It is feared that Maurice Barrymore, the actor shot by the Texas ruffian who killed Porter, will die from his wounds.

It is thought that Father Taft, of Grant's Cabinet, will be the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio, and Gen. Tom Ewing will be the Democratic candidate.

The Bannock Indians, in Idaho Territory, have been scalping the Chinese. This happened on February 10. The number of the slain is not known, but it is considerable.

A rumor prevails in Washington that Speaker Randall will make a clean sweep in his appointments, or, as it is expressed in a Richmond lettor, "will make a new shuffle and deal."

It was an Associated Press error that the Republicans had determined in caucus not to pair with the Democrats. The effort failed, as several leading Republicans said they would not respect the resolution if it passed.

It is promised by the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury that if any of the employes in that Department, credited to South Carolina, are not from that State, they shall be removed. That is right, and we hope the same rule will be extended to all the Southern States.

The Virginia House has passed the Senate Moffett bill with amendments. It reduces the tax on alcoholic drinks from 21 to 11 cents. We doubt the wisdom of the reduction. It will probably increase the revenue of the seller without increasing the revenue of the State or in any way benefiting the drinker. He will probably pay the same.

In the Poindexter trial the jury disagreed and after two days' confinement were discharged. Application for bail was refused, and the prisoner was remanded to jail. The jury stood: ten for a verdict of voluntary manslaughter, with punishment at five years in the penitentiary; two for conviction for involuntary manslaughter, which is a misdemeanor, the jury fixing the fine and the Judge the imprisonment. The case is set for trial on the first Monday in April. It is thought, however, that it will not begin before the second Monday.

Garfield is trying to aid old Zack Chandler in stiffening Hayes's backbone. Hence his blood and thunder speech in the House. According to the Washington letter in the Richmond Dispatch, a leading Republican said on Saturday :

"'Some members are afraid he is about to play Andrew Johnson's part over again, and if he does our cake is all dough. I care not whether Grant is nominated or not.' Their hope is now not only to stiffen the President, but by the debate on these questions to fire the heart of the North and convince its people that the South is rebellious. And they will aim to make the debate not only a lengthy one, but will inject into it all of the sectional feeling and hatred that Conger, Harry White, Kefer & Co. can command."

WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, APRIL 1, 1879.

News from Washington. [Special to the Richmond Dispatch.] Washington, March 29. Mr. House, of Tennessee, received a tele-gram this afternoon which stated that Mr. Riddle, a member of the House, from Tennessee in the last Congress, committed suicide to-day by shooting himself. He had been in bad health, and was deranged.

At this meeting it was agreed that freasury notes should be substituted or national bank notes; that there shall be no increase of the bonded debt; that incomes above $2,000 shall be taxed; that for every trade dollar there shall be a standard dollar coined, and that there shall be no limit the coinage of silver. Uncle Hendricks B. Wright presided, and is perfectly at home in all Greenback with drunkenness and disorderly conduct, organizations. THE SILVER DOLLARS TO BE CIRCU

E. Church, proved to be incorrect. I chose, that power being given him by is doubtful as to her coming here at all, the Constitution. This proposition We learn that she expects to go from was defended by several Republicans. but not so broadly, and Mr. McLean, of Maryland, a new member, and Mr. Carlisle of Kentucky, took issue with them. Both these gentlemen did themselves credit, Carlisle especially making an able argument, that attracted the attention of the House, and induced Frye to smend his remarks in the most material point. He said he meant that the President would still have the power to move troops from barracks, and from State to State. This was another thing, but admitting, as Carliele argued, that the President's control of the army was subject to regulation by statute, Frye's acknowledged ability as a lawyer made his original position on this question the more surprising, and it was evident he had strained a point to sustain Conger.

Mr. Robert Hewett, an aged citizen of Lockwood's Polly Township, Branswick county, was on his way to Smithville yesterday to attend Court, when he was taken auddenly ill and died in a few minutes. It is supposed that he was stricken with heart disease. He was about 70 or 75 years old. and was a bard-working farmer.

Bedy Recovered-Inquest.

Late Sunday afternoon, near Point Peter the body of a drowned man was found floating in the river. The Coroner, wh was notified, had the body towed into the dock at Messrs. Colville & Co.'s mill, ye terday morning, where an inquest was held. The remains were recognized as those of Richard Crawford, colored, who was drowned in the river opposite the foot of Market street on Saturday, the 24th inst. by the upsetting of a small batteau.

The jury returned a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death by accidental drowning.

F. Child, E. M. Skipper, L. S. Skipper, L. R. Skipper and others, literally destroying the feuces and turpentine boxes in its path, leaving five plantations (including those named above) a total wreck, A portion of the turpentine boxes of Mrs. Chinnis and Dr. DeRosset were also burned, as well as some fence belonging to Mr. Joel Patrick. We understand that about twenty-on young men of this city have formed a combinstion, to be known as the "North Carolina Minstrels." They have been under the tuition of "professionals" for seven months, and expect, in about a week from this time, to take the read, giving their first performance, outside of this city, at Charleston. They will probably give one entertainment in Wilmington before starting out, but that has not been definitely decided upon. They are said to be well instructed in both vocal and instrumental music, and to excel the average minstrel troupe both in the quality and character of their performances. Ethiopeancy is to be a feature of their entertainments, but not to the exclusion of more elevating music without the disguise of OPERA HOUSE. Rip Van Winkle.

At the Opera House, last night, "Rip Van Winkle" was presented; with Mr. Robert McWade in the dituler part, to a fair audience. The version differs in several respects from the Jeffersoffian standard, with which our play goers have become familiar, and loses nothing by the change made. Mr. McWade is a finished actor, and portrayed the character lin a natural and realistic manner that was in itself the very perfection of art. We were more than pleased with his rendition, and the audience were often loudly demonstrative of their appreciation, impelled by the matchless drollery, rare humor, or touching pathos of "The Vaga-

The support was fair, Mr. Chippendale leading excellently in the characters assumed, for which his personal appearance peculiarly fitted himood algood bussuo

Railroad Officials in Council-Hates of Freight.

An important and interesting meeting of railroad officials convened in Raleigh toward the close of last week. Represent tatives of many internal improvement lines were in attendance, the chief topic of discussion being the law, passed at the late session of the General Assembly, regarding freights. Hon. George Davis, of this city, was present in the capacity of an attorney. Careful examination of the bill was made which disclosed the fact that it made several quite revolutionary changes in the existing freight charges. Among others it prohibits the formation of pools, and the giving or taking of rebates. The design of this piece of legislative machinery is to equalize freight rates between all points. Under it, if a given charge is made for transporting a certain number of pounds for any given distance, say for instance twenty miles, OUR STOCK OF the same charge must be made for every succeeding twenty miles, as for the first, with the proviso that this shall not apply to persons who may wish to ship one or more car loads of freight. It is lawful for the railroad to make special rates with this class of shippers....

We are advised that owing to conflict of opinion nothing determinate was decided on, but to Mesers. Pope, Clark and Haas, general freight agents of the Wilmington & Weldon, Carolina Central and Danville Railroads, were assigned the task of preparing a tariff accommodated to this new piece of legislation.

The whole matter is in the hands of experienced aed capable gentlemen, who understand thoroughly the necessities of the roads they represent. They will take care of them, while at the same time we expect to find them consulting the business interests of the localities interested, and arrange for the public accommodation on as liberal a scale as possible.
