OTTLEVES.

The Senate considered the Health bill. The consideration of the Coinage bill was postponed in the House. --- The House passed the Army bill again, by a vote of 130 to 110, but the necessary two-thirds was lacking; only three Greenbackers voted with the Democrats. - Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, long editor of Godey's Lady's Book, died in Philadelphia at a very advanced age. - Heavy floods sgain in Hungary; the water has risen in the town of Szegedin. - Lord Falmouth's Charibert, who won the 2,000 guineas stakes Thursday, is now the favorite for the Derby stakes. - Betting is now against Parole for the Chester Trades' cup on the 7th - New York Longshoremen have struck; this inconveniences somewhat the companies. -- Various movements of royal personages are cabled. The Cologne Gazette furnishes a gloomy picture of affairs at St. Petersburg and other points under the new police regulations established in Russia; it is military despotism in its worst and most humiliating phases, and the greatest excitement and fear pervades the Czar and his satellites. - During April the national public debt increased $1,995,216. — The Industrial Exhibition was formally opened at Berlin vesterday. - Mr. ¡Lorillard's Papoose yesterday won the first spring two-year old stakes, over the Newmarket course; there was much enthusiasm over the result. -Representative Kitchin applied the lash to ex-Judge Russell yesterday in remarks in the House of Representatives, -- Gen. Grant has arrived at Hong Kong in good health. The State closed its testimony in the Cox-Alston case and the defence made a statement and examined witnesses yesterday. - New York markets : Money 3@4 per cent.; cotton quiet and steady at 117@12 cents; flour without decided change; wheat a shade firmer; corn fairly active at 42@43 cents; spirits turpentine dull at 291 cents; rosin dull at $1.371.

WHAT IS SAID IN WASHINGTON. the talk in Congressional circles. Much caucusing may now be expected. Whether the Democrats will vote supplies until the regular session and then renew the fight, or refuse to yield one inch, is yet to be determined. Many opinions of prominent members have found their way already in the papers. Morrison's opinion is thus given in the special to the Richmond State:

"Morrison, one of the shrewdest of Dem ocratic politicians, says the veto could not have come in a form more sure to unite the Democrats and strengthen their resolu-tion to fight out the battle against centrali-zation and repression of the popular will at the ballot-box. The President has reduced it to a square fight upon the issue of elec-tions free or elections controlled by Federal authority, with all its machinery of an army and marshals with their deputies."

Atkins, of Tennessee, who was thought to be rather weak-kneed, is out strongly against all compromise. He says Hayes now crouches at the feet of Conkling, and that his message will hand him down in history as a complete imbecile and political parasite cringing at the feet of the most corrupt element of the Republican party."

Other Senators and Representatives talk in the same strain. Thurman is delighted "with the turn affairs has taken." He says the majority will go on as they have begun and camp in Washington until the odious laws are repealed.

Senator Wallace, Chairman of the Senate Democratic caucus, says the President has furnished sufficient reasons upon which the Democrats. may stand where they are 2011

The Republicans are gratified of course, but criticise the de facto's roundabout way. His details weaken him they think.

The House yesterday again passed the army bill by a vote of 120 to 110, but this availed nothing of course, as it requires a two-thirds majority to override the veto of the President. Nine Greenbackers voted with the Republicans, and only three with the Democrate outlone but sadre seeme o

Col. Walter L. Steele is not only appreciated at home but abroad. The most cordial recognition of his abilities we have seen was in papers published in distant portions of the Union We find, for instance, copied into the Washington letter to the of this county gives a very encouraging Raleigh News, the following from the Kansas City Times:

"Out of the great number of speeches delivered in the House on the two Appropriation bills, that made by Steele, of North Carolins, was the best of any member from the South. It ought to be read by every woman, man and child, North, South, East and West. It was bold and manly; courteously sarcastic, cutting whereever it touched like a polished blade of the sharpest steel. The vindication of of the sharpest steel. The vindication of his State was truly patriotic and statesman-ly. Since the retirement of Martin I. Townsend from Congress, Steele wears the belt for wit and busion. Lorillard is again victorious. wo year old Papoose won. were twenty five subscribers. There were four horses in the race. for America. Papoose is sister to Parole, and had the advantage from the start.

The New York Sun has information that the Democrats will back down. It comments thus:

"They have not courage enough, as i seems, to stand fast even against the veto of a fraudulent President. Very well. What a ridiculous, boncless thing the De-mocratic party can be made to appear!"

The political demands on our space o day have forced us to omit our usual departments on our second page.

At the conclusion of the testimeny the defendant, George Davis, was ordered to give a justified bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the approaching term of the U. S. District Court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

The witness, Godbolt, was also required o give bond in the sum of $200 for his ppearance, which was furnished.

Warrants were issued yesterday for the arrest of two colored boys, named Jim Davis and Charles Williams, on the conlession of the former, who is now in fail awaiting trial on the charge of larceny, that he and Williams had robbed a mail pouch in Charleston, S. C. Williams was locked up with his alleged companion in iniquity to await a hearing before Commissioner McQuigg, at 10 o'clock this morning, at which time some idea may be formed as to the amount of reliance to be placed in the "confession" alluded to.

The Galveston Bound Dredges. The Key of the Gulf, of April 19th, announces the arrival there on the preceding day of the Fobes' dredging fleet. The Key West writer grows facetious over the appearance of the little squadron, which, according to him, was at first supposed to consist of Spanish iron-clads, meditating an attack on the Cuban colony at the Key. The two tugs, the John Bacon, Captain Denkin, and the M. B. Curtis, Captain Lewis, with the dredges and the lighters, had an exceedingly lucky passage from the Cape Fear to Fernandina, and thence down the Florida coast. To take the huge and unwieldly dredge along the coast during the winter was a serious enterprise, but it has fortunately been successful. At last advices the dredges had reached Pen-

In some cases hard times was the inspiring motive, but in others the reason is said to have been the demands of the license law. We do not understand, in a solitary case, that the warfare of the total abstinancers has produced this shut-door fever; indeed, the best authorities intimate that ripening mint, luscious strawberries, and abundant los and milk, has rather given impetus to the beverage trade. We therefore quote the market as wanting steadiness, with buyers and sellers apart on the "short" question. The tendency of the alcoholic was generally downward.

the indications for this section for to-day. The Fees of County Officers.

The General Assembly, at its last session, passed a bill entitled "An act to regulate the fees of certain county officers in Put county," the popular construction of which was that it had universal application and was so intended. The effect of the previsions of this law, as generally applied, would be to cut down the fees of such county. officers as Sheriff, Clerks of Court and Register of Deeds to a very insignificant amount, none of whom would be able to live on their salaries, besides reducing the pay of tales jurors to fifty cents a day. The Raleigh Observer published the act, and gave an opinion in its editorial columns sustaining the view of its construction as swamp, he (witness) going with him at his above set forth; which had the effect to request, and then filled the bag with mud still more firmly impress the people of the State with the idea that its application would be universal. Solicitor Moore, of our Criminal Court, however, took a different view of the matter, his opinion being that it could be made applicable to Pitt county only. In other words, that the law was to be construed in accordance with its title, and, therefore, advised the County Commissioners of New Hanover to go on in the old way, regardless of the law, which he was clearly of the opinion had no appli> cation to our county officers. 121011 11 Upon this construction of the statute the members of the Wilmington Bar differed in opinion. Solicitor Moore, however, took the opinion of the Attorney General, and that official concurred with the Solicitor, as will be seen by the following, a copy of which we obtained upon application to one of the interested parties at the Court House vesterday:

"STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, "OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL, "RALEIGH, April 29, 1879. "My Dear Sir: The act referred to in your letter is in Chap. 293, Laws 1879, and think, by its title, is to be taken as only 'An Act to Regulate the Fees of Certain Officers in Pitt County.

Yours truly, Twos. S. KENAN. "B. R. Moore, Esq., Solicitor for the State. This settles the question of the construction of the statute until it is decided in the Courts, and Solicitor Moore deserves a great deal of credit for thus promptly bringing it to an issue. The result is undoubtedly very satisfactory to the various county officers throughout the State, among whom it was creating quite a stir, and a great deal of indignant comment.
