Conkling's lament:

Wo worth the Chase, wo worth the day That took my Presidential hopes away.

The famous old Castle Thunder, at Richmond, Va, has been burned. Loss $125,000.

The New York Sun is engaged editorially in proving that Rev. L S. Kalloch is a better man than Beecher.

The Republican party in Arkansas is to be reorganized for the contest in 1880. Ex-Senator Dorsey is to boss the rickety machine. According to the Baltimore Bulletin the police authorities of that city are very actively engaged in trying "to bring about a repeal of the Sunday laws." The Iowa Stalwarts are moving to put Senator Kirkwood on the ticket with Grant, or if possible make him first on the ticket with some other Stalwart as second.

A report prevails in New York that Tilden and Tammany may harmonize. It is said that Tilden wil agree to some other candidate than Gov. Robinson, on the condition that some other friend of his be chesen This pleases Kelly for the time being.

The shot-gun argument is not con fined to Yazoo. It was used with prompt effect in Rhode Island and with dangerous result in San Francisco. But Conkling caught no shot. He made tracks. His motto for the occasion was, "Legs do your duty."

Wendell Phillips, most eloquent of the old abolition orators, and a Republican of a very pronounced type, has a poor opinion of the Hayes family. He says: which we zhould be it

"While this administration of corrupt I blush to be an American citizen."

Thus far at Memphis 238 negroes have had yellow fever. Of these but 24 died. There have been 293 white cases, and of these 115 have died. The deduction from this would seem to be that negroes can take the disease very readily, but it is not by a great deal as fatal as among the whites.

Mr. G. W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger, is known to be on terms of close personal friendship with Grant. In view of this fact the fol- - Raleigh Observer: There are

The indications are that there swill be a very presperous session. —— Raleigh has To-Day's Indications. "Colonel John B. Brownlow, of Tennes see, tells a local reporter that he has just had a long and frank talk with Mr. G. W. Childs, or the Philadelphia Ledger, on the nomination of General Grant for the Presidency, and that Mr. Childs informed him ositively that General Grant is not a can-idate and will not be one. Mr. Cailds had just received a letter from General Grant asking him to meet the General at San Francisco and accompany him to Philadelphia, where they would live."

The well informed New York cor respondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes that the Conkling set are disturbed because Hayes and Sherman are both to be at the Indiana State Fair. They want Lord Roscoe to enter the Ohio canvass, and thus increase his capital stock. The fact of Grant's unwillingness to become a candidate adds to their embarrass nents. The correspondent says:

"As long as General Grant's candidature was a possibility, it seemed hardly worth an effort on the part of any one else to place himself in competition with it; but low that there is no such possibility the onditions are materially changed. There s an inducement to go to work now with some chance of success. If Sherman were out of the way, Mr. Conkling's friends beleve he could walk over the course.

place of its size in the country. A capital building material is the brown or red sand stone of Chatham, yet only one house in the city is built of it. — The salt spray thrown up by the late storm at Beaufort killed nearly all the trees there. The effect is about the same as that of a fire, upon the foliage, which is brown and shrivelled.

The elm trees were specially injured. The elm trees were specially injured.

Slightly Mixed. A sedate and steady-going citizen, who seldom or never-well, perhaps hardly ever -mixes things, either in speech or otherwise, was one of the interested spectators of that enormous watermelon reported in these columns as weighing 52 pounds, more or less, and shortly afterwards had his ideas of the marvellous further enlarged by a cursory view of the-scaffold enwrapt steeple of the Presbyterian church, which he was told was 152 feet high. Wending his way homeward, he astonished his family by gravely asserting that he had seen a water melon weighing 152 pounds, and, furthermore, that the Presbyterian church steeple was exactly 52 feet high. Supper was caten n silence that night, the impression prevailing that the head of the family hadwell, somehow or other, gotten something decidedly mixed. Matters were all set to right, however, the following morning by an amusing explanation, and happiness once more reigned supreme in that family, whose equanimity had only been a trifle

Nothing has been yet heard from the over-due schooner John A. Griffin, and some of the friends of the two young Wilmingtonians who were on board of her, express great anxiety as to her fate.
