DEATH OF MAJOR JOSEPH A ENGELHARD.

Our community was shocked and surprised to learn on yesterday afternoon that Major Joseph A. Engelhard, Secretary of State, and so well known in Wilmington, where he long resided, had died at Raleigh at 4 o'clock on that day. The Raleigh News of Friday had reported him much improved, and his friends were encouraged with the hope that he would soon be restored to health. But the strong man has fallen in the midst of his years.

Maj. Engelhard was born at Monticello, Mississippi, September 27th, 1832. He was graduated at the University of North Carolina in 1854. He read law at Harvard, at Chapel Hill, and at Raleigh. In 1856 he was heensed to practice in the county courts of the State, and in 1857 was licensed to practice in the Superior Courts. On September 26th, 1855, he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret E. Cotton, of Florida. He removed to Tarboro in 1857 where he entered upon the practice of his profession. In 1861 he entered the army and became Quartermaster of the 33d regiment, N. C. State troops, with rank of Captain. He was promoted in 1862 to the rank of Major and became Quartermaster of General Branch's brigade. In 1862 he was transferred to Gen. W.D. Pender's brigade and served as Adjutant General. He afterwards became Adjutant General of Pender's division, and surrendered with it at Appomattox, it being then known as Wilcox's division. In 1866 he removed to this city and became co-proprietor and editor of the Wilmington Journal. He was a very influential editor, and rendered considerable service to the Democratic party during the many years he was connected with that widely known paper. In 1872 he was a delegate to the National Democratic Convention. In 1876 he was nominated by the Demciently. Major Engelhard was a vigorous writer and speaker, and his canvass in 1876 was diligent, earnest and beneficial to the cause he espoused, He had many warm and attached friends here and in many other sections of the State, who will deeply grieve at his comparatively early death. In the full strength of an unusually vigorous manhood, with his intellect just fairly culminating, and apparently with many years of a bright and useful and successful life before him, he has been stricken down, and death has claimed him for its own. We sincerely sympathize sorrowing wife and children in this picket line and in face of the enemy until their hour of bereavement and anguish.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1879.

WHOLE NO. 3,595

We purposed some two or three Local Dots. days ago making some comments upon a very sensational and startling announcement we saw in the Wash ington Post concerning the plans of the Radicals to capture the House. It was to the effect that they have a scheme on foot to bribe and buy all the Independents, Nationals and Greenbackers in the next House, and finally to indict, convict and imprison, under the Election law, seven Democratic members, so as to enable the Republicans to organize the

We thought this probably a very exaggerated statement, but it has excited much comment, specially in Washington and New York. If the editor of the Post has not been imposed upon it is a most villainous and revolutionary proceeding, or plan, and if attempted to be carried out will cause such a high old excitement as has not been seen in many a day. The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes:

"Governor Tilden and his friends, on the contrary, are represented to have diff-ferent views. They believe in the "conpiracy," and are amazed that Senator Bayard should take issue with Senator Thurman as to its existence. As for the Republicans, they are disposed to laugh at and make light of the whole business."

Senator Jones is certain that his telegraph bill will pass the Senate by a handsome majority. Senator Jones says he is prepared to meet and answer the argument that it infringes on the Democratic doctrine of State rights. He regards the Western Union the most gigantic monopoly in the world. On an original investment about twelve years ago $385,000, the company is now paying per cent. dividends on a stock of over forty millions.

After giving Senator Nicholson's bill for adjusting our State debt, the Philadelphia Press thus comments: "This would be comical if the substratum of it was not rascality. North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia make a brilliant trio, soon to be turned into a quartette by the addition of Louisiana. Worst of all, such diseases spread, and there is no other commercial community the municipal knowing where they will stop.

In New York city, since November ist, there have been 22,570 cases of carlet fever.

The Grand Jury of the Criminal Court made their report yesterday and were discharged, the Court paying them a tribute ov declaring that their duties had been performed with diligence and efficiency. We see that they made a return of thirtythree true bills.

The week's work has been quite labo rious, the sessions extending to late in the night. The legal fraternity find some relief, especially when in double harness, but Judge Meares, Solicitor Moore, and the Clerk, Maj. John W. Dunham, enjoy no with his sorely smitten and deeply such advantage. They are always on the time for bivouscking for the night is

> The New Market House Question. We do not believe the "city fathers" have any intention of building a new market house at the present time; there are local wants far more pressing; but we clip the following from the Charlotte Democra to show the opinion of a very close observer of governmental economy:

"The Wilmingtonians are talking about In the City. building a new market house. Our eastern city friends had better rub up—market houses are not fashionable now—they have been found to be great nuisances in live, business places. Charlotte has about six markets, but they are private enterprises and kept in nice stere houses, and everybody is pleased with that plan."

- Rev. Dr. Gallendet, Rector of St. Ann's congregation of Deaf Mutes in the city of New York, may be expected to present the subject of his mission this afternoon, at St. James' Church; and he will also preach at St. John's Church, to-night, when reference will be made to the same subject.

Protection to Masters of Vessels and It is understood that a meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held Monday night, and we trust that in the exercise of their power to make all needful police regulations, they may adopt an ordinance, with the most stringent provisions, to punish persons who engage in the criminal practice of enticing seamen from their ships and then conceal them. In every regulations on this point are made strong, sometimes a heavy tax being laid on those who entertain such guests. In Bristol, England, it is a penalty of £30 to go aboard of ships without the masters' consent, and section 238 of the Shipping act provides that "if, within twenty-four hours after the arrival of any ship at any port, any person then being on board such ship solicits any seaman to become a lodger at the house of any person letting lodgings for hire, or takes out of such ship any effects of any seaman, except under his personal direction, and with the per-

A Lively Election. At the Catholic festival, Friday night, at Germania Hall, a fine gold-headed ebony cane was on exhibition, and it was arranged to present it to the gentleman who, through the ballot-box, should receive the greatest number of votes. The contest was a lively one, and though there was no ballot-box stuffling, tissue tickets in the nature of greenbacks were freely employed by the friends of different gentlemen in buying the right of suffrage. The election was held by Judges John J. Fowler, M. J. Dingelhoef and T. Donlan, with the following result: T. Donlan received 155 votes, F. H. Darby 94, John Sweeney 52, Maj. James Reilly 32, L. Vollers 24, B. P. Ryan 12, and that never elected, but always trying old fellow. Scattering 22.

Total 392. Mr. J. J. Fowler, after the result had been proclaimed, was solicited to make the presentation, and he did it in a neat, but sensibly brief and happy speech, and Mr. Donlan acknowledged the partiality shown him in an unpretentions but sensible

The Coming Lecture by Col. McRae. We remind the readers of the STAR of the lecture of Col. McRae, to-morrow evening, at the Opera House. The subject, "Laughter," in the hands of an intellectual popinjay, would indeed be an unsavory dish, but we are safe in predicting that out of it, when treated by a man skilled in language, and possessing a magazine of mental ammunition almost exhaustless, a wenderful fund of instruction, and humor, and satire will be wrought.

Mr. J. D. Sprunt, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Brunswick, Ga., and in business there, is on a visit here to his family. He was once Assistant Chancellor of the STAR Exchequer, and, like us, rather a good type of a hungry man, but the Empire State of the South agrees with him, as is illustrated by his Aldermanic proportions. May his physical and financial shadow never be less.

neath of Mel. Engelhard.

The first tidings of a decided disadvantageous change in the condition of the late Secretary of State Engelhard, whose death occurred yesterday, was received at 9 o'clock in the morning in a telegram to Dr. George G. Thomas, which stated that he was dangerously ill and rapidly growing worse. At half-past 4 o'clock the sad intelligence of his decease was telegraphed, and the news soon spread throughout the length and breadth of the city. The expression of regret was not restricted by political considerations, or confined; any colorto lineit was general, and a number of flags were half-masted in token of respect for our late

No information can be obtained as to where his remains will be interred, but it is supposed they will be carried to Tarboro, the burial place of numerous relatives of

Dr. Geo. G. Thomas, and several other relatives and friends of the deceased, will leave here this morning for Raleigh.

Interesting Pythian Event. German Lodge, No. 4, K. of P., of this city, has very appropriately decided to celebrate the 15th anniversary of the formation of the Order of which it is so creditable a representative. Next Wednesday, the natal day of knighthood, will be signalized by a mounted parade, Knights in full uniform, and the promise is that the display will be very creditable. The procession will form on Fifth, between Chestnut and Mulberry, and pass through the principal streets, passing in review before the Mayor at the City Hall. The Grand Chancellor, G. P., District Deputy G. C.'s, as well as Uniformed Knights, will occupy car-

Municipal Affairs-Result of the Conference. The conference of Ward Committees yesterday afternoon had the desired effect. After a free interchange of opinion on municipal affairs, it was unanimously decided to petition the Legislature to continue the present Board of Aldermen in office for two years longer. This was done, however, with a clear understanding that the incumbents would resign whenever a majority of the voters of their respective Wards request them to do so.

This is all we care to know. Such action secures unity of action in the Democratic party as to the measure mentioned

Fire at Fair Bluff. We learn that a fire occurred at Fair Bluff, in Columbus county, on the line of the Columbia & Augusta Railroad, Thursday night, destroying a cooper shop, the property of Mr. J. M. Powell, a merchant at that place, and had it not been for the united efforts of the citizens Mr. P. would have lost his dwelling. The loss to the owner of the property is about $150. The occupants of the shop, Henry Powell and Henry Barden, two worthy colored men lost all their tools and material. Our correspondent says the colored people worked like Trogans to extinguish the flames.

Criminal Court.

There was another long session of this tribunal yesterday, Judge Meares presiding, and the following business disposed of: State vs. Susan Winstead, charged with bigamy. Verdict, not guilty.

State vs. John Outlaw, assault and battery. Case submitted. State vs. Frank Moore, assault and battery. Verdict, not guilty. State vs. Richard Brown and John Davis, affray. Continued upon bond of $50 each for their appearance at next term. State vs. Lewis Spencer, wilful trespass. Verdict, not guilty.

Still Coming In. Another instalment of stolen goodsperhaps a part of the Smithville spoilswas deposited in Squire Gardner's office yesterday, making the third haul by that shrewd rouge-scenter, Officer Nicholas

Carr. The experience of the last few days indicates the existence in our city of regularly organized gangs of thieves. The last recovery was made from the "Long House," foot of Church street, and the first from beyond the shops of the W. & Robert H. McKoy, Esq., who recently underwent an examination before the Supreme Court, successfully passed, and was licensed to practice law, made his initial bow before Judge Meares' Court vesterday. We did not hear him speak, but in the examination of a witness he displayed cleverness, dexterity and skill.

To-Day's Indications. For the South Atlantic States, northeast to southeast winds, partly cloudy weather, and during Monday, slowly rising temperature and slowly falling barometer.
