't exempt you from service." Oh, yes; this is all well enough from a youngster who has never attended a hair-pulling, knows nothing of broom-sticks, the velocity of fryingpans, and other domestic projectiles; but we've-well, heard of such affairs.

> Famine, in its most aggravated form, prevailed in magisterial circles vesterday. Squire Gardner investigated a case of malicious mischief, the plaintiff being Jacob Scott and the defendant Lucilla Forbes. are properly alive to the importance of public measures now before the Legislature and agitating the public mind of the State, therefore-Resolved, That we are opposed to the project of making new roads, or of keeping up those already constructed, by taxation, but are in favor of adhering to the present system of working public roads, and believe it would be efficient if the present law in relation to overseers and road hands should be rigidly enforced. Resolved, That the welfare and good name of our noble old commonwealth demand that the present Legislature should make some fair, just and honorable compromise of such portions of the public debt of the State as North Carolina is bound in honor to pay, and that in order for the interest of such amount of the principal of said debt as the Legislature may agree to pay, may be felt with the least inconvenience and hardship by the people, we recommend our present General Assembly to pass the Bellpunch law, as the best means of paying the interest of such principal, believing as we do that the principle and purpose of such a law is wise and just, and needs to be put in legal operation in North Carolina.

Resolved, That the Representative and Senator in the Legislature from Pendel are hereby respectfully requested to use their influence in the General Assembly against any law proposing to keep up the public roads of Pender by taxation, and in favor of the measures announced and approved of in these resolutions. A LEGITIMATE TRIUMPH IN MEDICINE.—Dread and despair fall upon the community when a terrible epidemic, like the cholera or yellow fever, suddenly desolates our homes; yet, all the while, a more insidious, but no less fatal foe, enters then sands of households every year, and carries off the flower of the family in the early flush of manly youth and budding womanhood. People call it Consumption, or "decline." It is not, in most cases, the tubercular phthisis or consumption of the lungs, which is the peculiar malady in climates like those of the British Islands and New England, but a general decay or arrest of the vital processes of nutrition. All the doctors agree that there is no remedy for this but COD LIVER OIL, but they are constantly met by the obstacle of insbillity on the part of the patient to swallow or retain it. This repulsion is entirely evercome by SCOTTYS EMULSION OF THE OIL with the HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME AND SODA, which is agreeable to the taste, nearly flushed and despair fall upon the community when a terrible epidemic, like the cholera or yellow fever, suddenly desolates our homes; yet, all the while, a more insidious, but no less fatal foe, enters then suddenly desolates our homes; yet, all the while, a more insidious, but no less fatal foe, enters then suddenly desolates our homes; yet, all the while, a more insidious, but no less fatal foe, enters the
