WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, JULY 18, 1879.

A Settler's Views, [Raleigh Observer.]

We make the following extracts from a letter written to the Irish World, by John Graham, Esq., from Hillsboro, N. C .:

"I came from New York to this State three years ago. I have lived in many States of the Union, and to my notion North Carolina has the advantage of all for healthy climate, mild winters and cool summers.  I would say for the Southern people that they are a very kind, social and hospitable people; they are all glad to see Northern people come here and settle among them. * * We have settlers here from Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Canada. Now we have no colony here; every man comes and acts on his own responsibility. * * * If any person wants to know further particulars, write with enclosed stamp and I will give them all the information I can. "JOHN GRAHAM."

> A Negro Killed Near Maniy. [Raleigh Observer.]

As the morning freight was leaving Manly Station, on the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line Railroad, a negro man was discovered on the track walking along with a bucket of water. He had been to a spring in a cut on the railroad side to get water for the hands at a saw mill. The engineer warned him with the usual signals, but he continued to run, evidently trying to get out of the out before leaving the track. He was struck, thrown upon the rails and had his head severed from his body. The engineer did all that he could do, and all that is usually done in such cases. It was a fool-hardy effort that brought the usual results.

There was a narrow escape from a fire yesterday morning, about half past 11 o'clock, in a room above the store of Mr. James Keegan, corner of Fourth and Harnett streets, occupied by a man named Merritt. It seems that a broom, which had been used in sweeping up ashes in the fireplace, ignited and set fire to a lot of bedding against which it had been left standing. By the promptness and energy of several persons on the premises at the time time the flames were extinguished before much damage wes done, and without it being necessary to create a general alarm. Thermometer Record.

The following will show the state of thermometer, at the stations mentioned, at 4.31 yesterday evening, Washington mean time, as ascertained from the daily bulletin issued from the Signal Office in this city: Atlanta......92 | Key West,.....92 Augusta......83 | Mobile.........8892 Montgomery ... The Charleston News and Courier, of yesterday, says "the Cape Fear river is so low that communication by steamer between Wilmington and points above has been entirely suspended." This is an error. The long absence of rain has made rapid transit between this city and points along the river to Fayetteville impossible, but steamers still perform service, and communication has at no time been entirely interruptedonly delayed.

The excursionists will remain here today, we believe, and we trust our people will exert themselves to further impress them favorably a vi control of Communication Cut off at all Points. After the lapse of many days, the hearts of our people were cheered last night by the prospect of a heavy fall of rain. But in spite of heavy clouds, loud thunder, and dazzling and almost uninterrupted electrical displays, the city was not the recipient of a respectable shower (that is, up hour of going to press, 1 o'clock. The indications were that East, West, North and South of us-how near or remote we do not venture to predict—heavy rain and wind storms were in progress. Vision could not dis-close much, but the fact that our usual telegraphic dispatches could not be supplied from the "Union" office, because all of its connections were destroyed, is pretty clear demonstration as to the range of the storm. The Signal office could not relieve us from our sad plight. The truth, in brief, is, that from no quarter could information be procured as to the exact nature or extent of the damages inflicted by the gale. We greatly fear that both on land and sea considerable injury was done both to life and property.

The Railroad Problem. A correspondent furnishes us with a so lution of the railroad problem which was published yesterday morning, but, for the want fof algebraic characters, we are unable to present it. The solution as we understand it (and we acknowledge to considerable dullness in algebraic lore). makes the route required, ordinarily, 300 miles, and 12 hours to travel it. The first hour the regular rate of speed (25 miles) was made, when there was a delay of an hour. The journey was continued at threefifths of the original speed-say 15 miles per hour-and the entire time occupied was the first hour and the delay of one hour. The running time after the break down and delay of one hour was 181 hours, and the arrival at destination was 81 hours behind time. This is the best we can do with the solution, and which we hope will prove satisfactory to all parties concerned.

the Crops in the Vicinity of Wilmington. During a short drive in the country yesterday we were astonished at the evidences everywhere visible of the terrible effects of the heat and drought. Mr. J. F. Garrell has one hundred and twenty acres in corn, the most of which is literally dying, the tassels in many instances being parched to such a degree that they have assumed a perfectly white appearance. With the best of seasons to follow he does not expect to realize a half crop. The watermelon vines are also nearly all dying. His rice crop, however, is in excellent condition, the drought not affecting it.

It is sad to see corn that promised so well only a few weeks ago now drooping and dying. Unless a pienteous rain should set in within a very few days the crop will be almost a complete failure in this immediste section.
