OUTLINES.

Cotton operatives of two or three English mills have accepted reduced wages. A shock of an earthquake was felt at Szedgied. The visit of Emperor William to the Car was decided upon. Mrs. W. H. Kerf, of Philadelphia, died of hydrophobia.

The U. S. Treasury holds $30,678,464 of standard dollars. Against this is $3,281,850 of silver certificates. There has also accumulated in the Treasury $15,236,734 by the redemption of fractional silver coin.

The Spanish authorities object to the examination of Spanish vessels at Havana by the American Consul. Any vessel that enters any United States port, coming from a port where yellow fever prevails, without a certificate from the American consul, based on the certificate of the United States surgeon, that the vessel was free from disease at the time of sailing, is to be fined $1,000.

The remarkable case has been reported by Trinity College. A distinguished student of that college has agreed to give up his education at that college, and to go to the University of the South.

Charlotte Observer: Postmaster D. E. Rhayre addresses a note stating that the name of the postoffice lately known as W. C. Rhayre, in this county, has been changed to Mount Holly, to conform to the name of the village.

There was no session of the Mayor's Court yesterday morning. Most of the Fayetteville students were in the city by the steamer last night.

The various local Boards of Health throughout the county still, and rightly so, decline to recognize the so-called National Board, or to have anything to do with it.

There has been a slight rise in the river since our last report—about ten inches at Fayetteville. The depth of water on the shoals at last accounts was three feet.

Atlanta, Ga., has thus far contributed $1,000 to the Gen. Hood fund. This is generous and worthy of imitation.

The Democratic paper in Cincinnati, the Enquirer, says Evans will sweep the states.

Quinine has tumbled at last. American is selling in New York at $3.25 against $3.50 before the report of the duty. Foreign fetches $2.85 against $3.30 of some time ago.

A poor fellow was found in Central Park, N. Y., hanging to a tree. He left a card saying he was rendered wretched by love. He gave no name, saying he wanted to be buried known.

It turns out that Rev. Dr. Joseph P. Thompson was not the man who wrote the love letters. It was another Rev. Thompson who spells his name with a P. DeLaud says he has a kinder's great love of himself.

The manufacturers have orders so far ahead that they could not take any bids to furnish iron work for the extension of the New State War and Navy Department buildings in Washington.

The orphans at Oxford are being neglected by the people. The excellent Superintendent, in his monthly report for August, says:

There are 128 orphans at the Asylum, and many others are asking admission.
