Senator Thurman is represented as being extremely anxious to pass a Judicial bill that will be signed.

One critic of a Northern magazine has done the country service in lashing "L'Assommoir," the nasty French novel that some people are now read

Many of the leading Democrats of the House are absent, among them Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, and Mr. Carlisle, of Kentucky. Wise and discreet men are needed now.

A New York letter of the 23d thus reports the dry goods market:

"Staple cotton and woollen goods were moving to-day in fair quantities, on actinuing light. Cotton goods were fairly held, and Utica wide sheetings were advanced. Medium fancy prints are in fair demand, but light descriptions are quiet. Men's wear woollens are less active but firm. Kentucky jeans steadily held."

We have received the first number of the old Hillsboro Recorder, now published at the flourishing town of Durham. It is the oldest paper in North Carolina. For sixty yearstwo generations-it has been published at the old historic town. The editor, Col. John W. Cameron, has no superior in our State, as we sincerely believe. We wish him great success in his new home. In a short time the paper will be enlarged and otherwise improved.

If many intelligent people who believe that the legitimate drama is improving feel shocked at the immoralities of the professionals the latter must blame no one but themselves. The divorces and corruptions of many leading women of the buskins are deplorable-nay, disgusting. The Richmond State says:

"The divorce suit of Mrs. Girard Rowe against her husband, Geo. Fawcett Rowe, the actor, is attracting much attention in New York, and has already turned the talk sway from the Oates affair. Strange that these actors, who all hold the mirror up to insture on the stage as model husbands and wives, should fall so far short of domestic happiness in their own lives."

According to reports from Washington the Democrats are in a quandary as to what next. The State's letter from Washington of 24th says: "The Democrats are tossed upon a sea of uncertainty, lashed by waves of doubt and conflicting counsels. When the joint caucus conflicting counsels. When the joint caucus committee pours oil upon the waters the mass may move smoothly. They cannot successfully carry out what is left of the original programme without they settle down to a continuous session, extending through many months, because they have not a two-thirds majority to legislate as they desire in spite of the President, who stands immovable in the way. They cannot refuse appropriations and adjourn without the minority party permit it, because they haven't a quorum; and though all members within reach might be summoned to return, there would be still four absent in Europe."

VOL. XXIV .-- NO. 80.

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, JUNE 26, 1879.

When Congress will adjourn is unknown just now. The probability is, we take it, that there will be another week, unless enough Democrats vote with the Republicans and Greenbackers to pass the Judicial bill appropriations denuded of the objectionable features. The State's wellinformed correspondent thinks that adjournment would quickly come if every man followed his own judgment. He says a few men lead the others and the leaders are not always the most intelligent or wisest. This is the case often in deliberative bodies not Congressional. Men of great wills and great effrontery gen erally are the conspicuous ones, while the brains are stored away in the quiet, unobtrusive heads. The State's business." - Erskine College commence-

"Theoretically all want the fight to coninue, but practically a large number want to rest on their arms for a few months, fi only some plausible excuse can be found; or if a few Democrats would be bold enough to vote a clean appropriation bill, and take the 'cussin' that would follow, it would be an immense relief to their breth-

To-Day's Indications. For the South Atlantic and Gulf States, slight changes in pressure and temperature, northwest winds, partly cloudy weather and occasional rains, are the indications for to-day.

It is announced in the Raleigh Observer with the air of official sanction, that the Second Regiment, including, of course, the Wilmington companies, will go to Beaufort, astead of Wrightsville, on the 4th of July.

The "Avery Guards," of Morganton, have been armed. This company and the "Shoe Heel Rifles," of Robeson county, have both been assigned to the Second Battalion. Commissions have been issued to the folowing officers of the "Shoe Heel Rifles:" Captain, C. T. Willis; First Licutenant, H. R. McKinney; Second Lieutenants, J. D. Jower and John Leach.

Gen. Johnstone Jones has issued as order disbanding the already defunct 'Lamb Light Infantry," of this city, and one requiring the commissioned officers of the Second Battalion to repair to Charlotte, on the 10th of July, for the purpose of electing a Lieutenant Colonel, and, if vacancy happens, a Major.

Supreme Court Opinions. The following digests of two opinions of the Supreme Court are of general interest, especially that regarding classes liable to road duty:

State vs. Craig, from New Hanover. Under the present stringent road law regularly appointed pilots are not exempt from working on roads. All previous exemptions, except those continued in the Road act are repealed. An emergency requiring the service of the pilot on the day he is required to work a public road, would be a good defense, as he could elect which of the two public duties he would fulfil.

State vs. Parker, from Edgecombe. An indictment concluding "against the peace and dignity," but omitting "of the State," is sufficient. It seems that under the Constitution of 1868 any formal conclusion of an indictment is not essential.

Committed for Larceny. A colored man by the name of Amos Roper had a hearing before Justice Scott, vesterday morning, on the charge of larceny, and was ordered to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next which he was committed to jail.

The specific charge against Roper was of prizes to the children. stealing a pocket book containing $3 from another colored man. A colored woman by the name of Laura Williams was arrested on the charge of being implicated in the crime, but was discharged for the want of evidence.

Local Dots.

- Regular meeting of St. John's Lodge to-night. - We learn that Bishop Atkinson

- The visiting colored Masons from Charleston will leave here by rail this morning for home. The Giblemites had them in hand yesterday and entertained them handsomely.

- The Cornet Concert Club will shortly give another of their popular moonlight excursions, full particulars of which will appear hereafter. To prevent a rush. the number of tickets will be limited.

- The Visitors of the Ladies' Benevolent Society are requested to meet at Hook and Ladder Hall, Friday, June 27th, at 51 p. m. As it is the last meeting this summer it is necessary that all should be committee for an invitation to attend a barbecue given to celebrate the completion of the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad to Hendersonville, which is to come off on the approaching 4th of July.

- The Yacht Rosa will be taken to Masonboro Sound to-day over land, the difficulty of navigation by this route, Commodere Wiggins, it is reported, has consented to take command. - The only cases before Acting

Mayor Flanner, yesterday morning, were those of two young colored men, named Oscar Cameron and George Peaman, who were charged with disorderly conduct. They were ordered to be confined in the city prison for twenty-four hours. - Two cases from this Judicia

District are reported in the Supreme Court proceedings of Tuesday, as follows : Merchants' Bank of Fayetteville vs. T. S. Luiterioh et al, from Cumberland; argued; Building and Loan Association, from Cumberland; argued.

- The noonday prayer meetings at the Seamen's Bethel are growing in interest and the numbers in attendance. We are glad to know that some of our most prominent citizens and church members, of different denominations, are identifying themselves with the movement and taking an active part in it.

- At half-past 11 o'clock, Tuesday night, quiet, decent people, all alorg Church street, from Front to Second, and Second onward, were aroused and disturbed by the curses, both loud and deep, three or four men, with white skins. A policeman would be in place at all times in that vicinity. Such demonstrations are of frequent occurrence at the point indicated.

Fourth of July Celebration. We hear that there will be a big celebration and general mass meeting of citizens of Pender, Sampson and Duplin counties at "Big Pine," near Leesburg, Pender county, on the approaching 4th of July, the oration to be delivered by James Heaton, who will be followed by other speakers. It is claimed that nothing of a political nature will enter into the proceedings of the day, but that there will be plenty of music and "refreshments."

Returning to the Sounds.

The yacht Ripple left here Monday night, going out at what is known as Buzzard's Bay Inlet, and arrived off Masonboro Inlet at 11 o'clock on Tuesday, where she awaited a favorable tide and entered the Sound at 12 o'clock. She was in command of Mr. John Farrow, who had a crew of two colored men.

The Rosa, we understand, was to leave for the Sound yesterday evening, going Miss Harve School.

The closing exercises of this institution were held yesterday morning. Examinations had been in progress for several days previous, in which the pupils acquitted themselves with great credit. The feeble health of the principal prevented the usual public exercises, only the parents of the pupils being present to witness the award of prizes and testimonials.

After class singing the annual report was read by Mr. William Calder. The distinctions for the year were as follows: In Scholarship, certificates of the first grade were awarded to Miss Minnie Holmes and Miss Louis Parsley; of the second grade, to Miss Georgie Atkins, Miss Annie Moore and Master George Johnson; of the third grade to Miss Mannie Parsley and Miss Alice Holmes. Certificates of Good Progress were given to Miss Carrie Myers and Miss Louise DeRosset.

In Deportment, certificates of the firs grade were presented to Miss Mannie Parslev. Miss Alice Holmes, Miss Katie Johnson and Miss Anna-Strauss; second grade, Miss Loula Parsley, Miss Minnie Holmes, Miss Lillian Bowden and Miss Flora Wil-Isham Fields, colored, was sent lard; third grade, Miss Georgie Atkins, to jail yesterday for non-payment of costs | Miss Florence Bowden, Miss Lizzle Heide, in a case in Justice Scott's court in which Miss Mattie Heyer, Miss Carrie Myers, he was prosecutor, but failed to convict Miss Lossie Myers, Miss Ida Strauss and Miss Annie Willson.

Prizes were awarded as follows: In Scholarship, to Miss Loula Parsley. In Deportment, to Misses Alice Holmes Katie Johnson and Anna Strauss.

For Punctual Attendance, to Misse Alice Holmes and Mannie Parsley. For Proficiency in Arithmetic, to Misses Aunie Moore and Ida Strauss and Master

George Johnson. For Excellence in English Definition, to Miss Minnie Holmes.

A dainty little work-basket, the prize for excellence in needle-work, was awarded to where a dime party is to be given by the Miss Hattie Lewis. An address to the pupils concluded the exercises, and the session of 1878-'9 was brought to a close.

- Our thanks are tendered to the The Pine Straw in its Manufactured

We examined yesterday several specimens of pine straw, intended to show its condition after undergoing the various processes to which it is subjected at the factory in New York, some mention of which was made in this paper a few weeks ago. One of these specimens shows the straw in e. by way of the turnpike. Owing to its rough state after undergoing the sweating process by which oil is extracted, and the others in its different states of preparation for stuffing mattresses, &c., the finest of it being almost if not quite equal to what is known as "Excelsion." The straw is also manufactured into paper. Large. quantities of it will continue to be shipped from this port by Mr. C. H. Wessell, the agent, and it may be considered hereafter among the regular articles of export from this section.

Severe Storm. Capt. Garrason, of the steamer D. Murch ison, reports that a heavy storm of wind, rain and hail occurred along the Cape and W. Overby and wife vs. Fayetteville | Fear River on Tuesday, being particularly severe in the neighborhood of Elizabeth, Waddell's Ferry and Little Sugar Loaf. The thunder and lightning were also very severe. At the latter place a couple of pines near Sheriff W.J. Sutton's distillery were stricken by the electric fluid, the shock prostrating and temporarily stunning the distiller and his assistant, together with a horse that was standing near by and killing four hogs. It is hoped that the rain extended sufficiently high up to improve the navigation of the river, which is entirely too low for the convenience of steams

The pupils displayed remarkable proficiency and acquitted themselves with credit, and their teachers with great honor, especially in the kindergarten department, while the wonderful knowledge of difficult subjects evinced by questions asked the youngest scholars proved the superiority of the system, and that the teachers thoroughly understood the method and were thus enabled to obtain most satisfactory results from its use. To-night the closing exercises will take place, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, calesthenic exercises, explanations of kindergarten teaching, and the awarding of prizes, &c.
