The papers for days have been laughing over a mistake Republican Hubbell, of Michigan, made. He mistook Oscar Turner, of Kentucky, a Democrat, for Robinson, chairman of the Ohio Republican Committee, and told him certain party secrets. The paragraphers and versifiers are poking fun at the discomfited Hubbell.

The trade dollar bill has been laid aside until next winter. The silver mon are greatly out with Senator Bay-The State's correspondent says:

"Bayard, Kernan, Allison and Ferry voted no, and Wallace, Beck and Voorhees voted aye. All of the committee except Bayard and Morrill are in favor of the trade dollar bill, but Kernan, Allison and Ferry voted against its consideration at this session because it was hinted that when the bill came before the Senste the soft money men would move to amend by adding the Warner coinage bill to it."

The following scientific item, which we take from the New York letter to the Philadelphia Ledger, is quite interesting:

"The United States Assay Office in this city has received for assay a specimen of the great meteor which, not long ago, fell in Northern Iowa, the largest piece, weighing about 380 pounds, having been dug out of fourteen feet of earth. The entire fragments weighed nearly 500 pounds. It is believed to be one of the largest meteors ever found. The specimen has not been assayed yet, but a cursory examination shows the presence of a large quantity of soft iron, something, it is said, that is very rarely discovered in such conditions. One or two other of its constituent elements are interesting from their extreme rarity, but no precious metals enter into its composition. Specimens of the meteor are selling readily at high prices. The assay will be of no small interest to the scientific world."

The Coroner of New York held an inquest over Mrs. Hall. Sundry witnesses were examined. The jury found a verdict against Cox. He was then told to stand up, and in reply to questions by the Coroner, said that his name was Chastine Cox, that he was thirty-two years old, was born in Powhatan county, Va., lived at No. 166 West Thirty-sixth street, and by occupation was a cook and "did most anything," sometimes being a waiter. The Coroner asked him if he had snything to say in relation to were adults and two children.

The case of Henry Loftin, colored, charged with being accessory before the fact in the attempted robbery of Mr. L. Vollers' store, on Thursday night last, was called. Mr. Hensel, the clerk, was first examined, and stated the fact, already mentioned, of the boy being found concealed in the store about 10 o'clock that night, as he was looking around preparatory to closing. The store had been entered on the previous Monday night and some articles stolen, which moved him to be more than ordinaris ly cautious.

John Green, the boy who was arrested, was next put upon the stand, and swore positively that Henry Loftin told him to go into the store and hide, to get together what goods he could, and he would come after them; also told him how to open the door, &c. In answer to a question from the Mayor he said he lived with a man named Henry Johnson, but he was positive that Lofting was the man who met him on the street and asked him to hide in the store. Officer Grant testified that about 8:30 o'clock he saw Loftin (whom he knew well) in conversation with the boy, John Green, at Mr. Fred, Heyer's corner. Shortly afterwards he saw the accused by himself, and twenty minutes afterwards heard the cry for police and arrested the boy in Mr. Vollers' store.

Other witnesses for the prosecution were examined, but threw no additional light on the subject.

Loftin then asked permission and introduced as witnesses for the defence "his sisters, his cousins and his aunts," for the purpose of proving an alibi. Clara Loftin, Hester Williams, Harriet Stevenson, James Henry Loftin and Mary Jane Ellis all swore that Henry Loftin was at home that night from 6 to 7 o'clock until 10 o'clock, and two or three of the witnesses appeared to be positive that he never left the house that night after he came home from work, which he himself asserted in a statement to the The testimony was somewhat con tradictory in some respects, and at its close Mayor Fishblate said he would have to require the defendant to enter into bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court. He also ordered that the boy, John Green, be locked up in the county jail until Court to appear

Letter from Col. Craighill. We pushish with pleasure the following cordial endorsement from Col. Craighill Engineer in Charge, of the action of the meeting of the members of our various trade organizations and other prominent citizens, held at the Produce Exchange on Saturday, the 21st inst., to make some acknowledgment of the services of Mr. Henry Nutt, in connection with our Bar and River Improvement:

U. S. ENGINEER OFFICE, No. 70 SARATOGA STREET, Baltimore, MD., June 26 1879.

Edulor Morning Star, Wilmington, N. C .: DEAR SIR-I have received a copy of your journal, and have read with much satisfaction the resolutions of the meeting of your prominent citizens commending Mr. Henry Nutt for his zeal and interest so perseveringly displayed in behalf of the Cape Fear river, a work of so much importance to your city and dependent counly omitted to mention the fact that a large

The work already done on the Cape Fear has been of manifest advantage, and there is every reason to believe that in the next year or two far greater progress will be really no danger from the fall of scaffolding made than in the past six or eight, as we will begin to attain the results towards which we have been moving during that Twining, who had charge of it, says he had

WM. P. CRAIGHILL.

Triumphantly Acquitted. Mr. Chas. M. Harriss (not the newsdealer), the party referred to as having been arrested a few days since on suspicion of having broken the glass front to the stamp department in the Postoffice, on the 30th of May, and abstracting a sum of money amounting to about $65, had a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Mc-Quigg, yesterday morning, and the result was a complete vindication of Mr. Harris, there not being a particle of evidence calculated to sustain the charge. Furthermore, a number of our best citizens came forward, and testified to the honesty and integrity of the defendant, characteristics which had never before been called in question. At the close of the examination Commissioner McQuigg stated, in substance, that there was no evidence by which he could hold theldefendant for trial. and the case was thereupon dismissed.
