Five more working days for the Legislature, when the Solons must either kick from their feet the dust of the capital, or stay and pay for their own provender. They have still a great deal to do.

The enemies of the new tobacco tax say that it will never become a law. The improvements of the reveune machinery for collecting the tax are said to be great, as provided in the law just passed.

It is probable that Hayes's nomination of Conant as United States Marshal of Florida will not be confirmed, as he is known to be very active in the political persecutions of Democrats in Florida.

The Washington correspondent of the Richmond State says the sum proposed for the Cape Fear River by the Senate Committee on Commerce is $100,000. Our telegraphic dispatch says $75,000. Which is right? We hope the State is.

The New York Herald is not an infallible guesser. It says North Carolina will have 1,088,850 inhabitants in 1880. It had 1,071,000 in 1870, and the Herald will only allow the State to increase some 17,000 in ten years. We put our guessing against the Herald, and place the population of North Carolina in 1880 at 1,200,000.

Lieutenant Governor Robinson has asked for an investigation of the charges made against himself by a correspondent of the New York Times, to the effect that he and nine other Legislators drew pay as Legislators and Deputy Sheriffs. The Raleigh Observer says that "Lieutenant Governor Robinson has already furmished the most complete vindication."

The public generally feel no interest in the business relations existing between the STAR and the New York Associated Press, and for that reason we do not propose to make any elaborate reply to the card of Mr. J. W. Simonton recently published. We shall content ourselves with saying that the card is a mass of misstatements. In fact, it does not contain a single leading proposition that is fairly or correctly stated.

Radical Senators are trate. They charge Kellogg with duplicity. They say he promised to vote for Corbin and then dodged. The Richmond State's Washington' correspondent says one of the oldest Republican Senators declares that Corbin's title to a seat is twice as good as Kellogg's, and though he voted to admit Kellogg as a political necessity, he knew of no political necessity that would compel him to vote to keep him in after the duplicity he practiced in the Corbin case.

Interesting Investigations at Middle Sound, in this County-Indian Remains, &c.

ARCHÆOLOGY.

On Thursday last Rev. Dr. Bernheim, President of the New Hanover County Historical and Scientific Society, accompanied by Rev. Dr. Wilson, of the First Presbyterian Church, and Mr. Edward Kidder, visited the plantation of A. R. Black, Esq., on Middle Sound, about ten miles below this city, for the purpose of continuing the investigations as to the character of the remains already alluded to on several occasions as having been discovered on Mr. Black's land, which has attracted the attention and enlisted the interest of quite a number of the scientifically inclined in this immediate section. They opened two burial places on this occasion, and the one in which the three skulls were found on Monday last, referred to in the STAR of Thursday morning, there were discovered seven skulls altogether, one of them that of a child. These skulls, with the accompanying bones, were in heaps, each to itself, and in such a position as to suggest the idea that the individuals to whom they belonged had been in a standing or sitting posture while undergoing the process of decay, and had eventually tumbled down in heaps, with the bones at the bottom and the skulls on top. These remains, as before intimated, had to all appearances been placed in a trench prepared for the purpese, but without any particular order of burial.

A short distance from the above spot another and complete skeleton was exhumed, its position indicating that the individual had been lying on his back with his face turned to one side. A root was found growing through the skull, entering at the top and protruding through the lower portion, manifesting a softness of the skull which in itself would suggest great antiquity

These remains were all found at a depth of from one to three feet below the surface of the ground; but this by no means indicates the depth of their original interment, as, being in a sandy soil, the action of the wind has no doubt brought them much nearer the surface than they were at first

The visitors, after as careful an investigation as the circumstances would permit all came to the conclusion that the remains, were those of Indians. This opinion was arrived at chiefly from the mode of sepulture, the graves having been filled with ovster and clam shells, evidently conveyed some distance for that purpose, which it is safe to assume would not have been done by white people, to whom the soil would have been considered so much more convenient. The finding of an arrow head and a specimen of Indian pottery in the grave or trench was still further evidence to our scientific explorers of the correctness of their theory. The jawbone of a deer, with teeth attached, was also among the relics found in proximity to the remains. Six of the skulls alluded to as having been found in the trench or grave were brought to this city, and are now in the possession of Mr. Kidder, who will be glad to show them to any scientific gentleman who may have a curiosity to see these interesting relics of a pre-historic age. The other bones it was found impossible to remove intact, as they crumbled and fell to pieces when handled.

The mounds at the same place were not visited on Thursday, but will form the sub ject of investigation at some future time. IDr. Thomas F. Wood was to have formed one of the party, but was disappointed at the last moment.

We learn that Mr. John Savage, Jr., a well known pilot of Smithville, died very suddenly, at his residence in that place, on Friday night last. He was sitting with his family, when he called to one of his children and told him to go after the Doctor, who lived just across the street, and before the physician could reach him was speechless, and died in about a half hour after he was attacked. We did not ascertain the character of the disease.

Almost a Fire. There was a momentary fright occasioned in the neighborhood of Third street, at its intersection with Mulberry, yesterday. The soot in the kitchen chimney of a residence in that locality caught fire from the stove, and, falling in a burning mass, ignited some of the woodwork about the fire-place. A few buckets of water afforded a prompt remedy.

Mason Holmes, colored, had a hearing before a magistrate yesterday morning on the charge of perjury, alleged to have been committed in a civil case tried before another magistrate a few days since. Defendant was ordered to give bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which the First Colored Baptist Church, of this he was lodged in jail.

> Death in Jail. Cæsar Williams, a colored lunatic, who has been confined in the county jail in this city for some time past, died yesterday. He has been lingering for some time past, and death was no doubt a great relief to him. He was between 30 and 35 years of

The Sunken Beat. Nothing was done towards getting up the sunken steamer North East yesterday, on account of the threatening weather early in the morning, but Mr. W. L. Beery informs us that operations will be resumed Monday morning, and that the hull will probably be brought to the surface on Tuesday.

To-Day's Indications.

For the South Atlantic States, partly cloudy weather, winds mostly from east to south, with slight changes in temperature and barometer.

A Little Excitement. Two colored damsels got mad with colored brother in "Paddy's Hollow" yesterday morning, and chased him down to Water street, near the corner of Mulberry, when one of them picked up a reck and hurled it at his head, which missed the mark and went crashing through the window of a small grocery in that neighborhood, scattering promiscuously the apples, candy and other articles displayed in the same, and creating quite a lively excitement among the denizens of that vicinity for a few moments. No ar-

Arrested on Suspicion. Mr. John D. Burch, formerly of this city, but now of Winston, states in a letter to us from that place, dated on the 26th ult., that a negro corresponding to a letter with the description given in the STAR of Eli Bethune, who is alleged to have committed the outrage on Miss McDuffy, near Laurina burg, recently, has been arrested in Stokes county, thirty miles above Winston, and the party arresting him has telegraphed to the Sheriff of Richmond county, asking for information. The man has tried to escape several times, and has given several different names.

"Scraps" at the Opera House. Speaking of this piece, the Philadelphia Item says: "The Pathfinders entered upon their third week with the same excellent business they have had heretofore, the Museum being unable to hold all who were anxious to see the amusing melange called "Scraps," whose bright, sparkling dialogue and catching airs do not seem to lose one whit of their freshness. This is the last week of the Pathfinders' present engagement here, and we advise all those who wish to enjoy a real treat to see them.

Attention Sportsmen. Under the law recently passed by the Legislature the close season for partridges begins April 1st. Any person who shoots a partridge between April 1st and October 1st will be fined ten dollars for each offence. All sportsmen should be on the lookout for the nest robbers, as the same law makes it an indictable offence to break up or rob a partridge nest. The law applies to New Hanover, Pender, Duplin, Sampson, Columbus, Union, and some other counties that we do not now remember.

Criminal Court.

In the Criminal Court vesterday, the case of Ben Brown, (colored) convicted of perjury some twelve months ago, came up for sentence upon the prisoner. This case was carried up to the Supreme Court upon appeal where the judgment of the Court below was affirmed. The fact was established of previous excellent character by a number of respectable witnesses. His Honor listened to the prayer of mercy made by defendants counsel and suspended judgment upon payment of costs.

Quarterly Meeting. The exercises of the first quarterly meetng for the present Conference year at the Front Street Methodist Church, commenced with services on Saturday, and will be continued to-day. The presiding elder of the District, Rev. Dr. Burkhead, is in attendance.
