OUTLINES.

The reading of the veto message in the House yesterday elicited very little attention even from Republicans. The loss of the British steamer Nile and most of her crew is cable.

Before what we are now writing is before the reader, we may have received news from Washington of a definite character as to what the Democrats will do next. If such news is not forthcoming, however, the following from the Washington letter to the Baltimore Sun will be interesting to our readers.

Asheville Citizen: There still remains in the county some 50,000 pounds of tobacco, to be shipped as soon as the weather will permit of its being cured. The road from here to Warm Springs is said to be in a wretched condition.

Greenville Express: Bishop Lyman preached in the Episcopal church at this place on Thursday morning and night last. He confirmed six persons.

For the South Atlantic States, rising barometer, north and west winds, slightly cooler, and partly cloudy weather, are the indications for this section for to-day.

At the last session of the Board of County Commissioners met Monday. The only business of importance was the appointment of Assessors.

It is a pity to hide away as able and brilliant a journalist as A. C. Buell in a clerkship. Dulmer men can fill such places.

Statesville has had a lively mad-dog excitement. Maj. Wm. M. Robbins will deliver the Memorial address at Statesville.

Raleigh News: North Carolina has made a proud record in the great political debate in Congress. Capt. Kitchin has earned another laurel.

Dr. B. S. Traywick, a well known and highly respected citizen of Monroe, Union county, was found dead on Tuesday morning lying on a lounge in his dental office.

During his stay here Sampson became quite intimate with several colored women, and visited Jefferson's house several times during the absence of the latter.
