Father Ryan, the gifted poet-Priest of the South, is now preparing volume of poems for the press. He now resides at Mobile, Alabama.

"H. C. W.," Rockingham, N. C. in reply to our inquiry concerning the authorship of the saying, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," asks if it was not John Wesley who first said 11? We know that this eminent divine and organizer said this, but our impression is that it is of older datebence our inquiry.

Senator Gordon thinks that the Democrats have really gained by the protracted contest and in demanding the repeal of the obnoxious laws. He says that "in no other way could the attention of the country have been so effectually directed to the press ing necessity for legislation on these grave subjects."

The movement originated with Northern Democrats, but the South stood by them. Their course will be a complete vindication against the charges which the Stalwarts have brought against them in and out of Congress.

He thinks the South is safe in any event, whether the laws are repealed or not.

Judge Buckner, of Missouri, according to the Washington correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch, says it is a safe rule both in war and in politics never to do anything your enemy desires you to do. It is somewhat on this ground that Southern Democrats keep their tempers when goaded by such fellows of the baser sort as Conkling, Edmunds, Blaine and the remainder of the Radical matadors. They do not propose to make campaign thunder for the Radicals in 1880. The Dispatch's special says: "Three weeks ago it was difficult to find a Democrat who would admit openly that the Army bill should be passed pure and simple, if Mr. Hayes finally refused to sign it if coupled with the restrictions, but the feeling to-day is that after having exhausted every honorable means to repeal the ob-noxious laws, and failed by no fault of the Democratic party of either House, it would be wrong for the Democrats to go home without providing in some way for the Army as well as the Departments."

The Board decided that Trustees for the several schools in the county be appointed at the next meeting.

A communication was received and read from Dr. Thomas F. Wood, Secretary of the North Carolina Board of Health, in regard to the organization of a County Board of Health, as follows:

To the Chairman of the County Commissioners

DEAR SIR:-Your attention is hereby called to the "Act supplemental to the Act creating a State Board of Health," herewith transmitted, and especially to Art. 5th and 6th, directing the manner in which the County Boards of Health shall be organized, and the provisions for caring for the sick in the charitable and penal institutions of the county of New Hanover.

Your early compliance with the law earnestly desired.

Robbery in the Country.

The residence of Mr. F. A. Montgomery, at Barnum's Creek, in this county, was entered and robbed on Saturday morning last of a small sum of money, two suits of his own clothing, a quilt, a quantity of clothing belonging to his wife, a razor and strop, and other articles. It appears that Mr. Montgomery had left for Wilmington that morning and his wife was absent somewhere in the neighborhood, the premises being left in charge of a colored employe, who was out in the field at the time the robbery was committed. Upon Mr. Montgomery's return home he found that some thief had entered through a window, with the result already mentioned. The supposed perpetrator of the theft, who wears a shoe of very peculiar shape, was tracked to the neighborhood of McIlhenny's

The Champion Collard.

Speaking of big collards, a corresponden at Fremont writes that Mr. H. W. Godwin, living about one mile from that place, found in his cotton field last year a collard that "measured thirteen feet in diameter and any of your readers doubt the statement you can be furnished with certificates."

Well, that will do. We shall adopt that measurement for our standard during the remainder of the season, and respectfully give notice to all interested in the collard question that nothing short of it will be mentioned in our columns.

Local Freight Trains.

It may be a matter of interest to the mercantile portion of the community, at least, to know that the local freight trains on both the Wilmington & Weldon and the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroads, are now run tri-weekly, leaving this city on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, there being no local freight train on the W. & Railroad on Mondays, Wednes-days and Fridays, as formerly. Capture of a Stolen Horse. We learn that on Saturday last, about sundown, a negro rode up to the house of Mr. Charles Maloy, who lives five miles below Shoe Heel, mounted on a fine horse, whose manœuvres were directed with a grape vine bridle. The said descendant of Ham is described as having whiskers all over his face, but otherwise we have no facts by which to photograph him. However, it was suspicioned that he was wrongfully in possession of the equine, and accordingly he was arrested and left in charge of citizens. About daylight Sunday morning Mr. Maloy left the crowd to make preparations to take the solitary unknown horseman to jail, and during his absence the new comer made his escape. He left of Mr. Maloy. The negro confessed that he stole the animal, but could not or would not give the name of the owner. He made his way, it was ascertained after his departure, in the direction of Clarkton.

Excursion of Cornet Concert Club. No other than the word "multitude" adequately describes the company that embarked on the steamer Passport last evening for a trip down the river, under the auspices of the Cornet Concert Club. It was such a turn out as gave full recognition to the claims of that musical organization to the purse and admiration of this community. The boat was literally packed with human freight, and we are assured that the enjoyment of all was secured by the management, The weather was fine, the night almost as bright as day, the music choice, and the dancing-why, it was begun early and kept up late without the least betraval granted the use of the old Armory room in of weariness. The excursion was, beyond comparison, the most numerously patronized affair of the kind since the dawn of 1879. The party returned shortly after midnight, not an accident or mishap having marred the pleasure of the outward or inward voyage.

County Board of Health. The County Commissioners acted wisely

yesterday when they decided to organize at once the County Board of Health provided for by act of the Legislature. It will be composed of the Mayor of this city, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, the City Surveyor, and the licentiates of the State Board of Medical Examiners resident in the county. They will elect the Superintendent of Health for this city, and we trust, now that the season for the development of scourges is approaching, that an effort will be made to put in operation all the machinery possible for the pro-tection of our port and people against both endemic diseases and disorders that may be introduced here.

3 P. M. to 6 P. M.), to receive the Tax Lists of the residents of this Township.

As a reassessment of the entire Real Estate of this City has to be made within a limited period, I shall be compelled to close the listing at the expiration of the 20th day (June 24th, 1879), and give this timely notice that the responsibility of annoyance and extra expense, caused by failure to list, may rest where it properly belongs.

SECTION 3, MACHINERY ACT.

"At the time and place appointed by the assessors, the tax-payer shall attend and shall file with the assessor, on a blank to be prepared and fursors, the tax-payer shall attend and shall file with the assessor, on a blank to be prepared and fur-nished by the State treasurer, a verified statement of all the property of every kind and description owned by the tax-payers. The tax-payer shall also swear to the true value of all his property and choses in action, except land, which shall be valued by the assessor."

"Each person required to list property shall make out and deliver to the Township Assessors a statement verified by his cath, of all the real and personal property, moneys, credits, investments in bonds, stocks, joint stock companies, annuities, or otherwise, in his possession or under his control, on the first day of June, either as owner or holder thereof, or as parent, husband, guardian, trastee, executor, administrator, receiver, accounting officer, partner, agent, factor, or otherwise." SECTION 4, MACHINERY ACT. agent, factor, or otherwise."

Owners of Real or Personal Property must list themselves, not through or by an Agent or Attorney.
