THE SOUTHERN PLAGUE. What a Returned Traveling Agent Says of It. |Lexington Press. |

Mr. Ben Webster returned to the city yesterday from an extended business trip through the Southern States, embracing Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Texas, Mississippi and Tennessee. He reports that the people Tear a recurrence of the yellow fever plague of last year, and gives it as nis opinion that the proper sanitary precautions to prevent it have not been taken in places where the fever raged with the greatest intensity. We understand in one case, in Water Valley, Miss., the bed clothing and bedding used by the yellow-fever patients who died had been given to the negroes, who are now using them without any sort of purification. In Grenada, Miss., the graves of the vellow-fever dead are so near the surface that a steel ramrod pushed into the earth will pierce them, so hurriedly were they buried. To be sure, lime has been scattered over the graves, but that is thought to be a precaution entirely inadequate to the purpose. In many cases the bedding and bed clothing used by the dead having been hung out for airing, had been carried off by the negroes, who are now using them. Thus the seeds of the plague are retained in the midst of the people, and it is liable to break out again with as much virulence as ever so soon as the warm weather arrives.

> Hardly Fair. New York Sun. 1

Before the Surrogate Saturday, Cornelius Vanderbilt's affidavit as an executor was read, showing that $200,000 has been invested in United States 10-40 bonds for the benefit of Cornelius J. Vanderbilt, according to the terms of the will, and that halfyearly payments of $5,000 in gold are made to C. J. Vanderbilt under the terms of the will. Mr. Lord then continued his cross-examination of Edwin D. Worcester, and then Dr. John P. Gray was recalled, and Mr. Lord said: "All things are possible, as Mr. Clinton knows."

"Except that you will get through with this case," Mr. Clinton retorted. "That has been said so often that it has ceased to be witty," was Mr.

Lord's rejoinder. Mr. Clinton-I hope I may prove Mr. Lord-Oh, no, that can't be so while you are getting $1,000 a day. The Surrogate-It is hardly fair to expose private business.

Gen. Custis Lee,

General George Washington Park Custis Lee, who is plaintiff in the Arlington case, is about 45 years of age, tall, handsome and remarkably like his father, General R. E. Lee. He is President of Washington and Lee University, at Lexington, Va., where he lives with his two sisters, Misses Mary and Mildred Lee, in the house where their father, mother and sister died. He is an old bachelor, and very shy of the gentler sex. He was graduated first in his class at West Point, and, like his father, came out of the four years' course without a single demerit mark.

TWINKLINGS.

- A few years ago there were 60,-000 unemployed men in New York. Now there are only 12,000 of this class. This is progress indeed.

-A riot occurred at Cairo, Egypt, on the 18th, in which the Khedive was insulted and Nubar Pasha wounded. The troops fired into and dispersed the mob, which was composed of disbanded army officers.

- As California threatens to kick, all eyes are turned on her just now. But aside from the Mongolian blood-spot on the face of the moon, everything is lovely. The Constitutional Convention is hammering away, making very good laws.

- We have been in vain endeavoring to discover what weapons the Zulus used in their fight with the English; and in the absence of all information must assume that they used the stone weapons of the palæolithic or neolithic or post-palælithic pre-neolithic age.—Richmond State.

-The five-year-old daughter of George and Jane Soper died the other day in Washington, and the Star was induced to publish the following bit of poetry as ap-propriate to the untimely event:

Over the river the Lord carried Our household pet; Her blonde hair waved in crimson light, Darling Maudy! I can see her yet, As she went to that heavenly shore on high,

Passed her sufferings, passed her grief,
Darling Maudyl may she rest in peace.

The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone some-thing which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensa-tion of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLane's Liver Pills, in CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL. For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

NEW and IMPORTANT DEPARTURE!

Agents Everywhere, Not the Druggists,

To Hereafter Sell the Holman Liver Pad Company's Remedies.

There convened on the 8th day of January, 1879, (Prof. D. A. Loomis, M. D., chairman), at the head office of the Holman Liver Pad Co., 93 William st., New York, a large delegation—a first general reunion—consisting of all the many important agents of the United States, the Canadas, and representatives from Europe and Asia, for the specific purpose of reviewing the pros and cons of the past practical workings of this wonderful system of successfully treating disease by absorption without the use of medicine, as illustrated in the Holman Liver, Pad Co.'s remedies, and in a united manner to decide what course in future should, in their judgment be adopted as the best and speedlest plan to meet the great and increasing demand that is daily manifested from every quarter of the globe—not only for the remedies, but also to learn the proper mode of utilizing them.

great and increasing demand that is daily manifested from every quarter of the globe—not only for the remedies, but also to learn the proper mode of utilizing them.

Much time and attention were faithfully given to hearing the many interesting reports of the wonderful efficacy found in this way of treating disease wherever it had been faithfully used. The subject took a wide and extended range. It was found from these official sources that nearly every kind of incurable disease known to the human system, so far as it had come within their knewledge, had been successfully treated to a marvelous degree, and to an extent never before known in the history of medicine; and that the number of its patrons during the short time since its introduction was unprecedented; that it long since ceased to be an experiment, and its success should forever stand a burning disgrace to the medical faculty that it had not for ages past availed itself of a principle—Nature's own law, illustrated in every portion of the human body, and the entire economy of nature; as old as the universe, as fixed as any natural law can be, and unalterably certain in its good results as a treatment when properly utilized; with little or no difference as to climate or nationality in its uniformity of action. What makes it more precious still is that its comparative small expense brings it within the reach of all. It is now attracting the attention and receiving the endorsement of every fairminded physician wherever an opportunity is afforded for testing its practical workings. Added to this is the fact that many distinguished in their profession are now counted as ce-workers; also that an enormeus army of enthusiastic friends, who have been made happy through the use of these simple remedies (a large proportien of whom have found everything else heretofore failing them), are working zealously among the afflicted, overcoming prejudice by living examples of cures; or, what is better still, the successful prevention of disease It was clearly demonstrated cause also that, to a certain extent, it is contrary (as cause also that, to a certain extent, it is contrary (as they claim) to their business interests on account of its cheapness and rapid effect. And with rare exceptions, it has been the studied efforts of druggists to decry their merits, to discourage their use, or a refusal to explain or answer inquiries; also to encourage other remedies, or substitute an inferior article—a counterfeit or imitations—some a dangerous poisen, others as passive and useless as so much sawdust; also to throw every obstacle in the way of local agents by underquoting and underselling, down to starvation prices, with the view of forcing them to abandon their blessed work. These and many other practices that are a dishonor to any promany other practices that are a dishonor to any pro-fession have caused this Company and its many many other practices that are a dishonor to any profession have caused this Company and its many agents in convention to pass resolutions, unanimously adopted, to the effect that hereafter the Holman Liver Pad Co.'s remedies will be sold only by such agents as shall be found properly accredited by this Company. This decision opens up a large and wide field of usefulness to good and efficient persons everywhere, and on a basis of pecuniary results that warrant little or no risk in the enterprise, the particulars of which can always be learned by making application to the office nearest them; those having felt or seen the practical workings of these remedies always preferred.

This Company and its general agents mean by these acts to be understood that in the future as in the past, without fear or favor, they intend to dissemisate useful knowledge, heretofore by nearly all medical schools designedly made dark and obscure; and also in every manner within their power try to do the greatest good in the least possible time to suffering humanity everywhere, and the public are earnestly cautioned to be on their guard, in simple justice and protection to themselves and this Company, to show a total discountenance and contempt for any and all combinations of individual adventurers (always sinister in their motives) who hereafter thrust any substitutes in opposition to or in competition with our remedies, that have proved their efficiency by the severest test possible.

New York SHOOTING COAT.

STYLISH, MANDSOME COAT.

Pockets and Lining made to take out, so that may be worn for early fall and winter shooting.

Horace Smith, Esq., says: "It is my idea of shooting coat. I have worn them for several years and will have none other."

Price for Coat, $35; Vest, $6.50. Alse, the best brown corduroy Pants, at $10 per pair. I make on ty the one grade, as the cheapest goods do not turn briars and will not give satisfaction.

Also, in addition to the above, I am making Waterproef Canvass Suit, cut same style as the Veveteen: goods, not stiff and hard, but soft and plea sant to wear; guaranteed to turn water. Sportsmen who have seen it say it is The Pest Yet. Coat $6.50 For full Suit, $14.00.

I also make the Sleeveless Coa'; Vest with sleeves if desired.

No Premature Discharge Ever Occurs Every Rifle warranted a good shooter. Calibre 40, 44 and 50-100 of an inch, and of any desired length. Charge of powder from 50 to 105 grains. Weight wi balls from 220 to 540 grains. Stock, plain; aler Pistol grip and checked. Sights: plain; Globe and Peep Sights; Vernier with interchangeable from sights and Wind-gauge. Every variety of am munition for above guns, constantly on hand.
