Not So Hot as He Thought. On a pleasant day in the early part of the week a resident on Sixth street came down town puffing and blowing and complaining of the intense heat, saying he was about to "melt," and he could see so way of preventing it unless he shut himself up in an ice house. In this state of worry he dropped in a store on Front street to consult a thermometer, when he found that it only indicated 84 degrees-very mild temperature indeed. He pronounced thermometer a humbug, a fraud, and swore that his own was at ninety-six degrees, and had been all day, for he had looked at it several times, and it hadn't varied the least mite. Finally our friend went home still sweltering with heat and drowning with perspiration, when he concluded to take another look at his thermometer, and this time it dawned upon his perceptive faculties that something was wrong. He then entered upon an investigation, when he found that the instrument had been broken, and in such a manner as to leave the mercury stationary at the point indicating 96 degrees. Upon making this discovery he immediately "cooled off," and afterwards let out the joke upon him-

MADISON, WIS., July 29, 1879. Hon. Duncan K. McRae : DEAR SIR—The Democratic State Convention will be held in this city on the 9th of September next, and we propose holding, in connection with the Convention, an immense mass meeting on the evenings of the 9th and 10th. The Convention will be held during the State Fair week, and we shall have one of the greatest crowds ever witnessed in Wisconsin.

We Madison people remember your mage ificent speech here during the Tilden campaign, and are anxious to hear you again. Gen. D. W. Voorhees will be one of the speakers, and we must argently reuest your presence too.

The Republican Convention was held last week. They had Chandler, Garfield and Burrows to help start their "boom." We want you to lacerate Zach Chandler something after the manner you did Bob Ingersoll here three years ago.

Let us hear from you at once and we beg that you don't fail us. With great respect, WM. F. VILAS, of the National Dem. Com. A. C. PARKINSON, of the State Central Com.

Arrest of a Burglar-His Escape and Me-Arrest.

A colored man by the name of Fuller Hansley, who was jailed a few days ago on the charge of cattle stealing, was arrested on Topsail Sound on Wednesday evening last, on a warrant issued by Justice C. W. McClammy, charged with breaking into the dwelling of an old colored man by the name of Frank Loftin. The prisoner was locked up in a store-house, and while the magistrate and others were engaged in fixing up the necessary papers in the case, preparatory to sending him to jail, he succeeded in breaking out of the store and made his escape. Information was lodged with the police here, and yesterday morning Officer Biddle came across an individusl at the foot of Market street who asswered to the description of the missing criminal. At the time he discovered Hansley he was inquiring the way to Judge Russell's plantation, in Brudswick county, and was exhibiting great anxiety to get ferried across the river. Officer Biddle made sure of his man, and then arrested him and took him to the guard-house, where he was locked up to await further developments.

The Fire this Morning. The alarm of fire, about 2 o'clock this morning, was caused by the burning of a small one story frame building, on the corner of Orange and Third streets, and occupied as a grocery and bar-room by Mr. Richard Lietjen. The building was of a very combustible nature, and what with a strong south wind, which was blowing at the time; the flames burst forth furrously, and, notwithstanding the efforts of the firemen, the fabric and contents were quickly consumed. The buildings in the neighborhood were somewhat endangered by the heavy burning flakes which were thrown off, but a vigilant lookout prevented any taking fire. The building was owned by Mr. W. B. Giles, and was insured. Mr Lietjen was absent at the Sound at the time to the amount of his loss, but would suppose that it will not exceed five hundred dollars. The building was of small value. not exceeding three hundred dollars. The origin of the fire is unknown.
