It looks a little just now as if the Johnny Roach subsidy will not pass the Senate.

The Philadelphia Democrats are said to be almost unanimous for Bayard for President.

The House has passed all of the appropriation bills but two-the Sundry Civil, and Legislative, Judicial and Executive.

There are no less than five pedestrians hard at it in New York, pegging away against time and distance. It is becoming slightly stale.

The Committee on Commerce voted $5,800,000 away by the River and Harbor bill. Of this amount eleven States get two-thirds-the remaining twenty-seven States one-third. There is complaint.

What is the Legislature going to do about education? Are the common schools to continue on the old basis? Is the Superintendent of Public Instruction to be really a clerk in an office? We can perform the clerical duties the year round by devoting two hours daily. We speak what we do know.

Governor Hampton takes the position that negro suffrage is the logical consequence of negro citizenship, and that the South will oppose his disfranchisement. As we have said several times in these columns, the white people of the South are the truest and best friends of the colored people, and the time will come when they alone can prevent them from being stripped of their fran-

Rev. Dr. Fulton, of Brooklyn, a leading Baptist, accused Rev. Dr. Samson, another distinguished Baptist, of being "a secessionist in sentiment during the war." He was asked to retract, but refused. He was then expelled from the Association. He now retracts. The papers say he is conducting a revival, and his heart has been softened thereby. Prayer is a prime way to get the heart right. When the heart is right the actions will correspond.

On Monday there was a debate over Talmage in the Brooklyn Presbytery. It was finally agreed to postpone the case until March 10th, 1879. Some hard hits were given the star preacher. Talmage wanted a postponement as he was going off on a lecture tour. Whereupon Dr. Van Dyke said he would break fifty engagements rather than go out to the world with such a cloud on his fame, and the prospect of a man charged with such a crime and not caring for it was to him an unpleasant one.

Major Reno's trial has ended, but the finding of the court is not known. How much responsibility justly attaches to him for the slaughter at Little Big Horn is wrapped in clouds and darkness. The Philadelphia Times says of the trial:

"The prosecution was ready to show that General Reno not only distrusted General Custer, but was actually jealous of his fame. This sort of testimony was ruled out or the case would have looked worse still. On the other hand, it is to be said that the charge of cowardice and incapacity from drink made against General Reno does not seem to be sustained. A cruel jack of zeal in supporting his overwhelmed comrades appears to have been his worst offense."

The Army Bill.

[Special to Balt, Sun.]

There is a prospect that the army

CALENDAR.

Bill to repeal section 29, chapter 6, Battle's Revisal. This bill provides that the expense of conveying lunaport in favor of an entirely different | ties to and from the asylum shall be borne by the counties. Passed

Bill in relation to warrants of basbastardy warrants shall be issued except on the voluntary affidavit of the mother or one of the county commissioners that the child is about to become a county charge.

Mr. Mebane introduced the following resolution: Resolved, That five hundred copies of the disbursement account of the Department of Agriculture (which is here appended) be printed for the information of the members, and to show the people of the State how the farming interest is imposed upon under a false name. Mr. Turner moved that one thousand copies be printed instead of five hundred, and it was so ordered, when the resolution was adopted.

The calendar was then resumed. Bill to provide for draining and damming lowlands. The bill was spoken to by Messrs. Blocker, Clarke and Moore, and

Bill to allow the Commissioners of Lenoir county to levy a special tax. Passed third time. Bill for the more effectual punishment of horse stealing. Passed. Bill to punish the entering of houses in the night time otherwise than by breaking. Passed. Bill to allow Goldsboro to estab-

If there was ever a case of utter destitution it is there. Mr. Bradley served in the Confederate army, was wounded at Gettysburg and again at Fredericksburg, and is, in consequence of his wounds, an invalid, and unable to provide for his numerous family. His wife, like a true Southern weman, has been working until entirely broken down, and her wasted form and sunken cheek tell the tale of woo and sorrow more eloquent and impressive than words are able to convey." We have time and again referred to the majority if not all the industrial establishments in this city. It is an old fact that we have a splendid cetten factory; it is known that our cetton compressing facilities are equal to the demands of our foreign and domestic business; that we have a sash and blind factory more than a match in price and equal in quality of work to any Northern establishment; that our mills, in the work they undertake, are not rivaled; that the extent of our guane works and the value of their phesphates will contrast favorably with those of any other city; but we have not heretofore noted the fact that Wilmington is in active and successful competition with any other locality in the country in the manufacture of plews.

Such, however, is the fact. Some three years ago the manufacture of plows was undertaken at this point by Messrs. Hart, Bailey & Co., and has since that time been carried on steadily, though at first with drawbacks and discouragements. But they have been gradually overcome, and new the manufactory is as much a fixture here in our midst as the other establish. ments enumerated or our banking institutions. The plow manufactured is firstclass in all its appointments, and every part of it is produced here, except the bolts and clevis. The oak from which the handles and other wood work are made comes from the Western part of this State, and are sawed and flaished here. The cast and wrought iron parts are the product of home skill, and complete plaws are now placed in the market here at prices which defy competition from any other source at present knews. The price before this manufactory was instituted was $2 50, and now a plew of equal if not superior quality is supplied at one dollar less. Our merchants and others supply themselves here and thus at least $19,000 that formerly went North are retained at home.

We are coming up to the standard o local independence and greatness with prudent but certain haste, and our Western friends may note this down in their scrap-book of useful information.

Rebbertes, &c. In view of the large number of robberies, burglaries and even incendiarisms which have transpired in this community lately, the employment of some practical and efficient remedy for the evil becomes a matter of actual necessity. There is no getting around the fact that the employment of an experienced detective to ferret out the perpetrators of these violations of law is the surest plan of becoming rid of the trouble. It has been tried heretofore with very gratifying success, thousands of dellars in money and property having been saved to the people of the city and county through the breaking up of bands of thieves that were preying upon the community and bringing the villains to justice. We hope the city authorities will take some action in the matter, especially as we are informed that the assistance of a very skilful detective can be secured at a very small cost to the city.

der the auspices of Germania Lodge No. 4 celebrated yesterday the institution of this now flourishing order in the United States, or, we may say, the world, for it had its inception in this country. The Knights, in accordance with the published programme, met on Fifth, between Chesnut and Mulberry streets, at 2 s. m., where the procession was formed, consisting of

The procession, which made a very imposing display, attracting a great deal of attention along its line of march, then proceeded down Fifth street to Ann, down Ann to Front, up Front to Red Cross, up Red Cross to Fourth, up Fourth to Bladen, as frequently, perhaps, "drummed up." up Bladen to Sixth, down Sixth to Red Cross, up Red Cross to Seventh, down Seventh to Market, down Market to Third they passed.

The procession, which then preceded together a very imposing affair, and was processes, and also a law requiring Magiswitnessed by a large number of our citi- trates, except in State cases, to require payzens who had posted themselves at convenient spots for observation along the rants at the time they are issued, or stipuline of march.

Howard Relief Fire Engine Company No. 1.

This is the anniversary day of the Howard Relief Company, and we learn that it is their purpose this year to dispense with heir usual street parade and the practice of testing the eapabilities of their engine, the A. Adrian, this latter arrangement being made, perhaps, in consideration of the fact that the gentleman in whose honor it was named may be placed in position to test his metal.

The occasion, however, is not to be fergotten. The active and honorary membership, with their invited guests, will assemble in citizens' dress in their hall at the engine house this morning, at 10 e'clock, where the ceremonies incident to the day the "feast of reasen and flow of soul." sandwiched with things more substantial, an adjournment will be had until evening, when the festivities will be renewed by a grand ball and supper at Germania Hall. All who have hitherto attended the annual reunions of the "Howard" will realize that as music is sweetest at its close, so the finale of these anniversary arrangement will be their most delightful feature.

On His Track. The National Visitor, of Mount Airy, Surry county, N. C., has the following: "The negro who committed a rape upon the person of Miss McDuffle, a highly respected white lady, passed through this county last week, making his way to Virginia. We published an account of the horrible crime last week, cepied from the Wilmington STAR, and the description given of the negro fitted the strange darkey precisely, and the citizens in the upper part of the county became so sure that he was the "chap," that they started after him in hot pursuit. The negro gave his name three different ways in the same neighborhood. The boys were on his track at last accounts. He gave his name one time as He states that the Tennessee crop, averaging from 250,000 to 400,000 bushels, finds a market at Cincinnati, while the Virginia crop, ranging from 400,000 to 800,000 bushels-nearly double that of Tennesseecentres at Nerfelk. Our own State produces a erop varying from 100,000 to 200,-000 bushels, and the bulk of it is emptied inte this city.

Entertainment by Misses Burr and James' School. The calisthenic and social entertainment by the school of Misses Burrand James', at Meginney Hall, last evening, was a triumph for both the scholars and the teachers. Two o'clock at night, however, is too late to particularize. The calisthenic exercises were given with charming precision and, filled our conception of the true poetry of motion, while the singing and instrumental pieces showed skill, real musical knwoledge, and careful culture of the voice. We profess to be a judge of vocalization, and can conscientiously testify that quite a number of the participants possess voices of remarkable capacity and full of rich, round melody. How About This.

We have often heard it asserted that many of the cases presented to our Criminal Court are frequently the offspring of malice on the part of the prosecutor, and We are not familiar enough with particular cases to determine whether the assertion is correct or not. It appears to be settled that the Revenue Cutter Crawford, now on this station, will be transferred to Key West, Florida, and that the cutter Coffax, now at Wilmington, Del., will be ordered here in her stead. These changes will separate Capt. Barr and his officers, to whom our people will be inaugurated. When surfeited with had become attached by their long service at this point.

Sudden Death. Rebecca Sauls, an old colored woman, residing on Campbell, between Fifth and Sixth streets, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. She was apparently in ordinary good health Tuesday evening, partook heartily of supper, and slept well, and made no complaint of anything unusual until the attack which resulted fatally. Special Coroner A. H. Leslie secured a jury last evening, and will hold an inquest over the body this morning.

Col. Saunders Accepts. We learn that Colonel William L. Saunders, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Raleigh, has accepted the appointment as Secretary of State, made vacant by the death of Major Joseph A. Engelhard. That he will discharge the duties of the trust faithfully and with ability, there is no room for question, and the offer and his acceptance of the post will be alike gratifying to a host of his friends here.

In response to a request from a number of Col. Duncan K. McRae's friends, who have engagements for Friday evening next, the lecture on "Ireland," announced for that time, has been postponed until Tuesday evening next, the 25th. It is well that it should occur at the postponed period, as there will probably then be no barrier to the attendance of all who desire to be pre-Criminal Court.
