THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXIV. - NO. 22.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, APRIL 19, 1879.

WHOLE NO. 3,646

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS: For Sale. A TWENTY-BARREL SUBMERSIBLE...

OUTLINES.

Gen. Roger A. Pryor will assist the District Attorney of Texas in prosecuting Currier for killing Porter, the actor...

We regret to learn that Major Robert H. Glass, editor of the Petersburg Post, is very sick.

Ninety-six members of the House are billed for a speech on the Legislative bill "Blow wind and crack your cheeks."

"Senator Dawes made a powerful speech," says an organ. "That is the heat joke of the season. Probably it only meant it was 'powerful' dull."

Gov. Hampton's arrival in Washington created quite a stir among his many friends. His welcome in the Senate could not have been warmer or more general, says a Dispatch special.

The codfish aristocracy of New York are in a painful state of expectancy over the rumor that the Duke of Argyll (father of Marquis of Lorne, son-in-law of Victoria), is to visit that city.

Byron said of himself that he went to sleep and woke up finding himself famous. He wrote poetry. The carpet-bagger editor of the Okolona (Miss.) States went to sleep and woke up finding himself infamous. He wrote lies.

The Gallia, the new and elegant Cunard steamer, has just reached New York. It is the 125th steamship built by this line. She was constructed at Glasgow, has 450 feet length and accommodations for 480 saloon passengers.

"The Republican majority at the recent election in Michigan was 4,000 on a total vote of 200,000." - Baltimore American, Top.

Grant carried Michigan in 1868 by 31,870 majority. In 1872 he carried it by 55,968. Hayes carried it by 45,542 majority in 1876. Now the Republicans get but 4,000 majority. They call that a great victory.

We notice that Democratic correspondents of newspapers refer to Judge Russell as a Republican. He will have to make a Greenback speech to know where he stands. His first bout in the House does not appear to have been a success. He will hardly say, "A HULLABOO BRAGG."

The Louisville Courier-Journal always a large sheet, frequently publishes a double number, and it is almost large enough for a bed covering. Its issue of the 15th is such a paper, and one great page is filled with editorials, more than would appear in three numbers of the New York Herald. It is a monster in size choke full of good matter.

Insurance Company of Milwaukee in his possession, and claims on notes...

If we are not mistaken this individual has been seen in Wilmington within a month or so. He "sold" the First National Bank of Nashville, and the First National Bank of Chattanooga.

A session in the Tennessee trial. There was a decided sensation in the trial of Rev. Mr. Talmage, at New York, Tuesday, when the Rev. Mr. Wood, a member of the Presbytery, testified that Mr. Crosby (one of the prosecutors) declared in conversation with him last summer that Mr. Talmage was a "liar and a scoundrel," and "a disgrace to the ministry."

The Living Game of Chess. New York, April 16. - The Academy of Music was well filled to-night, on the occasion of a game of chess with living pieces. The spectacle was a gorgeous one, and kings, queens, knights, bishops, and even pawns were arrayed in silks, satins, velvets and blazing jewels.

It Never Fails to Find the Fish of Franklin Reporter. THE WILMINGTON STAR. - This able daily has just entered upon its XXIV volume. We always turn to its "State Contemporaries" to find the best things which have been said by the press of North Carolina, for somehow it never fails to find the pick of current comment. Long may the Morning Star shine on North Carolina journalism.

Spirits Turpentine.

Milton will probably get its bank. Newbern is still afflicted with "walking matches." The Congland esse goes to the Supreme Court on appeal.

Mr. William J. Hodges, of Jones county, is dead, aged 50. Mr. Lewis Johnson, a valued citizen of Chatham, is dead, aged 81.

Mr. Henry B. Him, an esteemed citizen of Goldsboro, is dead, aged 49. Davidson College catalogue shows 100 matriculates for the collegiate year.

All right, brother Evans, Tom says Judge Keiser is a native of Virginia. How about his father? Washington Press: The prisoners in the county jail made a successful effort at escape on Sunday night.

Milton Chronicle: Only thirty-nine able bodied men and boys languishing in idleness on Main street last Saturday. All complaining of hard times.

Father Evans thinks that a "red legged grasshopper" carries not less than a gallon of water, by its intestines, to the water in its house. It is a native of Virginia. How about his father?

Local News.

The off-shore storm signal was displayed at the signal station yesterday. There is an unimpaired letter in the postoffice addressed to Mrs. Robinson, No. 60, Hamsted street.

Cooler northwesterly winds prevailed yesterday, and some apprehensions were felt of another frost. Ray, Mr. Yates has returned from Fayetteville. We regret to learn that his mother continues very ill.

There was only one case for the Mayor's consideration yesterday morning, and that was disposed of without a formal trial. There are now eight females confined in the city prison, all of whom are colored with one slight exception, so to speak.

Rats and mice have been among the wills in the office of the Superior Court Clerk, and have played and havoc with some of them. A junior Tent of Rechabites has been instituted in this city, with every prospect of doing good work in the cause of temperance.

We saw at Mr. Thos. H. Smith's, yesterday, some very fine Irish potatoes, which were taken from his garden in this city about a week ago. The Committee on Public Buildings of the Board of Aldermen met yesterday and opened the bids for repairing the City Hall, and the contract for the same was awarded to Mr. James F. Post.

Serious damage is reported by Capt. Harper, of the steamer Porpoise, to the rock-work at New Inlet, a portion of it having been washed away during the severe gale of Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

Capt. Walter Farlow, engineer of the steam fire engine "Adrian," who was injured at the fire on Wednesday morning, is still suffering severely, with very little perceptible improvement in his condition, which, however, is not regarded as serious.

Excitement on Market Street - The Sette Yesterday. Considerable excitement was created on Market street, yesterday afternoon, because of a difficulty between Mr. A. C. Wessell and a colored man, Henderson Davis. It is stated to us that the latter entered the store of the former, and while there claimed a cotton-bank, avowing that he had left it with the clerk, but the statement was stoutly denied by that official.

THE CITY.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. MUTTON - Spring overcoats. OPERA HOUSE - Aladdin matinee. P. CUMMINS & Co. - Bags, corn, &c. HALL & FRANKLIN - Flour, lard, &c. O. DRISCOLL & Co. - New music books.

To-day's Indications. For the South Atlantic States, diminishing northwest and southwest winds, slightly warmer and clearer weather, with stationary or veering barometer.

Magistrate's Court. W. H. Boyette was again brought before Justice Gardner, yesterday, on three separate charges of larceny, the first of which was for stealing pulpit lamps from the First (colored) Baptist church; the second for stealing bibles from St. Barnabas' (colored) Episcopal school house, and the third for stealing a coffee mill, Britannia's teapot, two bread-bowls, and other articles, of kitchen furniture, the property of Mr. C. H. Robinson. His bond was fixed at $300 in each case, and he was remanded to jail.

Disreputable Danzels, Mollie Harris and Fanny Gore, the latter a white woman, both denizens of "Paddy's Hollow," or its immediate neighborhood, were arrested last night at Mulberry street, yesterday morning, by Sergeant Davis and Officer Williams, charged with loud and boisterous cursing and swearing, using obscene language, and otherwise acting in a manner to shock the sensibilities of decent people in that vicinity. The two creatures were taken to the guard house and looked up to await a hearing before the Mayor this morning.

In Atlanta, MURKIN. - A man named James Louis, colored, who recently shot himself from the roof-top of Ladd's Johnson, on Water street, between Mulberry and Walnut, without asking permission of the man of wax and cord, was captured last night and lodged in the lock-up preliminary to trial to-day.

A Runaway and Hazy Escape.

A horse, with Harry attached, formerly the property of the late Dr. Burkhardt, got frightened near the corner of Ninth and Chesnut streets, yesterday morning, and ran away. The driver at the time was standing at the horse's head engaged in adjusting the bridle, and the animal started before he had got the bit in his mouth. The consequence was that Capt. Bremers, of the German barque Lydia Pascher, who was in the buggy, was unable to check him, upon discovering which, and fearing every moment in the absence of a steering apparatus, that his craft would be on its beam-ends or stranded against some tree or fence, to its own peril and discomfiture, leaped from the vehicle, getting a severe fall and some slight bruises, but sustaining no material damage. At this moment a lady, who was on the sidewalk, just ahead of the frightened animal, realized the peril in which she was placed, and attempted to escape by entering an open gateway, but before she could do so a colored girl inside the yard closed it and cut off her retreat. The horse, plunging at full speed, was now within a few feet of her, and she only escaped instant death by closing up against the fence as compactly as humanity would permit. Her clothes were absolutely brushed by the passing vehicle.

The horse then continued his course down to McRae street, turning the corner of which the top of the buggy came in contact with the upper part of a small shade tree, severing it in twain above the box which protected it and damaging the buggy top somewhat, and then running to a point near the middle of the block, when the vehicle came in contact with an oak tree and broke the shafts. The horse was finally stopped on Sixth, between Red Cross and Walnut streets, by Daniel Ellis, engineer of the Star printing presses, who delivered him to the driver.
