The Bible uses the good old English word sick, (Anglo-Saxon seoc) but latter-day nicety says you must not say sick, it is so very vulgar, but you must say ill. Ah, me! Shakespeare was vulgar enough to use sick, too, and so do scores of the best English authors.

William Howitt, the oldest living English writer, died on the 4th inst. He was born in 1796. He was a great traveller, a prolific author who wrote many pleasing works. Few students of literature are not familiar with William and Mary Howitt, husband and wife.

Blaine attempted to interrupt Senator Thurman, when the latter in a decided way told him to "sit down." Whereupon Blaine gave the Ohioan to understand he "would lick him," or words to that effect, if he were not so old. Blaine is bound to flog somebody, or he will never be nominated for President.

Jay Gould is said by the New York Sun to be responsible for the poverty in which the gifted Bayard Taylor left his family. He unwisely invested in the stock of that dirty sheet; the New York Tribune, and hence the poverty. The stock collapsed or depreciated so greatly as to make Taylor "poor indeed." A warning to all honest men.

It is given as a fact that at one time during the night session of the U. S. Senate there were but five Senators present, and still the legislation continued. We have! been long satisfied that five intelligent, experienced, honest men would do all the business of our legislatures in one third of the time, and do it altogether better.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXIII.--NO, 139.

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 1879.

The Raleigh Observer informs us that the Agricultural Department only drew $1,000 from the taxpayers of the State. Very well. We make the correction willingly. It costs, nevertheless, $15,000 a year, a sum which could be more wisely expended, and more appropriately expended too, as we take it, in other directions. The Observer says:

"The Department is run on $500 license fees charged and paid for that purpose by fertilizer manufacturers, of Baltimore, chiefly. Generally, it is held, that the tax comes out of the consumer at last. But it has not been so in this instance. The establishment of the Department led to a saving of about $100,000 per annum in the prices paid for fertilizers and an increase at least as great in the value of the articles put upon the market."

If the $100,000 could not be saved without machinery that costs $15,000 annually to run it, we might think better of the plan.

The following U.S. Senators retired with the termination of the 45th Congress: Spencer, Conover, Sargent, Barnum, Oglesby, McCreery, Shields, Merrimon, Mitchell, Dorsey, Chaffee, Eustis, Dennis, Wadleigh, Matthews, Patterson and Howe.

BENNETTSVILLE & HAMLET RAILROAD. A message was received from the House, transmitting an engrossed amendment to the bill to incorporate the Bennettsville & Hamlet Railroad Company and asking the concurrence of the Sennte. The amendment proposed to strike out the provisions of the bill as it left the Senate making the road a narrow-gauge road.

The question led to considerable discussion, participated in Mr. Leach in favor of concurring, and by Messrs. Bryan, of Pender, and Caldwell in opposition.

The Senate concurred and the bill was ordered to be enrolled. A motion to reconsider the vote concurring in the amendment was ta-

The bill provides, substantially, for a commission to consist of the Justices of the Supreme Court for the purpose of negotiating with the holders of the construction bonds, and contracting with them for a renewal of the said debt on such terms as may be approved by the Governor and Public Treasurer. The Commissioners are also empowered, approved as above, to contract and agree with the holders of the said old bonds, for the renewal of the same with new bonds, to be issued under this act, upon such terms as may be agreed on by and between the commissioners and the holders of said bonds. The commissioners shall have power to sell said new bonds and invest the proceeds thereof in the purchase of said old bonds on certain conditions and restrictions. The bonds proposed to be issued shall be coupon bonds of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 each, and shall be exempt from all taxation whatever, the same to be expressed on their face, and shall have the same lien on the stock of the State in the road that the old bonds and coupens now have, and shall in all respects stand in the place of the old securities. Executors, administrators, guardians, trustees and all persons acting in a fiduciary character holding any of the old bonds are authorized to exchange them for the new bonds proposed to be issued.]

The bill provides that the Justices of the Peace shall constitute a Township Board of Supervisors for the purposes of the bill, whose duty it will be to appoint an overseer to superintend the work; and that said Boards of Supervisors shall be required to report, on oath, to the Judges of the Superior Courts the condition of the roads, &c.]

Mr. Hoyle moved to amend section 4 so as to read as follows, and the amendment was adopted:

Sec. 4. All able-bodied male persons between the ages of 18 years and 45 years shall be required, under the provisions of this act, to work on the public roads, (except the members of the Boards of Supervisors of public roads), not less than three days in each and every year.

The bill was further amended by Senators by exempting some dozen counties they represented from the operations of the act, and by reinstating the county of Granville, struck out in the House, and then the bill passed its second reading by a vote of 28 to 12, several Senators voting in the affirmative not committing themselves to vote so on the third reading.

INSANE ASYLUM. The bill to aid in the completion of the Western Insane Asylum, at Moiganton, the special order for 8 o'clock, was taken up, the question being on the substitute of Mr. Bynum amended by Mr. Dortch.

In answer to Mr. Spow, Mr. Dortch stated that the $20,000 asked for for the Goldsboro Asylum was to complete the main building and one wing; that the contracts and subcontracts were all made, and there was every probability of the State suffering in actions for breach of contract in the event of the work being discontinued.

The main question was now ordered, and the question was on the adoption of Mr. Bynum's amendment as amended by Mr. Dortch, and the vote resulted, ayes 29, noes-14.

I knew you would be with me when the time came, and I knew i would be sweet, but I did not know it would be as sweet as it is.' Another Party Under Suspicion.

Mayor S. G. McLendon, of Thomasville, Ga., writes: "Last Saturday, March 1st, the City Marshal brought to my office a copy of your paper giving an account of a rape committed upon Miss McDuffle by a negro named Eli Bethune. He also brought under arrest a negro who gave his name as George Wilcox, who had a scar on his left cheek extending from the corner of the eye downward, was just enough cross-eyed for it to be noticed, and was a bright mulatto in complexion. In these points he precisely answered to your description of Eli Bethune. This negro, George Wilcox, was, however, much larger than you describe Bethune to be, his height being about ten feet ten or eleven inches, and his weight being, I should judge, at least one hundred and seventy-five pounds. I questioned him very rigidly for nearly an hour, and became satisfied, from his accurate and minute acquaintance with persons and places in this section, that he could not be the guilty party. Still, as it is barely possible he may be, I write giving you this information for what it is worth. George Wilcox is somewhere on the line of the A. & G. R. R, and is within reach-either at Dixie or Whigham. If you think it likely that this is the negro, let me know and I can procure his arrest."

One of the largest displays of the skins of wild animals we remember to have seen was made by a resident of Brunswick yesterday morning, in the neighborhood of Market and North Water streets. His stock consisted of the hides of eighteen otters, eteen coons, three foxes, two wild cats and one mink, and he wanted in the neighborhood of one hundred deliars for them. He says he killed all of the animals himself in Green Swamp. A crowd followed our Brunswick friend until he had disposed of the most of his skins.

last evening was witnessed by a fair audience, and was certainly of a decidedly novel and unique character. The play is sui generis, and appropriately entitled "Scraps," which aptly and briefly describes a pleasing milange of songs, dances, jokes, puns, selections, character impersonations, &c. Of the company, Mr. J. N. Rentfrow proved himself a capital Ethiopian comedian, as a negro minstrel is now termed, and Mr. Charles S. Rodgers evinced decided histrionic talent in some of his imitations of eminent actors. Mr. Rentfrow kept the audience laughing almost continuously by his excellent characterization of Claude, a negro servant, and Miss Mattie Vickers was repeatedly applauded for her successful efforts in different impersonations.
