We make a suggestion to some competent writer who loves North Carolina and is proud of the record of the men of the past.

It is to carefully prepare a volume of elaborate sketches of individual character, to be entitled "The Men of the Revolution."

The material exists for such a volume. It awaits the man of leisure and literary skill. An enjoyable and useful volume could be written on the worthies who flourished in North Carolina in the last century.

The title might be altered so as to embrace a wider field. Who will perform what should be "a labor of love?"

Enthusiasm for liberty and love of home, of country, are sure to prove a nursery of talent and of noble deeds.

Tammany will propose Erastus Brooks as its candidate for Governor of New York. The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes:

"Mr. Brooks has many recommendations to popular support, such as long and faithful service to public life, an incorruptible record and signal ability in the advocacy of measures looking to the general welfare of the State, quite as much as to the particular interests of his party."

Local News. Thirty-five bunches of fish were condemned and sent out of the market yesterday afternoon.
