Congressman "Sunset" Cox is engineering the New York opposition to Randall. Fernando Wood refuses to say who is he for.

O'Leary got drunk because he was behind and could not eatch up, and then retired, not standing particularly on the order of his going.

The press and pulpit of California denounce the introduction of sacred characters upon the stage, which has recently been done in what is called a "Passion Play."

The following are the graduates from North Carolina in Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia: W. P. Beall, W. L. Crump, Richard Dillard, Jr., and A. C. Hopkins.

The Southern Republican Association, now fully organized, has just elected McDonald Lindsay, of this State, President. Representative J. J. Martin is an honorary member.

The Tammany organ in New York has hoisted the following ticket: For President, Horatis Seymour, of New York; for Vice President, L. Q. Lamar, of Mississippi. It is said to be a "feeler."

Blackburn says that "Southern sentiment is all, without a dissenting voice, in favor of a Southern man for Speaker." We do not believe it. Many Southern papers prefer the reelection of Randall under the circum-

.. The Washington correspondent of the Richmond State writes, on the 13th, concerning the Greenbackers:

"They are calling together all their wisest heads, and are really in earnest in trying to obtain a foothold in the organiza. tion of the House. They ask a big price for their cooperation, but will be glad to receive much less."

Pinafore fared better the second night in Richmond, Va. The State says:

"The orchestra and chorus were in better accord last night, and both were greatly improved. The leading parts were also better given, and altogether it was a very fair programme. Still, as we get better acquainted with it, it is not so bad, and really possesses many musical beauties."

Cardinal McCloskey has devised a plan for the relief of Archbishop Purcell. It is understood, says New York letter, that it "contemplates an effective system of voluntary contributions from the various parishes, as well as facilities for en abling wealthy laymen to aid in the work independently of the efforts of the Church."

Colonel McCardle, of Mississippi, is out in a card for Blackburn, in which he reads Mr. Randall out of the Democratic party. All this time, it seems, the Democrats have had a Republican or something else in the Speaker's chair. The Mississippi "Kurnel" is an astronomer. He has made a discovery in the political heavens. He is the Herschel of politics. Rah for the "Kurnel." But who is the McCardle, anyway?

A Washington special to the Philadelphia Press, Republican, says that Mr. Randall is strong for Tildenthat he says the friends of the old man "have been in communication with the party leaders in different sections of the country, and they are assured of an almost universal readiness to demand another candidacy on the grounds of injustice done him in the contest of 1876." According to the special Randall is confident that four-fifths of the Democratic malady.

THE LEGISLATURE.

(Raleigh News Report Condensed.) SENATE. RALEIGH, March 13.

THE FISH BILL. The bill to prevent obstruction to the passage of fish in the several streams in the State, and to provide for fish ways, was taken up and passed. SOLICITORS AND GRAND JURIES.

The bill to make it lawful for solicitors to appear before grand juries when requested to do so by the juries, was taken up. The purpose of rein, whereupon Barber drew a rethe bill was to legalize a custom which had long prevailed up to the time of a recent decision of the Supreme Court, and which still prevailed to some extent, that decision to the contrary notwithstanding. Jail at Lexington. The practice had been found convenient and saved the time of the courts in having the whole jury to come before the Judge for instruction on points of law. The bill passed by a vote of 23 to 7. CALENDAR.

The following bills and resolutions passed their final reading:

Bill to amend the charter of the town of Chapel Hill.

To facilitate navigation in the streams of the State. To prevent obstructions in Angola and Shettee creek, Pender county. To entitle constables of towns and ties to serve process.

To prevent the destruction of black White Marsh, Columbus

To establish a Board of Commis sioners for Trent river.

To authorize the Commissioners of Craven county to work prisoners sentenced to the penitentiary for less than one year. To incorporate the Historical and Scientific Society of Wilmington. Resolution of instruction to our Representatives in Congress to aid in Eastern North Carolina.

Harbor Commissioners. To provide for submitting the Constitutional amendment in reference to the deaf and dumb and the blind and the insane, to a vote of the peo-

Bill to allow the drainage of a dam on Haw River, by certain townships, and allow the levy of a special tax, passed its final reading. CONTESTED ELECTION.

Mr. Norment moved to take up a esolution in regard to the contested election in Bertie county, upon which some debate ensued as to the propriety of acting on the matter before the Judiciary Committee. The resolution was then taken up.

It reads as follows: Resolved, by the House of Repre-sentatives, That Augustus Robbins, of the county of Bertle, is entitled to the seat now occupied by W. C. Etheridge, and that the sitting member, W. C. Etheridge, is not entitled to his seat. Mr. Cooke introduced an amendment to the act in relation to the suport of the deaf mutes, blind and insane, so as to submit the constitutional amendment to the qualified voters of the State, which passed its several

Bill to provide for the engraving of the new bonds to be issued by the State, under the act to adjust and exchange the bonds of the N. C. R. R., passed.

Bill to authorize the Commissioners of Brunswick to levy a special tax passed its final reading.

A BULLET THROUGH THE BRAIN

SALISBURY, March 13. - Robert W. Hayden was killed near Holtsburg, Davidson county, to day, by his brother-in-law, M. W. Barber. They had previously been at enmity with each other, and for some time past had not been on speaking terms. Today Barber was passing Hayden's house on horseback, when the latter accosted him insultingly. Barber replied, and in the course of a heated colloquy which followed, Hayden, who was at this time in the road, gave Barber the d-d lie. The latter spit in his face and ordered him to stand aside. Hayden, instead of doing so, advanced and grasped Barber's bridle volver and shot him through the head, the wound producing almost instant death.

Discontinued. It was definitely ascertained here yesterday that the line of steamers plying between Baltimore and this port will be withdrawn. There has been no cause assigned for this action, and the announcement of the fact was rather a surprise. The line has latterly consisted of the steamships Raleigh and D. J. Foley, making regular weekly trips. The former is expected to wind up the trips of the line when she reaches here on Tuesday could have been no cause. We expect Captain Cazaux, the agent here, will make other arrangements, as the field s too inviting to be altogether abandoned.

Market Reforms. It is suggested by several of our citizens that while talking of new markets, market reforms, etc., our authorities be induced, if ossible, to abolish the present system cooking in the Market House. The removal of the cooking material and attendant paraphernalia from the lower end of the market, and the using of it for a fish market, as it was intended, they say, would result in a decided improvement, and one which would be duly appreciated by every lover of good order, cleanliness and propriety.
