The yellow fever fright in Washington was needless. As yet there is no case there.

According to the Mobile Register there are five cases of yellow fever at Harrison's Station, Miss., and no mistake.

A Grant organ is threatened to be started at Washington. Are not the woes of the country already sufficiently great?

The Philadelphia Times, Ind., and the Baltimore Gazette, Dem., advise Mr. Hayes to appoint George W. Childs, the proprietor of the Philadelphia Ledger, to the English mission.

Gen. Miles is thought to be in a rather uncomfortable position. The Buffalo Indians are on one side and Sitting Bull 18 on the other. Miles will be apt to take care of his command, as he is a wily fighter.

One Hutten, is suspected of pocketing $10,000 sent to him as chairman of the Iowa Republican Campaign Committee of, 1878. He has never accounted for the money. "Gone where the woodbine twineth."

Buos qui sequitur lepores, neutrum capit .-Raleigh News.

Just so. If a railroad superintendent undertakes to manage two rival roads both will suffer. The "hare" will never be "caught" and cooked in that way.

Settle has an admiration for Grant, although he wouldn't object to play second fiddle to Sherman .- Courier Journal.

Right again. Settle is for winning. His hankering after position 18 immense. He would agree to be the tail of anybody's kite so he could sail into the Vice Presidency.

Wise Words. |Mr. Stephens' Speech at Atlanta.

No representative government can exist long where the people do not understand the principles of the government, where they are not attached to those principles, and they have not the determination to maintain them. These principles were succintly announced by Jefferson in the three words-the intelligence, virtue and patriotism of the people. We are a free people. Ours, State and Federal, is a representative government. But remember the first principle announced is that no free people can maintain their institutions long unless they understand the pinciples of their government, unless they are attached to them.

This is the object of the Hesperian Social Club, recently organized in this city and composed of some of the best of our colored

- The Shoe Heel correspondent of the Robesonian informs it that a colored child at Stewartsville, Richmond county, died some days ago under suspicious cir-cumstances, and its body having been exumed, it was found that one of its hips had been broken and that it had received other injuries. Its father was found shot dead, in his own house, a year ago.

- The Geldsboro Mail says that Rev. F. H. Ivey's fine memorial address, on the late President Wingate, may be had by the late Freshdent wingate, may be had by sending two three cent postage stamps to Rev. F. H. Ivey, Goldsboro, N. C., who has been prevailed upon to accept this small remuneration to aid him in paying postage and bearing the cost of publica-tion, which was done at his expense.

- Gold-boro Mail: The Governor offers a reward of two hundred dollars for the capture of Deems Simmons, colored, who killed David Lanier, of this county. - On the first Thursday in August the voters of Greene county will vote upon the question of a county subscription of $50,000 to the Goldsboro, Snow Hill & Greenville Railway, and if a majority shall say subscription, we think Wayne and Pitt should feel honor bound to raise an equal amount by private subscription. — Over $50,000 of the $80,000 pledged on the grand campaign for the Harnett Railway has been already subscribed, and the work goes bravely on. — The canvass for a county subscription to the Greenville Railroad goes bravely on in Greene. ---- Wayne will raise an average crop after all if seasons are favorable from this out. ----Several fine brick stores are taking the place of those burned in Wilson last fall. - Charlotte Observer: The Ches ter (S. C.) Bullstin notes that a few days ago 864 bushels of corn were shipped from that place to Dallas to be converted into Gaston county whiskey. This does not speak volumes of praise in behalf of "the model county." — The Norfolk mer-chants have chartered the trains of the Wilmington & Weldon, Raleigh & Gaston, Raleigh & Augusta Air Line, and Seaboard & Roanoke Railroads, the Tar, Roanoke, and Chowan River Lines, for an excursion to that city, on August 5th, for the benefit the business men on the line of the respective above named routes. -Two persons, a lady and gentleman, the former on, her premises and the latter in his store, were taken suddenly ill yesterday afternoon and dropped helpless as though paralyzed or stricken with apoplexy. The affections, however, were only tem-porary in both cases, and the parties soon recovered. — Six fine young blooded horses are in training at the fair grounds, the property of Charlotte and Mecklenburg men. They will be heard from at the State fair next fall. — Paul H. Hayne, the South Curping meet meet provide the South Carolina poet, was registered at the Central Hotel last evening. — One of the fire companies of the city proposes a contest for the championship of the State and for such prize as any citizen or citizens will offer, with any other fire company or companies in the State, the contest to take place in the city during the fair next fall. A letter from Shelby gives the following account of a tragedy in Cleaveland: "Deputy Sheriff William Suttle, of Rutherford county, summoned a posse of men last Sunday night for the purpose of arrest-ing two negroes, who had stolen some horses in South Carolina, and who were at that time hiding around the village of Burnt Chimney. While the officers and his men were attempting to arrest the horse thieves, they commenced cutting and shooting. Mr. John Butler, a very worthy citizen, was shot, from the effects of which he died very soon afterwards, and some others of the party were slightly wounded by the ne-groes. The officers returned the fire and a general fight ensued, which resulted in one of the negroes receiving several wounds be-fore their capture. The negroes are now in jail at Rutherfordton. THE CITY.

fence, which was afterwards known as Howard Cavalry, and of which W. C Howard was made Captain, and Mr. Player Sr. 2nd Lieutenant. This company saw service at Fort Fisher and in Onslow with others, went to work and raised and county, and continued in the performance of the duty for which it was organized until the local companies were required to enter the regular service, when he was relieved in consequence of being over age. It was during the time that the Howard Cavalry was on duty in Onslow that he formed one of five volunteers from his company - consisting of himself, who originated the scheme, and Messrs. J. C. Heyer, George Kidder, Whiteford Bowden and John Jones-who joined Captain Hill's Scotland Neck Cavalry Company in a perilous expedition against about two thousand Federal troops stationed about two miles from a place called Shepardsville. These brave men attacked the picket lines of the enemy, killed a number of the Federals and captured nine prisoners. This feat was accomplished on Monday, the 7th day of April, 1862, and was considered at the time an extremely hazardous undertaking. Mr. Player had the reputation of being a capital soldier, always ready for any enterprise, and prompt and energetic in the discharge of every duty.

Two years ago Mr. Player was appointed. by the Legislature, upon the recommendation of his ward, a member of the Board of Audit and Finance of the city, which position he held at the time of his death. He was a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church, and in all the relations of life sustained a reputation for honesty, integrity and straightforward dealings with his fellow men, which attained for him a high place in the affections and esteem of the community.

Dr. Dyce Duckworth contributes a short memorandum on the subject of neuralgia. He was called on to treat a case of very severe toothache, and tried various ordinary remedies, including chloroform and carbolic acid, without any benefit to the patient. He then remembered having read that the pain might be removed by holding in the mouth a solution of bicarbonate of soda. He at once gave the patient half a drachm in an ounce of water, and, to his astonishment, the pain ceased immediately, and complete relief was secured.
