Senator Kellogg's case will be examined into afresh. Further testimony will be taken before a committee, and persons and papers will be Columbus Upson, Democrat, was elected by 2,000 majority over his Greenback opponent, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of G. Schleicher, Democrat, for the Sixth Texas District.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Faust, of the Episcopal Church, who resides in Wash ington, has united with the Roman Catholic Church. The Richmond State suggests that this "beats Bayard Taylor's translation of Faust."

A good suggestion comes from the Richmond Dispatch. It will test

Hayes fairly. It says : "The President, in his veto message, said that all good men ought to unite in remedying the defects of the election laws. The Democrats have a good chance to test his sincerity. Let them pass forthwith a bill to require that one-half of the deputy marshale shall be Democrats selected by Democrats. Try him."

The Joint Democratic caucus is composed of the following persons Representatives Chalmers, Carlisle, Cox, Ewing, Springer, Tucker, Atkine, Clymer, Reagan, Bicknell, Phelps, and Senators Thurman-Whyte, Kernan, Saulsbury, Jones of Florida, Bailey, Lamar, Voorhees, Five Representatives and five Senators are from the South.

The Philadelphia Times is of the opinion that Capt. Kitchin is a member of the Pickwick Club. It has some fun over what occurred when the Captain went for Russell so vigorously, pronouncing his speech "infamously false and slanderous," and acusing him of "violating every rule of decency and propriety," and that too after he had said "that he meant to say nothing personal." It is anxious to see when Russell gets back whether he too "is worthy of membership in the Congressional Pickwickian Club."

-Tom Evans tells of a clever citizen of Reidsville, who was inveigled to New York under a bogus commission sent from Washington making him a detective in counterfeit money, and offering him $10,000 to work the thing right for the Govern-ment. He was next advised to go at once to New York and stop at a certain hotel, also giving the rendezvous of the sharpers, and to watch his cerks and try and get the drop on them. He did go. Said clever citizen returned, minus $500. He was not "clever" in the English sense.

The New York Herald's Washington special says that "the Appropri ation bills will be passed at this ses sion in regular order, without the riders, if that is made necessary by vetoes, and that if this is not done by the Demograts as a body, it will be done by Democratic and Republican votes together. It follows that the ery of "revolution" need not be heeded by anybody. It is an evidence that the Republicans would like to carry the next election on a false issue, and that is all.

HE MORNING STAR

VOL. XXIV,--NO. 35

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, MAY 4, 1879.

THE CITY.

THE WASHINGTON OUTLOOK. Up to Friday afternoon the various opinious were crystalizing into a shape somewhat different from that which the more extreme men favored. The STAR's midnight dispatch of the 2nd stated that it was believed that the House cancus had rejected the report of the Joint Committee that caucused secretly on that day. We avail ourselves of the Richmond STAR's correspondent for an account of what was done in the secret Joint Caucus. It seems that enough has leaked out to gratify curiosity. They looked the danger in the face, surveyed the whole field, including 1880, and then concluded that it would not do to adjourn Congress without making appropriations. There is no danger of the Army Appropriation bill being introduced out of time, because it is in the hands of a discreet committee, and no individual member can introduce it. It was decided by this Joint Caucus that a new bill should be drawn by Senator Eaton and Representatives Carlisle and Chalmers (one Northern and two Southern,) "providing for the repeal of the law authorizing the use of the military at the pells, but leaving to the United States civil authorities the power to keep the peace at the polls, and that it should be introduced in the House at once and passed, if possible, without debate." It was believed that Hayes would sign such a bill. The correspondent says:

"The President is represented to have said to a prominent member of the House since his veto message was published, that he did not believe there could exist in times of peace any circumstances to warrant the President in using troops to interfere with elections, but he did insist that the hands of the President ought not in time of war to be tied by any law, recalling the fact that the use of military to protect the polls during the earlier years of the war was all that prevented Maryland, Kentucky and Missouri from leaving the Union. The committee will also recommend that the Senate proceed to pass the Legislative Appropriation bill, including the political clauses, and give the President a chance to approve or veto. In the event of a veto they may then separate the objectionable sections and pass them in a modified form; but they think it will be time enough to consider a compromise on that when shall have vetoed the Legislative bill."

The Democrats are soothing themselves with one view that really has no little comfort in it. It is that a Democratic Senate and House will count the electoral votes, and where States are carried by military interference their votes will be thrown out. This beats Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup immensely. They even say that elections will be tainted where the deputy marshal law is used corruptly. Is it a boomerang or a back-action sword?

The Baltimore Sun's special from Washington of 1st says that the Democrats are enjoying a feeling of perfect satisfaction. It says:

"From the utterances of Democratic leaders to-day your correspondent feels perfectly justified in stating that nothing very dreadful will happen whether there are more vetoes or not; and that the Democratic ocrats most certainly do not consider that they will have placed themselves at a disthey will have placed themselves at a dis-advantage when everything if over. On the contrary, they believe that they will occupy the point of vantage before the country. The army will not be starved, neither will the United States courts be compelled to shut up for want of funds. The appropriations proper and necessary for the support of the army and to defray the legitimate expenses of the administra-tion of justice will be made, and all the necessary expenses of the executive branch of the government will be made. But if the President is determined to hang on to the machinery and appliances of the odious election laws the agents selected to carry on the work will have to labor for love."

The House will make no more appropriations for election supervisors and deputy marshals. The Depart ment of Justice will have no funds with which to terrorize and bulldoze the voters of the country. The

"Care will now be taken that no such discretion can be exercised, as every item of appropriation for the Department of Justice will be made so specific that it cannot be diverted to any other purpose."

The witty paragraphist of the Richmond State, referring to Lorillard's victories in England says that "if this thing goes on, in the language of Shakespeare, merry England will soon be crying out, 'A horse, a horse; my kingdom for a horse."

- Mr. J. M. Tesh has a row of young peach trees around his garden, about three feet from the fence. The rew on the north side exposed to the south and protected on the north by the fence, is in full leaf; the row on the east end has leaves not half so large as on the north side, and the row on the south side has not even budded, but is in a perfectly healthy state. The trees are all of the same kind and age, says the Reidaville Times.

When you see a baby, which you know to have suffered for a long time with Summer Complaint or Dysentery, suddenly improve and grow fat and healthy, you can rest assured that Dr. Bull's Baby Syruphas been used.

At this rate Wilmington will seen have a military organization of whose numbers she can beast with as much propriety as she can of the Company's proficiency, and the proud, historic associations that surround it. We hope the STAR's efforts will stil, further fire the patriotic hearts of ou younger cittzens until all of our companies shall have attained to full ranks and the highest standard of military excel-

Charged with Perjury. Hampton Grey and Mary Jane Grey were arrested yesterday on the charge of perjury, and ordered to give a justified bond in the sum of $100 each for their appearance before Justice Gardner to-morrow morning. Both the parties are colored, and the oftences are alleged to have been committed while giving in testimony in some assault and battery cases before J. C. Hill, J. P.

Carolina Yacht Club. The annual meeting of the Carolina Yacht Club for the election of efficers, to inaugurate preparations for the season's races, &c., will be held at the Mayor's office, at the City Hall, to-morrow (Monday) evenmembers of the company in contesting for ing, at 8 e'clock. A full attendance of the members is requested.

Israel Jones, colored, charged with stealing a tub of lard from Mr. D. L. Gore, had a preliminary examination before Justice Wagner yesterday merning. In addition to his own confession that he took the lard, Mr. Hanby, who keeps store on the corner of Eighth and Dock streets, recognized the defendant as the man from whom he purchased some lard on Saturday of last week, and Mr. Gore's clerk identified him as a man who was doing some work in the store on the day previous, and upon whom suspicion had rested. We learn that there is also evidence (but it was not introduced yesterday) to show that he offered the lard for sale to a storekesper over the railroad, and that the tub containing it at the time had Mr. Gore's name on it. He changed it to another vessel, however, before he offered it for sale to Mr. Hanby.

Defendant was ordered to give bond i the sum of $100, justified, for his appear ance at the next term of the Criminal Court, and, upon failing to furnish the same, was committed to jail.

The meat Jones had in his possession at the time he was arrested, and which he was trying to sell at a price much less than its value, was a thick piece of pork, weighing twenty-seven pounds, and is at the office of Justice Gardner awaiting identification. We alluded to it in our last as a side of bacon, which was a mistake.
