A rebellion has broken out at Trinity College, Hartford. Eight seniors have been suspended and all exercises have been suspended, too, because the students refuse to attend.

The Philadelphia Press, a Radical organ, says President Hayes is cer tain to veto the Chinese bill:

"It it were done, when 'tis done, the It were done quickly."

It appears that Rev. Dr. Fulton would not after all withdraw his offensive remarks about Rev. Dr. Samson, and he was expelled from the Association by a vote of 23 to 11.

The House by a large vote refused to appropriate certain sums for erecting public buildings in several Southern towns and villages. One was an appropriation of $50,000 for the village of Greensboro.

Hayes knows how to talk like a man who knew how to do right if he never does right. Here is an illus trative fact reported to the Richmond

"A gentleman suggested that the imme-diate result of a veto of the Chinese bil might be injury to the Republican party among the lower orders of society in California. The President replied that it was always best to do right without reference to immediate effects, either in California or electrical.

We trust the humane and thought ful members of the Legislature will give the poor orphan children of the State at least a passing thought. Suppose they set aside $10 each out of their pay for the sustenance of the orphans at Oxford. "One good deed term of service of the two year class, dying tongueless, slaughters a thousand waiting on it." We will be glad to record such beneficence.

No blood is likely to follow the spat between Conkling and Burnside. They are now enjoying their laurels. The Philadelphia Times's Washington correspondent gives this as the correct statue just now: [1]

"Conking, it is understood, says that Burnside having called him a list he is now afraid he will prove it, and Burnside is more than half convinced that Conkling was right when he alluded to him as a meddlesome old granny."

We judge that about half of the Democratic papers in North Caro line would prefer that the reductions in salaries, &c., should not take place. The STAR has had its say and made its record, by which it is willing to stand. If no reduction in expenses should take place, we at least will not be blamed, and we will not have to meet the taunts and jeers of the adwersary, nor have trouble in recon- ly in Virginia and other States.

- Raleigh News: Information | The Interesting Deposits on Middle | To-Day's Indications. Sound-Proposed investigation. The following was prepared for yester day's paper, but left out by mistake.

> At various times during the last two or three years mention has been made in the STAR of the exhuming of human skulls and bones from a mound on the lands of A. R. Black, Esq., on Middle Sound, in the lower part of this county. On Monday last Rev. Dr. Bernheim, of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of this city, with another gentleman, accompanied by Mr. Black, visited the mound in question and extended the researches which had been previously begun, the result being the discovery of a number of skulls and bones in addition to those already exhumed. The skulls, one one of which Dr. Bernheim had in his possession yesterday, were within about two feet of each other, the position of the remains indicating that they had been deposited in a trench running from cast to west. It is proper that some definite conclusion should be arrived at with reference to the character and antiquity of the remains in question, which were evidently consigned to mother earth with an utter disregard to the ordinary form of interment, and with this view Mr. Black requests that a number of the scientific gentlemen of this city and county shall visit his place some time during the present week for the purpose of examining and investigating these interesting deposits. Mr Black will furnish the labor necessary for exhuming the remains, and extend any other assistance that may be required to further the objects of the proposed re-

Notice to Quit-Colonization at Bud.

One of the immediate fruits of the passage of our new city bill by the Legislature, is found in the breaking up of the colonization enterprise upon which some of our Radical and Greenback friends have been engaged for the past several months. There was a rumor upon the streets last night of the discharge of a score or more of hired Greenbacker had caused to squat upon the Fourth Ward. Our information is that these interested parties were highly indignant at being summarily ejected from their lodgings. They complain that they had a good place to sleep before this offer of payment to change their lodgings, and now they have neither where to lay their heads, nor pay for the time engaged. The late abode of this squatter colony, we are told, is the premises where the Greenbackers have been wont to congregate when discussing the affairs of the nation generally and their chances of control of the city government

The Troubles of a Commercial Trav-

A friend sends us the following: commercial tourist alias drummer, representing a Baltimore house, concluded yesterday afternoon that he would take a ride, probably with the view of escaping he clutches of the Argus-eyed detective and the payment of the city tax. Accordingly he took passage at the southeast corner of Front and Dock streets in a diminutive wagon drawn by goats. At first he stood up, lines in hand, as an accomplished driv ver, but finally concluded to take a seat, the result of which was the cargo became unbalanced and the wagon turned over, s-pilling our Baltimore friend in one direction while the goats ran in an opposite one. We are, however, glad to note that "Richard's himself" and ready to go-at it again. Our Bah-nannies will make you slip up occasionally, you know." Cousin Annie.

We neglected to mention yesterday the arrival in Wilmington of Miss Annie Maria Barnes, the accomplished editor of The Acanthus, an eight page literary paper, published at Atlanta, Ga., entirely by ladles, and reflecting the greatest credit upon all concerned in the undertaking.

Miss Barnes comes to North Carolina in the interest of her paper, and we are glad to know that she has been very successful in every place she has yet visited. In the small village of Raleigh she obtained about one hundred and fifty subscribers, and in a city the size of Wilmington she should receive at least double that number. Miss Barnes will call upon our citizens in the next few days and we trust will more than realize her expectations as to the number of subscribers she will receive.

Fannie Campbell, colored, was before Justice Gardner, yesterday afternoon, for examination on the charge of the larceny of twelve and a half yards of alpaca from one Massie Hemingway, also colored. Wholesale Slaughter of Game. Reliable parties from Core Sound, in Carteret county, report that some Northern Nimrods have been killing ducks in that section by the wholesale during the present winter, using for the purpose "swivels" carrying several pounds of powder. With one of these weapons they succeeded in one instance in killing six hundred ducks at one shot, besides crippling about one hundred and fifty. It was very proper that the Legislature should place restrictions upon sportsmen that should prevent such wholesale slaughter of game.

The Palmette Regiment.

One of the survivors of the famous Palmetto Regiment, now residing in this city. says that the item in the STAR of yesterday, founded on a paragraph in a Charleston paper, to the effect that there are now only eight members of the regiment living, is a mistake. He can count that number that belonged to his own company. In 1876 thirty survivors of the regiment had a reunion in Charleston, and only one of that number is known to have died since ther. He considers the number of survivors considerably above thirty.

Steamer Burned.

Messrs. Atkinson & Manning, insurance agents of this city, received a telegram yesterday afternoon, announcing the burning, at Newbern, of the steamer Deer.
