OUTLINES.

The yellow fever has broken out at Memphis; one death has occurred; there is a perfect stampede of citizens -- The official arrangements for the reception of the remains of the Prince Imperial have been made in London; the body will be taken to Camden Hall. - Miners at several other points in Pennsylvania have struck and others will follow. - The Saratoga regatta came off, and was largely attended. - Marshals Canrobert and Lebouf were refused permission to attend the funeral of the Prince Imperial. The agricultural prospects in England are very gloomy; the Times gives a very disheartening report. - Cotton crop reports from Georgia and Florida are generally favorable. - The Memphis yellow fever excitement has assumed the form of a panic; the disease not yet epidemic. - The Chinese are developing a strong military movement on the Kuldia frontier. - At Fall River the breach between the manufacturers and striking operatives contiques. - Prince Jerome Napoleon has virtually assumed the attitude of Chief of the Imperialists. - Bizzell, the murderer of Miss Hanson, was executed at Concord, N. H., yearerday. - Gen. Sir Garnett Wolesly has arrived at Capetown; the British troops are within twentyfive miles of Cetewayo's kraal. - In the Buford trial a motion by the defense for a continuance was overruled by the court-- Reports of the temperature to the Signal Office at Washington, show yesterday to have been a terribly hot day throughout the whole country. - Spain will communicate with the Emperor of Austria with regard to the projected alliance between King Alfonso and the Archduchess Marie. - France and England demand that the Khedive shall be impowered to conclude treaties. - Paul de Cassagnac has gone to the Imperial funeral. - The work of obtaining a jury in the Buford trial will be necessarily slow. - New Orleans, it is claimed, was never healthier than now; a rigid quarantine will be enforced against Memphis by rail and by river. -- New York markets: Money easy at 2@31 per cent; cotton easy at 12 3-16@ 12 5-16 cts; southern flour without decided change at $5 25@5 65; wheat irregular and 1@1c lower; ungraded winter red $1 14 @1 20; corn heavy and 1@1c lower; ungraded 42@46 cts; rosin quiet at $1 30@

The Kentucky murderer, Buford, who killed Judge Elliott, is to be tried this week at Owenton before Judge McNamara.

How is this? The price of quinine has advance in New York. The Monopolists are still largely "feathering their nests." It is quoted at $3 50 per ounce.

Senator Morgan's son, John, is in trouble. Miss Horton wants $20,000 damages for breach of promise and betrayal. Both are in Washington, and a suit has been entered accordcarried off two gold medals at Randolph Macon College, Virginia.

Maj. Robert H. Glass, of the Petersburg Post, bas retired from its editorial management. He is a gentleman of much political sagacity and is a born editor. We shall be glad to see it announced that he is again in charge of a paper.

The American Arctic exploration steamer, Jeannette, sailed from San Francisco on the 8th for her destination. This is Jim Bennett's craft. He wants a piece of the North Pole. What he will do with it is not known, but probably he will play polo with it.

A New York letter of the 8th inst thus reports the dry goods market in

"Business with the dry goods trade con-tinues light in all departments. Cotton goods quiet and firm. Amoskeag and Pearl River denims are advanced | cent. Dark prints are in moderate request, but prices are not you made for leading makes. Men's wear woollens are quiet and steady; checkings and repellents in moderate request.
Foreign goods quiet."

The last news from Grant, through Republican sources, is to the effect that he will remain abroad for a year longer-until after the nomination for President-that he may escape the annoyances threatened by certain politicians of the baser sort. We do not believe a word of it. If Grant thinks his chances will be better for the nomination by a grand ovation, meeting of the Anson Guards (Co. G.) the resignation of Captain Billingsley was tendered and accepted. Major Branch was elected to fill the vacancy. C. D. Gale offered his resignation as Junior Second Lieutenant, which was accepted and the vacancy left open until the next meeting. Dr. Smith was elected Surgeon in place of Dr. Crowson, who has removed to another county. he will come. On the other hand he will "exile himself," as the organs call it, for another year if he can gain by it. That, as we believe, is the whole of "Grant's self-imposed exile" that the organs are prating about.

Richmond Dispatch: The 4th of July was a proud day for North Carolina. On that day she celebrated the opening of the first mile of railroad she has built across the Blue Ridge. It was the occasion of great rejoicing. A multitude quite large for a region that is mountainous and poorly supplied with means of transportation and good roads, assembled at Hendersonville, the summit which the road has reached, where the celebration took place.

— Raleigh Observer: Yesterday W. P. Batchelor, Esq., for William Horne, of New York, instituted two suits against the State of North Carolina. One of these suits is for past due coupons of a bond issued in behalf of the Western Railroad Company, under the act of February 3, 1869, the other is for coupons of a bond issued to the Western North Carolina Railroad Company, under act of December 18, 1868. This brings before the court the validity of the special tax bonds. The suits were instituted in the Supreme Court under section 15, article 4, of the Constitution. - Charlotte Observer: There is talk of negotiations between the proprietors of Cleaveland Springs and the principal of the King's Mountain Female School, with a view to the removal of the school to the springs. — The stockholders of the North Carolina Railroad Company hold their annual meeting for 1879 in this city to-morrow. — The Observer has good cause for being a red hot paper. It roasts its head in an office where the gentle and joyous mercury indicates 100 degrees all these afternoons and evenings, and where, about 10 o'clock at night, it settles down to 98 for a steady thing.

- Durham Recorder: We are glad to learn that Mr. John Mallett, recently injured at Chapel Hill, is pronounced out of danger. His assailant is still at large. —— We learn with pleasure that the health of the Rev. Chas. Phillips has much improved. The anniversary oration of W. B. Gleen at Winston on the Fourth, acquires prominence, apart from its intrinsic excellence, from the circumstance that it was delivered among, and heartily endorsed by a people who have recently been the subjects of mischievous calumny. — Mr. Nutt deserves to be associated in immortal honor with an achievement which has its origin in the depths of a heart burning with patriotic State pride, and in the recesses of a brain-capable of sagacious suggestions, and see-ing with prophetic vision the revolution to follow in the fortunes of the Cape Fear re-gion, and incidentally in those of the State. make the circumstances of Mr. Davis quite — A Beaufort correspondent of the Goldsboro Messenger gives this account of the burial services of the three daughters of Captain Oaksmith: A memorial service was held at the Methodist Church on yesterday, to their memory, which was largely attended. The following ministers were present: Rev. W. P. McCorkle, Rev. Dr. Chapman, Rev. J. W. Jenkins, Rev. M. C. Thomas. Our entire community are in deep sympathy with the afflicted family. Three of the bodies were recovered, and on Saturday the 5th inst., were taken up to Hollywood and buried in the family burying ground. The body of Miss Bessie has not yet been recovered, but friends are still searching for it. Thus has one of our happy homes been robbed of its happiness,—four beautiful, intellectual girls, full of life and promise, snatched away in the bloom of youth, and all the daughters of a household, taken away at one time; truly, 'in the midst of life, we are in death." Never in the writer's experience has it been his fortune to know a amily with such bright intellects, and when we saw them robed for the tomb, our heart sank within us. - Oxford Torchlight: Mr. T. T. Hicks, son of Benjamin Hicks, Esq., of this county, graduated at the recent commence-ment of Yadkin College, with the highest honor of the institution. He was chosen to deliver the valedictory. — Mrs. Moon, the great revivalist, arrived in Oxford Sunday morning, and began at once a series of meetings in the Methodist Church. —Mr. B.D. Frost, the civil engineer, who arrived in Oxford last Saturday, will begin the survey of the Oxford & Henderson Railroad without delay. Only a few days will be consumed in surveying and locating the road, when more active operations, such as throwing dirt, cutting and putting down cross-ties, &c., will begin. — John Spen-cer, colored, while bathing in Waller & Nance's mill pond, near Knap of Reeds, ast Wednesday, ventured out too far, where the water was some eight feet deep, and was drowned, not knowing how to swim.

Some weeks ago, Mr. Wm. C. Brummitt ate a hearty dinner, after having la-bored hard during the day, and died within fifteen or twenty minutes afterwards. It is supposed he died of heart disease. Mr. Brummitt was a most worthy citizen.

Another Homicide in Pender. Close upon the killing of Martin Mo Kenzie, colored, at Rock Quarry, mentioned in our issue of Wednesday morn ing, comes the intelligence of another man being killed in the neighborhood of Rocky Point. It seems from the meagre particulars that have thus far come to hand, that a party of men were at work on a road near Dr. E. Porter's place, about a mile above Rocky Point, late Wednesday afternoon. when Mr. William Walker, who was riding on horse-back, stopped and had a conversation with one of two colored meh. during which some pretty severe language was passed. Finally the companion of the one that was talking with Walker, a man quarrel, and dared Mr. W. to get down from his house, remarking that if he did he would give him what he deserved, or words to that effect. Walker unwisely accepted the banter, and as he removed his feet from the stirrups Bell started towards him with a drawn knife. At this Walker seized a hoe and struck Bell a blew over the head with it, fracturing his skull. The wounded man was subsequently taken to Dr. Porter's premises, where he received proper medical attention, but without avail, as he breathed his last yesterday morning.

The Coroner, Dr. Lucas, was notified, and was to have held an inquest over the Walker, who is represented to be quite young man, immediately fled, and had not been captured at last accounts.

Overboard and Almost Drowned. A colored laborer by the name of Fred Jones, accidentally fell overboard, near the foot of Red Cross street, about 5 o'clock vesterday afternoon, and came very near being drowned. He was employed in the pile-driving gang of Messrs. Cassidey & Ross, and was at work npon a new wharf extension for the W., C. & A. R. R. His falling overboard was due to some careessness as to his footing on the cap of the new wharf timbers, and, though the water was only about eight feet deep, his fellowlaborers watched in vain to see him rise to the surface. He was under water fully two minutes, and was only discovered by the bubbles which appeared over the spot where he disappeared. His comrades felt for him with sticks, and one of them, reaching his arm beneath the surface, finally succeeded in catching bold of a hand of the fast drowning man and drew him up to the top, and thus effected his rescue. The fact was afterwards developed, on lones' statement, that he could not swim. He said he held his breath as long as possible, but at last was unable to keep the water out or rise to the surface. Alto-gether he had a most fortunate and narrow another Case of Perjary. A colored boy by the name of Frank Minnis, a bright mulatto and quite intelligent, was arraigned before Justice Gardner, yesterday morning, charged with perjury. It appears that during an examination of case before Justice Gardner, on the 19th of June, defendant swore positively that one Sidney Halsay shoved him down and stole from him about seven yards of silk braid, on a certain day, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when in truth and in fact, as was established by ample testimony yesterday, Sidney Halsey was at Mr. Heide's plantation, "Appleton, about five miles below this city, from 10 A M. to 5 P. Minnis was ordered to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.
