"Why, Charles Fos-ter-Charley Foster-our Republican candidate for Governor," replied Mr. Robinson, still keeping his temper. "When, pray did Charles Foster become a Republican! said the waning Senatorial leader, in a tone that made Mr. Robinson retire with a ringing in his official ears that seemed very much like a big fles, and without receiving a direct reply to his polite invitation. This simply means that Grant, Conking & Co. do not intend to let up even temporarily on Sherman, Garfield, Foster & Cu."

Gov. Colquitt, of Georgia, is an enthusiastic Methodist, who has carried his religion into office. He has been delivering lectures to negro Sunday School gatherings. This has given offence to certain persons who are not much addicted to prayer or praise, we take it. They accuse the religious Governor of trying to curry favor with the "colored man and brother" that he may be re-nominated. We believe Gov. Vance was censured by some for his bearing towards the colored people. We are glad both Governors have found it not inconsistent with their place to address the colored people.

The first excursion now in order is that for this evening on the steamer Passport by moonlight. The boat will leave her wharf at 7:30 for Federal Point, returning at 12:30. A string band is engaged and dancers will have a fair field and abundant time.

The Cornet Concert Club is, again in the ring and propose a second moonlight excursion on Wednesday next, to Fort Fisher. Those who patronized the first excursion of the Club will not require to be persuaded to make a second venture. The musical feature of the affair alone renders t worth while to be present.

Our German friends, have also arranged for a Fourth of July trip to the Hamme plantation, about twelve miles up the Cape Fear, on the steamer Isis. The advertisement in Sunday's issue will furnish the particulars. This excursion is intended as a means by which the little folks as well as the great ones will be able to spend a day and evening agreeably. The committes intend to see that the comfort and pleasure of every one are consulted.

Caught in the Act

On Saturday night last, between 7 and 8 o'clock, a colored boy by the name of Henry Thomas, commonly known as "Hard package of grits from Messrs. J. H. Mr. Frank Hurd's speech in reply to Garfield must have been of remarkable excellence. The Washingon Post thus refers to it:

"Mr. Hurd's grand speech in the House in general defense of his party's position in Congress and in particular reply to Mr. Garfield, was the talk of the town all day yesterday. It is not too much to say that it will stand as the speech of the session. Mr. Garfield was completely overwhelmed, and in his fall he took his party and all its bogus pretenses along with him."

Population of the City.

We give the following suggestions of Mr. London as apparently eminently worthy. the consideration of our city authorities, and it is to be hoped that the necessary action will be taken in the matter, so that the question of the population of Wilmington may be set at rest:

"Mayor Fishblate has received a circular from the National Board of Health, requesting an official or estimated statement of the population of the city, &c., in order to make up the necessary data for the offi-cial reports required by law."

Mr. Editor :- Observing the above notice in your paper of Sunday last, it occurs to me that if the suggestion there made were taken advantage of the much vexed question as to what the population of the city is could be set at rest. In the last British census the entire enumeration of the inhabitants of England and Wales, aggregaing a total of 22,712,266, was made in one day (April 3rd, 1871), by 32,543 enumerators, or about one enumerator for each 700 inhabitants. Estimating the population of the city at 20,000, it will readily be seen how easy the police force might take an ac-curate and reliable census in a day at very small cost. If the Board of Aldermen desire it the details will be furnished them, and an estimate of the expense.

The great religious awakening now going on at the Front Street Methodist Church has resulted so far in great good to the community. Up to this time there have been about one hundred and twenty-five conversions. On last Sabbath, fifteen more members were added to the church, embracing those from youth to old age. The revival seems to increase in interest. Rev. Mr. Yates began the meetings about the 1st of June and was meeting with considerable success, when, after eight or ten days, Rev-Mr. McPherson, of the Society of Friends, came is to help. He was accompanied by his wife, who, while not a preacher, seems to be very efficient in leading the wayward to the path of life.
