Senate considered Mr. Bell's case; Senator Saulsbury spoke against; he was admitted by a vote of 35 to 28. —— House considering the Appropriation bill by sections. —— The Grand Army of the Republic held a meeting and condemned a Washington company for not carrying a U. S. flag; the company says it is not entitled to carry one. —— A freight train broke in two, at Elizabeth, N. J., and eight cars were demolished. —— The Prince Bishop of Brixen, Austria, is dead. —— The Chilian squadron is blockading the port of Iquique, Peru. —— In the House Mr. McMahon introduced and successfully carried out a proposition for the payment of arrearages of pensions. —— The agreement between Austria and Turkey, for occupation of territory of the latter, is now complete. —— Republican State Convention of Kentucky met yesterday and nominated Walter Evans for Governor. —— New York markets: Money 4@5 per cent.; cotton nominal at 11¼@11½ cents; flour dull and strongly in buyers' favor at $4 10@5 40; wheat ½@1c lower; corn slightly in buyers' favor and quiet; spirits turpentine firm at 35@36c; rosin $1 40.

The fruit crop generally was killed by the frost in South Carolina.

In Philadelphia one person in every twelve regularly attends church.

The Pope declines to accept Archbishop Purcell's resignation on account of his long service to the Church.

Governor Seymour says he will not be a candidate for the Governor's place. He says neither his age nor his health will allow him to do so.

Currie, the Texas murderer, says that "after the newspaper war is over," he will be tried and cleared. Let us keep up the war, then, if it will hang him.

If the President vetoes the Army bill, it is understood in Washington that the Democrats will try a repeal in a separate bill, and then see what Hayes will do.

Senator Hampton's health is steadily improving. The Charleston News says a second amputation will not be necessary, as the fragments of bone are being ejected by nature's cure.

The speech of Senator Garland on the Bell case is said to have been very able. The Washington Post says it was much complimented on both sides for its clearness, originality and force.

Gen. Sherman heard most of the speeches in the House on the Army bill, and he favors the repeal of all laws requiring the presence of armed soldiers at the polls. Right for once, Tecumseh!

There does not appear to be much Democratic music in the air about the municipal elections in Ohio. The most comforting is the fact that the Republican majority in Cincinnati is greatly reduced.

Mr. Spofford, of Louisiana, says his case will be heard, and he alleges that he has new and important evidence to show that Kellogg is not entitled to his seat. The Republicans profess to be confident that Kellogg will not be disturbed.

While "revolution" is booming the people of the country are subscribing in a most remarkable degree to the four per cent. bonds. On last Friday the subscriptions amounted to $120,000,000. This looks as if the people were not badly scared.

Gen. Fitz John Porter is a Democrat. Hence, the war upon him by some of the organs and old Zach Chandler. We hope a Democratic Senate will see to it that Gen. Porter is righted, and that he gets a place in the army equal to the one he was robbed of.

Here is an opinion that is worth quoting. We find it in the New York World:

"Morton's private secretary has 'returned to Washington after an extended tour of the Southern States,' and 'says that every Republican in the South is in favor of the renomination of Grant;' also, that 'he does not think Grant or any other candidate of the Republican party can carry a single Southern State.'"

The New York World of the 9th inst. publishes a long interview with ex-Governor Hendricks. The pith of it is that he thinks Congress and the country are on the right track now, and that he will not accept a second place on any Presidential ticket. What becomes of the reported letters to gentlemen in Pennsylvania, that he would accept the second place on a ticket with Tilden? The Philadelphia Times so reported.

The signs are that the Legislative bill will be discussed even more thoroughly than the Army bill was. Seventy members have already intimated a desire to be heard. Colonel Steele will speak on the subject. Judge Kelly, Republican, favors a general discussion. The Richmond State's Washington special says of what he said in the House:

"'Let the House fight it out, and let the country know how thoroughly Pickwickian the cry of revolution and revolt is.' The Republicans looked surprised at this confession, and the Democrats applauded. Before the close of the debate no doubt the country will be pretty well convinced of the truth of Mr. Kelly's suggestion."

The residence of John Randolph, of Roanoke, in Charlotte county, Virginia, was burnt on the night of the 7th inst. The great orator's remains are buried very near the residence. Randolph's residence in ruins and Jefferson's home sold. The two great supporters of genuine Republicanism.

Charles Nordoff likes Ran Tucker, of Virginia. In his New York Herald letter from Washington he says:

"To-day Mr. Tucker, with a grace of manner and expression which delighted both sides, and with an eloquence which carried away his own side, delivered his mind, and declared what, if the Democratic applause he received is evidence, must be regarded as the mind o fa large part of the Democratic Representatives."

Senator Bruce means mischief. He will get some of the Republicans who have been robbing the Freedman's Saving Bank in trouble. Bruce will find his traducers will counter the Stalwarts and their satelites.

Ex-President Davis recently referred to the late President Franklin Pierce, as "dear man, dear man." He said he regarded him as a person of brilliant powers and a statesman far above the average.

— Asheville has an organized band of negro thieves.

— Asheville is having a business directory prepared.

— The "dry ticket" was elected at Dallas, Gaston county.

— The Asheville library is growing rapidly. Donations are pouring in.

— Mr. Snow declined the Attorney's place for Wake, and Mr. E. R. Stamps was elected in his place.

— Mr. W. A. Smith has retired from the Hendersonville Courier. He will devote himself to the law. Our best wishes attend him.

— Statesville American: We are pleased to learn that the wheat crop in Iredell, Catawba and other adjacent counties is appearing remarkably well.

— Greensboro North State: There is a man living in Dobson, Surry county, whose family name is Snow, and whose given name is Ice. Ice Snow is his full name.

— Mr. George A. Latham has retired from the editorial charge of the Washington State Press. He was an industrious editor and wrote spirited articles.

— Shelby Aurora: The protracted meeting in the Baptist Church in this place closed last Sunday night. The baptizing of the new members will take place Thursday night.

— Warren News: We regret very much to make the announcement that the scarlet fever has again made its appearance in the neighborhood, and that in a most aggravated form.

— Elizabeth City Economist: Blue Peter ducks still linger in Currituck Sound. Week before last Stevens Gordon killed 112 at three shots, and it want' a good day for petering either.

— Alamance Gleaner: Messrs. Lawrence and Banks, of the firm of E. M. Holt's Sons, some weeks ago bought the property and water power at Eflin's Bridge, on Big Alamance, from P. F. Holt, and they have gone tp work to build a new factory at that point.

— Raleigh News: The Supreme Court finished hearing arguments Tuesday. It is thought that the last opinion will be filed Thursday, when the Court will adjourn for the term. —— Where was Martin when the vote on the Army bill was taken. He is reported as dodging.

— Wadesboro Herald: Mr. E. F. Fenton, U. S. Deputy Marshal, informs us that had it not been for Mr. Pennington and his assistant, Mr. Davis, he would have been killed in Stanly on the recent raid. —— The New York gentlemen that we spoke of last week as going in with Hamilton Bros., have arrived and gone to work on the old Bailey gold mine.

— A correspondent from Pitt county writes us that in Swift Creek Township ex-Sheriff J. F. Hellen was shot in his right arm and breast with a navy revolver in the hands of Calvin Cox, ex-Superior Court Clerk, ex-U. S. Commissioner, and a practicing attorney. The report comes that Hellen is dying, and that Cox shot in self defence. They quarrelled about a ditch that Hellen had filled up on Cox's land.

— Washington Press: Quite an item in fish shipment over the railroad during the past week was the result of the connections made. One hundred and fifty-seven boxes left town by that line, amounting to near the round sum of $3,000. —— We learn that Mr. Thomas Woollard had the misfortune to have his foot laid open with an axe on Saturday last. —— The Methodist parsonage gradually nears completion.

— Newbern Nut Shell: Marshal Hargett has had before his Honor the Mayor, 474 cases since he has been in office, exclusive of this month. —— We learn that the Goldsboro Rifles, together with the Kinston, Washington and Beaufort military companies, have been invited to participate with the Newbern military in honoring our Confederate dead on May 10th. —— We learn from Mr. Louis Angell that the schooner Clara Merrick, from Philadelphia, with coal, bound for Wilmington, N. C., struck on the Diamond Shoals, near Hatteras, on Friday morning, at 12.30 o'clock and was totally wrecked.

— Charlotte Observer: Cadet Wm. E. Shipp, of this city, has been awarded the West Point cadetship by Col. Steele, he having been the successful competitor in the late examination. Young Shipp is just seventeen years old, is industrious and of high moral character. —— A passenger on the 8:30 train from Wilmington last evening reports that the body of a white man, who was killed the evening before near Monroe, was brought into the town yesterday. He gathered no particulars except that the man was shot down in the road by another man, with whom he got into a difficulty relative to the powers of speed of their respective horses, and that the slayer succeeded in making his escape.

— Hendersonville Courier: Bets of two to one are freely offered here that the passenger trains of the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad will run into Hendersonville by June 2d, 1879. —— On Tuesday, as the up-train of the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad was crossing the road near Landrums, a wagon was run into, one horse being killed and a mule badly injured. The driver miraculously escaped, but was badly frightened. —— Mr. Beale, of Arden, is erecting a large hotel near that place. It is, perhaps, the largest frame building in the western part of the State, and it is the purpose of Mr. Beale to have it completed and open for summer travel by the 1st of June.

— Raleigh Observer: Frank Fuller and Charles Upchurch, colored moonshiners, were up yesterday for examination before the U. S. Commissioner. Charles was discharged, but Frank Fuller was held to answer the charge of retailing liquor without license. He gave his recognizance. Mr. Joseph Fuller, of Granville, for selling unstamped tobacco, had the warrant suspended until a Johnston witness could be interviewed. Mr. Anderson Bradley, of Harnett, was up for having in possession unstamped manufactured tobacco. Held for trial in a bond of $500. He was also charged with refusing to allow officers to examine his premises, he being a retail dealer in tobacco. After making the same order in this case as above, the Commissioner's court rose.

— Oxford Torchlight: There are thirty white and forty-six colored schools in Granville. —— We regret to learn that during one of the windy days of last week the dwelling of Mr. M. D. Tanner, residing a few miles below Sassafras Fork, in this county, was completely destroyed by fire, together with all his furniture and wearing apparel. Loss about $2,500. No insurance. —— On Thursday last, while the wind was raging, a fire got underway on the plantation of Mr. Henry Bryan, at North Fork, and burnt his stables and a barn containing a considerable quantity of fodder. —— Job Taylor, an old colored man living near Oxford, left his house last Wednesday morning to return in the evening to find it in ashes. —— The cold weather played havoc with the prospect for fruit in this section.

— Charlotte Observer: The Rudisill Mining Company shipped a car load of gold sulpheret ore to Jersey City, Tuesday afternoon, to be worked by the process of reduction, in operation there. They are now making regular shipments, a car load at a time. The first sent there, as heretofore stated, turned out over $78 per ton, and the cost of raising and shipping is less than $30 per ton. The quality of the ore now being shipped is superior to that which gave the yield of $78. —— Five colored prisoners came near escaping from Lincoln jail Monday night. —— The indications are that there will be a large crowd in Charlotte on the 20th of May. —— The models, showing the manner in which Dr. C. F. Brem's new patent car-coupler works, have been on exhibition for several days past at Walter Brem's hardware store. The system upon which the coupler operates has been generally commended by practical railroad men, and they say there is no reason why it should not meet an immediate recognition.

Fire in Rockingham.

From a passenger on the Carolina Central Railway, last evening, we learn that the residence of Col. Walter L. Steele, at Rockingham, narrowly escaped destruction by fire on last Wednesday night. The kitchen, situated in about twenty feet of the house, caught fire and was entirely consumed, but by the almost superhuman efforts of the citizens the dwelling was saved.

Important Resolution.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, held Wednesday night, Alderman Flanner, from the Sanitary Committee, offered the following resolution, which was adopted;

Resolved, That any and all vessels arriving in the Cape Fear River from the West India Islands, South America, or any infected ports, whether they have had sickness on boardor not, will not be allowed to approach any nearer this city than the Quarantine Station, nor will be allowed to discharge or take in cargoes, or have any communication with the city whatever, until after the first of November.

Local Dots.

— Good Friday to-day.

— The storm signal was displayed yesterday.

— Dallas Chesnutt, recently river mail messenger, is now a route agent on the W. & W. R. R.

— The steamer Passport resumes her regular trips between this city and Smithville to-day.

Germania Lodge, No. 4, Knights of Pythias, of which he was a member, will attend the funeral of Dr. Burkhardt to-day.

— A gale of wind from the southwest prevailed here all day yesterday, and wafted the dust in clouds through the streets.

— The Produce Exchange and Banks will be closed to-day (Good Friday), and the indications are that very little business will be done.

Heavy rains along the line of the Carolina Central Railway last night. A little moisture here yesterday would have added much to the comfort of pedestrians.

— Plummer Smith, colored, had a hearing before Justice Hall, yesterday morning, on the charge of trespass, and was ordered to pay a fine of one penny and the costs.

— Josh Telfair, colored, had a hearing before Justice Hall, yesterday afternoon, on the charge of assault and battery upon one Reno Pearse, and was ordered to pay one penny and the costs.

— The only two cases for the Mayor's Court yesterday morning—Lewis Green, colored, charged with larceny, and Plummer Smith, colored, charged with trespass—were turned over to Justice Hall for trial.

— A friend informs us that he saw several almond trees at what is known as Barton's place, near Long Creek, a few days ago, and they had seemed to stand the cold better even than the peach trees. The trees in question are two years old and are about four feet high.

Criminal Court.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday:

State vs. Solomon Bowen, charged with assault and battery. Judgment suspended on the payment of costs.

State vs. James Heaton, charged with embezzlement. Motion by defendant to quash the bill of indictment. Motion granted. Appeal by the State.

State vs. James Heaton, charged with embezzlement. Verdict not guilty.

State vs. Jesse McLean, charged with false pretense, on trial Wednesday evening, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, and defendant was sentenced to two years in the State penitentiary.

State vs. Richard Brown, charged with an affray. Defendant found guilty.

In a number of cases nol pros. were entered, and others were continued over.

The grand jury came into court, presented their report, and were discharged with thanks.

Hold Theft.

Last night, a little before 11 o'clock, Mr. John Lutgen returned to his store on Water, between Market and Dock streets, and on visiting his bedroom upstairs found that some thief had entered his premises during his absence and borne off a trunk containing valuable papers. The clothing in the trunk was of course taken, and the wild manner in which garments and other articles were scattered about the room showed that the intruder had ransacked the apartment thoroughly. It is not known how or when the thief entered, nor is it yet ascertained whether or not he committed depredations in the store. The supposition at present is, however, that he was frightened off before fully accomplishing his work, or that his own guilty imagination conjured up a vision of officers about to effect his arrest.

Preparing Work for the Criminal Court.

Charles Eaden, colored, arrested a few days ago on the charge of stealing a turkey and a number of chickens from one Sylvester Taylor, residing on Hood's Creek, Brunswick county, about twelve miles from this city, on Saturday evening last, had a hearing before Justice Gardner yesterday afternoon. The evidence adduced was sufficient in the opinion of the magistrate to warrant his being held for the action of the Grand Jury, and he was required to give bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the present term of the Criminal Court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

Liability for Fast Driving of Fire Engines.

It is a matter of local interest in Wilmington that in a Philadelphia court of common pleas last week, the judge decided that the city was not liable for damages in a case where a citizen had been run over and injured by a fire engine which was being driven in a rapid and careless manner, the principle being that the public good required that the plaintiff should look to the individual who occasioned the injury, and not to the corporation within whose limits it occurred. Similar decisions have repeatedly been rendered heretofore in other cities.

Unmailable Letters.

The following are the unmailable letters remaining in the city postoffice:

A. W. Moye, P. D., Greenville, N. C.; Mrs. Susan Gipson, Coptan, O. O., Kendell street; Mrs. T. M. Jones, Catlett's Station, Va.; one blank envelope, stamped, with no address.

Death of Dr. Carl F. Burkhardt.

This community has rarely been more severely shocked than it was yesterday morning on the announcement of the sudden death of Dr. Burkhardt. He was a native of Hongen, Switzerland, but had resided either in Goldsboro or Wilmington for the last ten years, and in both places won largely upon the confidence and respect of those who knew him.

The circumstances of his death are specially touching. He was not in robust health, but too vigorous in constitution and too cheerful in spirit to have led his intimate friends to anticipate the sundering of the golden thread of life. Indeed, one of the last of his worldly acts was to make preparation for a trip up the Carolina Central Railway yesterday morning. At 12 o'clock Wednesday night he retired in apparent health; at 2 o'clock he was attacked by apoplexy, and in spite of the most efficient medical aids was, at 3 o'clock, in the chill embrace of death.

We do not propose to pronounce a panegyric on the deceased. He was a man of culture, gave promise of eminence in the profession of medicine, and both in scientific and social life were illustrated those manly virtues, endearing qualities and personal excellences which adorn the life and almost sanctify the death of all men of true nobility.

Accused of Stealing Pocket Book and Money.

Lewis Green, colored, was arraigned before Justice Hall yesterday morning, on the charge of stealing a pocket book containing five dollars in money from one Danie Highsmith. It appears from the evidence that Highsmith went to one of the booths in the Market House on Wednesday evening last and got his supper, at the conclusion of which he took out his pocket book and paid for the same, when he was suddenly seized with a spasm, to which he is subject, during the continuance of which it was alleged that Green took the pocket book, saying he was going to count the money, but that in reality he made off with it. In alluding to the affliction under which he was laboring when he lost his money, Highsmith stated that when he was stricken with the spasm he was (as usual) aware of what was going on around him, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief Lewis Green took the pocket book. The testimony of the other witnesses in the case was rather indefinite, but altogether it was deemed sufficient to warrant Justice Hall in requiring the defendant to give bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the present term of the Criminal Court, in default of which he was committed to the Sheriff.

Thermometer Record.

The following will show the state of the thermometer, at the stations mentioned, at 4.31 yesterday evening, Washington mean time, as ascertained from the daily bulletin issued from the Signal Office in this city:

A Just Compliment.

We understand that New Hanover Tent, No. 51, I. O. of Rechabites, at their regular meeting this week, passed a resolution returning thanks to Rev. B. R. Hall, pastor of Fifth Street M. E. Church, for his recent able and interesting lecture on Temperance. He certainly acquitted himself handsomely on the occasion referred to.

A Serious Charge.

Sam. Faison, colored, was brought here from Pender county, on Wednesday evening, under a commitment from Justice C. W. McClammy, Jr., and lodged in the county jail to await a hearing at the next term of the Superior Court of Pender on the charge of rape.

— Schooner Etta M. Barter, Barter, from this port, arrived at Boston on Tuesday last.

— The Norwegian barque Hera, Capt. Ommundsen, mentioned in a Galveston telegram in our last issue as having gone ashore on Bird Island, was an old acquaintance in our waters.

— The schooner Chas. A. Jones, Capt. Crowel, which sprang a leak off Frying Pan Shoals lightship during the heavy storm of March 30th, and which went down the next day, referred to in our telegraphic columns yesterday morning, arrived at this port on the 10th of March, and cleared for Bull River, S. C., on the 15th, in ballast.

— The Newbern Nut Shell of Tuesday says: "We learn from Mr. Louis Angell that the schooner Clara Merrick, from Philadelphia, with coal, bound for Wilmington, N. C., struck on the Diamond Shoals, near Hatteras, on Friday morning, at 12:30 o'clock, and was totally wrecked. The vessel sank so deep that the crew had to climb to the mast-heads, and even there an occasional wave washed over them. The schooner Maria Louisa, Capt. Gaskill, went to the rescue of the crew and all were saved. The Clara Merrick was a schooner of about 110 tons."
