OUTLINES.

One new case and five deaths reported at Memphis; a meeting has been held to organize a committee of safety; Col. John F. Cameron, of the Governor's staff, has been ordered to take charge of the local troops: the city is quiet; no means of transportation have been found to the site selected for the camp. ——Great depression in the English cotton trade; the limited companies make a bad showing. ——Eight persons from the South have been designated by the Secretary of War for examination for the appointment of Second Lieutenants. ——Yesterday another case of yellow fever, from the Havana steamer, City of Merida, making the fourth, was admitted to the New York quarantine hospital, and Johanna Brennan, a Memphis female refugee, died of the same disease. —— Gen. B. F. Butler will again be a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts. —— Rains in north Virginia yesterday put an end to the two month's drought, and will probably save the corn crop in large districts of that State. ——Russia has given assurances of the total withdrawal of her troops from Turkish territory by the 4th of August. ——The English government has decided on propositions which will probably harmonize parties on the Irish University bill. ——Yellow fever refugees from Memphis are flocking to St. Louis in great numbers. ——It is reported that the Chilian army is being largely reinforced. ——Eleven new cases of yellow fever reported at Memphis yesterday, and ten deaths for the twenty-four hours ending at 6 p. m. —— Floods reported in France. —— New York markets: Money easy at 2½@3 per cent; cotton firm at 11⅛@11⅛ cents; flour unchanged at $5 00@7 00 for southern; wheat irregular and unsettled; corn ½@¾c. lower; spirits turpentine 26½ cents; rosin quiet at $1 27½@1 32½.

Gen. Reuben Davis "orated" at the Mississippi Greenback State Convention. A platform was adopted and an executive committee was appointed.

Lord Chelmsford, having gained an important victory over the Zulus, will stand better at home. He is probably a better soldier than he had credit for being.

The communication of "Fair Play," printed in the STAR to-day, is not intended, as we announced yesterday, as a reply to "Junius." This much we are requested to state by the author.

Secretary of War McCrary ought not to forget his ancestry. His father is a North Carolinian. He selects two each from Virginia and South Carolina, but none from this State, to stand examinations for a Second Lieutenancy in the army.

Whenever a fellow gets into a controversy and begins to fling around loosely his epithets and bring railing accusations you may know he is whipped. Arguments and facts are worth all the bile and bluster in the world when brain meets brain. Selah!

A shameful case of miscegenation is reported at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. Hattie Ludwick, a pretty white girl of respectable connection, ran away with a coarse, unmixed African named Tom Bronson, who had a negro wife and four children. The fugitives are in Ohio.

The aged Rev. Dr. Lovick Pierce, a native North Carolinian, is lying at the point of death at his home in Georgia. He is in his 95th year. When in his prime he was one of the great preachers of the world. Dr. Deems says he has never heard a greater. He is the father of the eloquent Bishop George Pierce.

In Chesterfield county, Va., a number of dissolute boys made an attack upon Mr. Peyton Talley, severely beating him and pursuing him to his own door. His wife was so shocked that she died in a few hours. Warrants have been issued, and it is to be hoped that the young rascals will be arrested and dealt with according to law.

The Brooklyn scare over the yellow fever case has had a good effect. The health authorities are much stirred, and nuisances generally are to be suppressed. The N. Y. letter to the Philadelphia Ledger says:

"The Board of Health have appointed an extra corps of sanitary inspectors, comprising eleven physicians, six civil engineers, and other gentlemen of scientific attainments, to investigate and report upon the condition of the tenement houses, the number of inmates, ventilation and other facts, with a view of preventing the spread of diseases during the hot weather. It is an excellent movement, but it might have been begun earlier in the season, and before the average weekly mortality had mounted up to between 800 and 900."

A letter from Memphis, dated Monday, in the Louisville Courier Journal, represents the panic as very great. The negroes are also very greatly excited. There are cases all over the city many of which have not been reported. The doctors insist that the disease is of a much milder type than that of last year. The Herald and Avalanche are reduced to half-sheets.

Talmage's Prices.

[London Truth.]

I have seldom read anything more impudent than the reply of the agent of Dr. Talmage to the request of a small town for a lecture—"I have upward of one thousand letters, all wanting Dr. Talmage to lecture for them. Some contain fabulous offers. Now, there is but one way of getting the Doctor. If your society can afford to pay what larger places offer I may be able to drop out a larger place and give you a date in July. The lowest terms I can afford to take are £100. I know it is a big price, but Dr. Talmage is a great man," &c. This may be legitimate in the eyes of a New York "Christian," but it hardly looks like "good faith" to "drop out" the large places in the manner proposed. Perhaps, however, the frantic applicants only exist in the imagination of the agent.

Spirits Turpentine.

— Raleigh is about going into the telephone business.

— The negro reported killed at Charlotte is alive and marching around with bandaged head.

— Mrs. Sarah J. Wallace's house in Mecklenburg was recently broken into and robbed. She was absent.

— It is hard to keep up with Dossey Battle. Last week the marriages in the Southerner were headed "Swopping Saliva." This week it is "Canned Fruit."

— Senator Vance is to be invited to deliver the agricultural address before the Albemarle Agricultural Society, that is to be held at Elizabeth City in October.

— New Berne tried walking matches for a while, and now the game of polo is to be introduced. The game of hoe-o is better, though not quite so "amoosing."

— There are so many strange Judges in North Carolina just now. We need a directory. They are becoming more numerous than the "Kurnels," if such a monstrosity be possible.

— The Newbern Democrat states that the deer in the lower end of Craven county, on the south side of the river, are destroying the growing cotton; they are so numerous and bold that they come into the fields and lay acres waste in a single night.

— The Republicans of Montgomery want Judge Buxton to be their candidate for Governor. The Charlotte Democrat thinks that "the sentiment and feeling of the Republicans of North Carolina, white and black"

— We think the election of Rev. Dr. Pritchard to the Presidency of Wake Forest will be a decided advantage to the College. But it is really a pity to take such a man from from the active ministry. He is about fifty-one years old, stout and vigorous, warm-hearted and generous, pious and pleasant.—Charlotte Democrat Dr. P. is scarcely more than 45, if that, we should say.

— Raleigh Observer: Judge Merrimon is confined to his house by sickness. —— We are glad to learn that Mr. Wade S. Harris, of Concord, whose dangerous illness was noticed last week, is out of danger. —— England has 35,000,000 sheep, from which she realizes an annual profit of $150,000,000. North Carolina is as large as England, but has not quite so many, nor does she make quite so much on them. But she has dogs.

— Rev. T. H. P., in the Raleigh Biblical Recorder: An exchange states the fact that Mrs. Gov. Colquitt, of Georgia, conducts family worship in the absence of her husband. Governor Colquitt is a Methodist and sometimes preaches, and he can do it well, but his wife is a Baptist, a daughter of an honored North Carolina Baptist preacher by the name of Bunn, and I found from her conversation that she was not ashamed of her father's religious faith, nor the place of his birth.

— Raleigh News: Friday Jones, a well-known colored man of this city, has just returned from Hancock county, Ill., where he is supposed to rightfully own three hundred and twenty acres of land valued at $8000. He says his lawyer assures him that his claim is good, and Uncle Friday expects to be rich yet. ——The Sheriff of Sampson county arrived yesterday with seven men for the penitentiary, the terms ranging from one to five years. ——Sheriff Welsh, of Yadkin county, also had a negro larceny chap, Levi Yokely.

— Of the tragedy at Asheville the Charlotte Observer says: "Tom Norvell, a fighting man about town, was found on the streets of Asheville, speechless, ghastly, and more dead than alive. His throat was cut from ear to ear, a pistol ball was lodged in him, and from fifteen to twenty knife-cuts and stabs hacked him almost out of human resemblance. And yet he wasn't dead, as he was tolerably used to that sort of thing. Little hopes are, however, entertained of his recovery. Two young men of the same ilk, named Townsend, were arrested on suspicion."

— The Charlotte Observer gives some particulars of the recent murder at Old Fort. On Saturday night four or five persons were engaged in a game of poker at a retired spot near the village, when a dispute, which broke up the game, arose between two of the parties, Emanuel Rose and Wm. Rogers, brothers-in-law. The party returned to the village, these two continuing their quarrel until finally they came to blows, whereupon Rose whipped out a knife and fell upon Rogers, inflicting upon him three cuts, any one of which might have proved fatal, but one of which literally disemboweled him. His death was almost instantaneous, and Rose, though he attempted to escape, was arrested and lodged in jail.

— Charlotte Democrat: The Ruddill Hill gold mine, near this city, cleared $600 last week over all expenses. The prospects at other mines in this section are encouraging to the operators. —— The Institute will not be removed. Col. Thomas has decided to remain and will open the next session in September. —— Two men, Alex. Bradwell, white, and Thomas Rosboro, colored, convicted of burglary, will be hanged at Statesville on the 8th of August, unless the Governor interferes, and there is not much prospect of that at present. Judge Schenck, at one time, almost completely broke up the dens of thieves in this District and stopped thieving, and Gov. Jarvis shows a disposition to let the law take its course on burglars, the most dangerous class of law breakers.

— Durham Recorder: Noah Wilson, a colored gentleman, was arrested last week for chicken stealing and committed to the jail in Hillsboro, and the jail being under repair he was confined in the debtors' room, secured by chains. On Monday morning, the jailor going in with breakfast for the prisoners, found Noah non est inventus; but very soon heard most lamentable appeals for help from beneath the floor of the room. Noah had gotten off his chains somehow, taken up the hearth and gone into the cavity, with the expectation of cutting through the foundation wall at leisure. But he was obstructed by a cross piece of timber, and could not advance, and could not voluntarily recede. It was only when the jailor refused to aid him that he made a desperate move and squeezed himself out, crab fashion. He was again secured.

— Tarboro Southerner: The corn crop is almost destroyed, and cotton is seriously retarded, say the farmers, by drought. ——Hon. J. J. Martin has left for California to act with his labor committee. ——Julia Norfleet, colored, was badly hurt with a hoe in the hands of Henry Lane, colored. A warrant from Squire Spragins put Lane to flight. ——Mr. George T. Howerton, formerly of Nash county, now superintending the plantation of W. I. Staton, about three miles from Tarboro, was terribly torn by two bull dogs, owned by a cropper on the place, on Monday afternoon. In attempting to kick the vicious brutes, (he was totally unarmed) they caught his pants, pulled him down, and literally chewed up his flesh from groins to ankle on the left leg. Powerless to resist and unable to arise, he could do nothing but lie still and feel his flesh lacerated by the fangs of his assailants. When the dogs were surfeited they quietly walked away. Dr. Macnair relieved the sufferer, who is now doing well. These dogs are not taxed.

— Charlotte Observer: Prayer meetings were held yesterday at Steel Creek, Sugar Creek and Back Creek Presbyterian churches, in this county, for the special purpose of offering up prayers for rain. It is stated that some of these were attended by people who hadn't been inside of a church since the last dry spell. —— It is learned here, from undoubted authority, that there was frost in Mitchell county on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of week before last, when the heat here was "intolerable and not to be borne," and that on none of these nights was there any comfort in bed except under a blanket. Mitchell is, we suppose, the coolest county in the State. —— Think of the devilment a cow may do. The collision with that Jersey on the Air Line, the other day, will cost the road many a dollar before all the damage is repaired. It was $15,000, we believe, that a little bull cost the Richmond & Danville Railroad two years ago. —— The Air Line Railroad has served notice upon the connecting lines that it will receive no more freight for Memphis or Galveston on account of quarantine regulations. —— The News notes that Messrs. R. M. Miller & Sons, of this city, have forwarded to the Agricultural Museum, at Raleigh, a specimen of "rust-proof wheat," of this year's crop, which, as grown by Mr. John W. Wadsworth, on his model farm near this city, turned out sixty-four pounds to the bushel and twenty-six bushels for one sown.

Local Dots.

— We regret to learn that Mr. T. W. Player, one of our old citizens, is quite ill.

— There was no session of the City Court yesterday morning, the Mayor still being on the "sick list." There were no new cases.

— John James alias John Loftin, colored, was sent to jail yesterday for non-payment of fine and costs in a case of assault tried in Justice Hill's Court.

— We learn that work on the new market house, to be located on the site of the lately destroyed "Lippitt's Block," will be commenced on Monday morning next.

— The State Convention of the African Methodist Episcopal Sunday School will be held at Newbern on the 28th inst. Round trip tickets from Wilmington $3 00.

— Excursionists on the steamer Passport report a heavy rain of about two hours duration or more, at Smithville and other points below yesterday. We had a very light sprinkle here.

— We are glad to learn that the Point Caswell section was visited Thursday by splendid rains. They appeared to be very general throughout that part of Pender, and were gladly welcomed.

— The third quarterly meeting for the present Conference year, at Fifth Street M. E. Church, takes place to-day and to-morrow. Dr. Burkhead, Presiding Elder, will be in attendance and preach Sunday, morning and evening.

— The season has been prolific of twins in the vegetable line—we mean, of course, of the Siamese variety. The most remarkable we have seen was a twin cantaloupe, which was exhibited to us by Mr. T. A. Watson. The two cantaloupes were very fine ones and were joined together near the point where they were attached to the vine.

Unmailable Matter.

The following is the unmailable matter remaining in the city postoffice:

Mrs. Caroline Deatheray, Washington, Va.; W. B. Binford, Esq., Bidge county, Va.; W. C. Frida, Charleston, S. C.

If you have been drinking too much, which however you should never do, a dose of Dr. Bull's Baltimore Pills will place you in good condition again.

To-Day's Indications.

For the South Atlantic States, southerly to westerly winds, partly cloudy weather, and areas of rain, with slight changes in temperature and barometer, are the indications for to-day.

Painful Accident.

A little son of Mr. T. O. Bunting, Township Constable, was run over by a loaded dray yesterday afternoon and severely injured. It seems from the account of the accident, given by the spectators, that little Clinton, who is only about six years of age, was in the act of running across the street nearly in front of Capt. T. J. Southerland's livery stable, on Second, between Princess and Chesnut streets, when a horse attached to a dray, loaded with scantling, came in contact with him, knocking him down, when one wheel of the dray passed over him, grazing his right side and going over the knee joint, his leg, it is thought, having been partially drawn up at the critical moment. It was thought at first that his leg was crushed, but after being taken home, and undergoing an examination, the gratifying announcement was made that no bones were broken. The leg, however, was badly bruised and swollen, and his side was also considerably hurt, rendering it probable that he will be confined to his bed for sometime to come.

The drayman, we are informed, was not to blame for the accident, as he was sitting on the side of the dray opposite to that side of the street from which the little fellow started to cross, and that consequently he did not see him. The draymen cannot be too cautious, however, in keeping a sharp lookout in order to prevent the occurrence of such accidents.

Here and Down Below.

The sanitary brigade are continually on duty in the day, and sometimes at night, and, under direction of their generalissimo, prevent the accumulation of any matter or substances that could either develope or promote disease. If private premises are half as well policed as the public thoroughfares, the public health is in a great measure assured.

Down below, as we are informed, everything is lovely. So far as Dr. Curtis is concerned, we know that it is his purpose to co-operate cordially with the officials here and in the country to prevent the introduction of infectious or contagious diseases. The moment there is danger below he will disclose the whole facts to the proper officers here. We say this much to check the disposition too often manifest here to credit cock-and-bull stories from below as to sickness among the shipping.

Seized with a Fainting Fit.

A colored woman, by the name of Martha Foster, residing on the corner of Fifth and Castle streets, was seized with a fainting fit yesterday, about 12 o'clock, and it was thought for sometime that life was extinct. The report having obtained circulation that a woman had dropped dead, a crowd gathered in the vicinity, and it was sometime before their minds could be relieved of the impression that another human being had been ushered, without warning, into the presence of its Maker. The attack was what is known in medical parlance as sincope, being one of the results of heart disease, and the physician who was called in thought at first that it was a critical case. The sufferer had somewhat improved at last accounts.

Homeward Bound.

The Sumter Light Infantry, Capt. Delgar, broke camp at Smithville yesterday, coming up to the city last evening on the steamer Passport, as the first movement towards returning to their home in our sister State. They looked refreshed, were in the best possible frame of mind, and could, on demand, endure the fatigue and privations of long and weary marches. They speak in warm terms of their encampment enjoyments, of the cordial courtesy manifested towards them by all with whom they came in contact, both below and here. We know that our city folks and the Smithvillians will be pleased whenever they choose to repeat their visit.

Some of the members of the Company took last night's train for Sumter, and a number of others will depart this morning.

Atmospheric Freak.

There was a fine rain at the sounds shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning. A gentleman who was down there informs us that the "squall" was preceded by a very singular atmospheric phenomenon. The heavens suddenly became brilliantly illuminated, as if the sun had been rising, the reflection being so powerful that a person walking on the banks could be distinctly seen from Capt. Manning's piazza, and at other points on Wrightsville Sound. It was somewhat similar to what is termed the "Northern Light," but much more brilliant, and only lasted a few minutes.

Thermometer Record.

The following will show the state of the thermometer, at the stations mentioned, at 4.31 yesterday evening, Washington mean time, as ascertained from the daily bulletin issued from the Signal Office in this city:

Atlanta	81	Key West	89
Augusta	81	Mobile	77

At Dudley's Grove.

We are requested to state that Rev. J. B. Taylor, of the First Baptist Church will preach at Dudley's Grove to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

Hard Up for a Drink.

A stranger called at the store of Mr. John Gerdts, corner of Fourth and Bladen streets, Thursday afternoon, and commenced making a bill of goods. He carried his memorandum book in his hand, and kept up a running calculation as he progressed with his purchases, to all appearances intent on fortifying himself against the possibility of the slightest error occurring in his multifarious transactions. One of the articles called for was a quart flask of "Old Rye," and this he slipped in his coat pocket. Finally he remarked that he would go and get his cart and "load up;" upon which he left the store, with his numerous bundles piled up on the counter, and the quart of whiskey in his pocket, and Mr. Thees, the obliging clerk, has not since been favored with so much as a glimpse of his customer or the contents of his pocket-book. It is remarkable to what lengths some people will go to secure "a few draps o' the crater."

Death of an Aged Citizen.

Mr. William Willson, one of the oldest white citizens of this place, died at his residence, on Princess, between Sixth and Seventh streets, yesterday morning, of paralysis of the heart, after a short illness, which commenced only the afternoon previous. Mr. Willson, who was aged about 80 years, was well known and highly esteemed in the community. His funeral will take place this afternoon at half-past 4 o'clock. See announcement elsewhere.

The Lutheran Church.

At the regular quarterly meeting of the Church Council of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, in this city, it was resolved that the night services be suspended until the second Sunday in September, (the 14th), and that the morning services be conducted in the English language up to that time.

Rainfall.

Bountiful, refreshing, cheering, drought-killing rains were reported in this vicinity, yesterday, south of us, but here the clouds seem determined to perform their office much after the order of water oozing from a defective sprinkling pot. The skies, however, at 12 o'clock, were still in the promissory mood.
