The sentence of Miss Duer to pay a fine of $500 is very light if she was really guilty of manslaughter. If she is the slayer of Miss Hearn with malice prepense she deserves a sharper fate. If she is only an accidental slayer then she ought to have been

We regret to learn by telegraph that the Prince Imperial has met an early death in South Africa. He was slain by the Zulus. This will be a sad blow to the widowed mother at Chiselhurst, and will sound the death knell of the Napoleonic party in France.

"The Best Speaker's Medal" of the Washington Literary Society of Randolph Macon College, Virginia, was awarded at the recent Commencement to Mr. W. W. Sawyer of North Carolina. Mr. C. H. had a party so put beyond its power to claim political honesty as the Republican. He was not surprised at the position Conger had taken, but he had never before known a man in either party bold enough to defend political assessments; never before knew a man to so glory in his own shame. He did not believe he correctly represented the people of Michigan in committing them to the indorsement of year 1878. such political corruption."

A little breeze was created in the Senate the other day by Senator Windom, of Minnesota. He is the Radical author of the negro movement to Kansas. In the debate on the Army bill he showed that the troops were used at the polls in Indiana in 1864, and gave the reason of it. We copy the Richmond State's account:

"Windom enquired why troops were sent to the polis in Indiana at that time. McDonald said he didn't know. Windom proceeded to inform him by reading from report of Jacob Thompson to Judah P. Benjamin (the original of which is on file among the Confederate archives in the War Depastment), in which he described the plan for capturing the Government of Indiana and turning it over to the Confederacy, and mentioned both Voorhees and McDonald as in sympathy with the conspiracy. The reading produced something of a sensation, and will probably elicit re-plies from both of the Indiana Senators."

There is a serious disagreement among the Democrats over the Warner Silver bill. Thus far the breach widens. The Richmond State's special of 18th says:

"A prominent Southern Senator says 'the position of the party is not at all satisfac-Both sides are so obstinate there seems to be no probability of agreement.'

The moderate Senators think it unwise to thrust aside such a pure and able man as Bayard. It will be seen that the view of the STAR of two days ago is in harmony with what was said by leading Democratic Senators. We quote from the State:

Others reiterated this view, and suggest ed the danger of causing the withdrawal of the hard money wing of the party, and the possible loss of New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut. It would be better to keep the money question in the background and fight the enemy upon issues upon which the party are a unit. To do otherwise would be to endanger the prospect of a victory at the polls."

In his throat were discovered suspicious looking cuts, which Messrs. Sims and Berry think could not possibly have been made by an engine striking a man as this did him, and these marks gave rise to a decided impression that the man had been killed and the body placed on the track. It was near King's Mountain that the body of a negro was run over by a train less than two years ago. In that case an investigation followed, which resulted in the subsequent hanging of another negro at Shelby, it having been proved that he had murdered the man and placed the body on the track to cover the crime. This may be a similar case, though it may be that McCall laid down on the row Escape of the Inmates of One of the Burning Buildings.

Yesterday morning, about twenty minutes past 3 o'clock, the alarm of fire was sounded for the first time in several weeks. and was found to have its origin in a house on Castle, between Fifth and Sixth streets, owned by Mr. W. J. Mott, and occupied by Mr. John J. King. The fire was first discovered by Sergeant George W. W. Davis, who lived close by and who was on his way down the street to go on duty. Seeing no signs of life about the building he hurried to the house and knocked loudly on the door with his club, but without arousing anybody, and he then tried to kick the door shutter in, failing in which he went to one of the windows and tore the shutters off. having in the meantime to fight a vicious dog belonging on the premises that was trying to bite him. Mr. and Mrs. King, who are both said to be hard of hearing, were finally aroused and became aware of their peril, the fire by this time having spread through almost the entire building, and the room in which Mr. and Mrs. K. had been sleeping being filled with smoke. Mr. number of wagons arriving in town at days | King passed his wife and children through the window, and then saved himself, after which Sergeant Davis succeeded in drawing the bed, mattress and some of the bed clothing through the window from the room occupied by the family, which was

The fire, when first discovered, appeared to be immediately under the roof and adjoining the chimney, and may have been caused by some defect in the flue.

The fire department were on hand with their usual promptitude and did much service in preventing the spread of the flames. The heavy rain just previous to the fire, also had its effect.

The two buildings were insured for $300 each in the Connecticut, of Hartford, represented in this city by Messrs. W. L. Smith & Co. Mr. King's furniture was also

But for the opportune arrival of the policeman the result would in all probability have proven much more disastrous, as the family were almost suffocated by the smoke when aroused to a sense of their danger.

Mayor's Court. Stephen Hanlon, colored, was first called. He was accused of making an assault, on Tuesday afternoon last, upon William Hill, Janitor at the Bank of New Hanover. The evidence went to show that Hanlon struck Hill in the face and knocked him down and that the assault was entirely unprovoked, whereupon the Mayor ordered the defendant to pay a fine of $25 or be locked up in the city prison for thirty days. He accepted the former alternative. Hanlon is a Virginian, having been here only a

The Old Duplin Rifles.

There seems to be a very general desire. especially in military circles, to see the old Duplin Rifles reorganized. This company was carried into service, in 1861, by the gallant Captain Thomas S. Kenan, the present Attorney General of the State. They have the flag which they carried into service-pronounced one of the handsomest n the State-and we hope our Dunlin friends will at once come to the front and organize, thus adding another company to the State Guard. Old Duplin is never behind hand in any matters of public interest, and as the county can furnish as good material as any in the State, we hope soon to hear that our suggestion has been beeded by them. Sampson county, too, should follow suit, and add a good company to the State Guard, as she certainly can do.

These two counties have the best of material, and we hope some go-ahead gentlemen in each of them will take the initiatory steps at once towards ensuring a representation in the Guards.

Life Saving Stations. Lieut. Shoemaker, of the U. S. Marine Service, accompanied by M. D. Parker, Esq., of the Law Department of the Treasury Service, Gen. A. M. Barney, Special Agent of the Treasury Department; and ex Congressman A. M. Waddell, returned from a week's cruise in the Revenue Cutter Colfax yesterday morning. During the cruise the following life saving stations, which was the object of the trip, were established on our coast:

Cape Fear Station, on the outer edge of Smith's Island, where it projects in a skarp point seaward, about seven miles from Bald Head Light.

bout Gates. A correspondent wishes to call the attention of the Board of Aldermen to the gate nuisance. We give the following extracts from his communication:

"Pass an ordinance requiring every gate in the city to open on the premises on the inside of the lot, and not as nine-tenths of them now do, on the sidewalk. "They are not only a nuisance as they are now arranged, but positively dangerous to life and limb. Recently some ladies were walking on the sidewalk, when, without a moment's warning, a heavy double gate was thrown open upon the street and came very near injuring them seriously.

How many of our people have been battered and bruised by coming in contact with an open gate when the night happened to be too dark to see the obstruction ! It is a nuisance to the whole body politic, and should be abated."
