The sensation created over Henry Ward Beecher at Memphis, when 4,000 people rushed to hear him lecture, is rather disgusting. The people of that city can never complain of or censure any demonstrations over questionable characters elsewhere. People from Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee gathered to hear a bad but gifted man display his powers. People who are consumed by prurient curiosity, or are victims of low tastes, rasher prefer to patronize men of dangerous reputation, it appears. Beecher is a success, but the South suffers.

It is the impression in Washington that the Legislative bill now before Congress will be passed, with its riders, next, and then, after it is vetoed, to hold a caucus. The caucus committees are now busy at work arranging a plan of action. The following paragraph from a Washington special to the Baltimore Sun reveals the fact that the Stalwarts are in high favor at the White House:

"A large number of stalwart Republicans, including Senators Chandler and Logan and Representatives Frye, Conger, Joyce and others, were at the White House to-day. With the exception of the brief time occupied in Cabinet session the President devoted most of the day to these gentlemen and the reception of their congratulations and praise over the course which he has pursued. The entente cordiale between the President and the radical element of his party is apparently now fully restored, and the stalwarts, who have for more than two years made a point of denouncing him without stiat, publicly and privately, now have nothing but honeyed phrases for him."

According to the Richmond State's account of the Russell-Kitchin affair, "it was scandalous but very amusing." Judge Russell is represented as saying: "Russell referred to Kitchin as one entitled to be called a gentleman by courtesy of the House, and reaffirmed his former statement that Kitchin was sent to Congress by Democratic fraud in throwing out hundreds of votes upon the flimsiest pretexts, he would denounce these frauds because they were a shame to the State, and his colleague was mistaken if he supposed he could step him by cutting capers before the country.

o the area before the Speaker's desk, aunched at once into a furious denunciaion of scallawags, and Russell, in particular. He said Russell belonged to a class whom the Republicans despise in their hearts. He had maligned, slandered and damned his native State, people, his race, &c., and oined the rag-tag and bob-tail of creation. He did not associate with the better class of people in his own State, and was not respected by them.

"Kitchin strutted back and forth in front of the Republicans, gesticulating wildly and becoming more excited the longer he spoke. He was several times interrupted by points of order raised by Democrats. and the Speaker requested him to speak from his place in the House. He went to his desk and got out a book, and suddenly inquired whether Russell had not been court-martialed and dismissed from the Confederate service? The answer came quickly, and brought down the House. tussell said: 'How long will you give me o answer that ? I was court-martialed and dismissed from the Confederate service for whipping a conscript officer, and I was restored by order of Jeff. Davis.'

"Kitchin's discomfiture was complete. He hesitated, started to say something, abruptly shut his mouth, laid the book down and began to turn over the leaves hurriedly. In the meantime almost everybody was laughing at him, and Russell stood grinning in the opposite aisle. Before Kitchin recovered himself he was cut off by a point of order, and his reply was lost to the world."

There is a rumor of a challenge from Kitchin in Washington, but there is probably no truth in it. Martin says there will be no fight.

BURGLARY.

On Wednesday night Glasgow Hill. colored, was arrested on the charge of burglariously entering the store of Mr. David R. Canady, located on the southeast corner of Eighth and Market streets, and yesterday morning Irving Washington, colored, was arrested on the charge of being accessory before the fact. The parties were lodged in the guard house, and at the usual hour for the assembling of the City Court yesterday morning, they underwent a preliminary examination before Mayor Fishblate. The case of Glasgow Hill was first called.

and W. A. Walker, T. A. Oglesby, S. Petteway and W. H. Goodman were duly sworn as witnesses, officer Woebse, who was also a witness, not being present.

Mr. Walker was put on the stand and testified that he was in the charge of Mr. Canady's store, and that it was his custom to sleep in the up-stairs of the building every night. He had been missing articles from the store for sometime, entrance to it having been effected four times to his knowledge. He had every reason to believe that the thief got in the first time by the use of a key (false or otherwise) to the door. To prevent a repetition of this way of getting in witness said he had an iron bar placed across the door, secured by staples. The other entrances were made through a window, which was also secured by an iron bar, but the key to the bolt had been removed some time during the day, when, it is supposed, the store was full of customers. On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Walker noticed that the key was missing from the bolt which secured the bar to the window, and the idea occurred to him that now was the time to catch the burglar. He accordingly got a friend (a Mr. Smith) to go down the street late Wednesday evening and see if he could get a policeman. Mr. Smith met up with Capt. Goodman, who, after hearing Mr. S.'s statement, immediately conferred with Chief Brock, by whose direction Officers H. Woebse and S. Patteway were taken from separate beats and placed in the store to watch for the thief, Messrs. Walker and Oglesby being with them. Just as the clock was striking the hour of midnight a noise was heard at the window, the bolt was withdrawn, the shutter opened, and a person cautiously entered and advanced quickly in the direction of the place where the men were concealed. At the proper moment Mr. Walker suddenly struck a match and flashed the light upon the intruder, and at the same moment Officers Woebse and Petteway seized their prisoner. As the first named officer grabbed Hill with both hands the latter seized his club and endeavored to wrest it from his grasp, but Officer Weebse managed to retain possession of it and gave the prisoner a blow over the Witness stated that among the articles stolen were four watches. When searched there was found on the prisoner a key that was attached to the guard of the first watch stolen, and also a watch that Hill confessed he had stolen. He further confessed, of his own free will and accord, that he had broke into Mr. Canady's store on two separate occasions. He first declared that no one was with him, but afterwards confessed that he had an accomplice in the person of Irving Washington. The watch found on the prisoner's person was exhibited in Court and identified by witness as one of those stolen from a drawer in Mr. Canady's store.

The other witnesses were examined, but nothing new was elicited.

Hill, in reply to questions from the Mayor, said he was seventeen years old, and resided on Orange, between Sixth and Seventh streets.

Defendant was ordered to be turned over to the Sheriff, without the benefit of bail, to be held for trial at the next term of the Criminal Court, and the witnesses were duly recognized for their appearance, including officer Weebse, who had now come into Court.

Irving Washington was ordered to give bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at Court, in default of which he was committed to jail along with his companion. He is also quite young. He was arrested by Capt. Goodman and Sergeant Davis in a lot on Market, between Eighth and Ninth Subsequent to the above proceedings Hill was visited at the county jail by Mr. Walker and officer Woebse, when, in answer to inquiries propounded, he stated that he had given or loaned one of the watches to a colored drayman by the name of McFarland. The latter was afterwards visited by Mr. W. and the officer, and a chain which belonged to one of the stolen watches was seen and recognized by Mr. W. protruding from McFarland's pocket. He delivered up the watch, stating that he had purchased it from Hill on condition that everything turned out all right, he not to pay for it until he was satisfied on this score. This chain, Mr. Walker says, was stolen the first time the store was entered, while the watch attached to it was stelen the third time it was broken into.

Among the articles stolen altogether were four watches, eight dollars in money, one razor, one pecket knife, one bottle of pickles, one box of snuff and cigars and WHOLE NO. 3,669
