The Sunday-law question is greatly agitating Richmond, Va., just now. Some favor the present law, whilst others desire to have it modified.

Baltimore is threatened with an Independent Democratic ticket. Democrats seem inclined to help on the Grant movement as fast as possible.

Little Eugene Hale is said to be the coming man for United States Senator from Maine in place of old man Hamlin, aged 70, and long time in service.

General Robert Toombs is rich, and he proposes to tax himself $100 during the rest of his life for the benefit of the orphan children of the late Gen. Hood.

Maine and California appear to teach the Democrats an important lesson-that a straight out fight on principle is surer to win the combinations with factions.

We respectfully submit that it is not exactly courteous in General Chalmers, of Mississippi, to refer to Uncle Sammy Tilden as "that miserable dried-up old mummy."

The increase in the travel will doubtless fully repay the roads for what they appear to lose. - Rev. Wm. R. Total for Lucy, "five in fifteen months," he says—an average of one every three months, i. e., four a year. — Three cheers for brother Creecy! Mr. A. E. Carr, who did the shooting, and who is in jail here, will doubtless be admitted to bail to-morrow. If the rumors of this outrage are sustained by the facts in the case—that Carr was called from his bed and attacked premeditatedly in his yard by the negrothe only thing to be regretted is that the bullet from Carr's pistol failed to accomplish the object for which it was fired. - At a negro school, near Princeton, the scholars were playing dogs and fox, a tenyear old boy acting as fox. When caught he was jumped on and so roughly treated by the other scholars that he had to be carried home, and died three days after. Before dying he said the other scholars disliked him because he stood at the head of his classes. The case is receiving some official attention from Esquires Joyner and Richardson. — On Monday, in New Hope township, J. H. Grant was deputized by 'Squire James F. From a person living in the neighborhood who was on the ground before the general alarm was sounded, we learn that the fire was first observed bursting through the roof, and the belief was general that it was of incendiary origin, no fire being allowed in the building at any time-not even a stove in winter. Other persons, however, living close by, say that the fire, when first seen, was at the lower northwest corner.

The building was a two-story frame structure, used as a carriage and wagon manufactory, and contained several new vehicles, and a quantity of varnish, trimmings, &c., of an inflammable nature. The building and stock were insured for $1,100-$800 on the building and $300 on sons were on it at the time, but no one was when a sudden movement of the train | the stock, tools, &c , and the proprietor es- injured. Charles Galloway, George Taylor, Archy and the public interest will not be allowed Moore, and D. J. Houston, all colored, were arraigned before Justice Gardner vesterday on the charge of failing to work the public roads after being duly summoned, as the law in relation thereto requires. The cases were tried separately, and in that of Charles Galloway, counsel submitted that he was not liable to work the road, domicile being in the city, and he being only temporarily in the country as a servant to a family spending a portion of the summer at Wrightsville Sound, and on this ground an appeal was taken to the next term of the Criminal Court, judgment being rendered against the defendant.

Judgment was also found against all the other parties brought up, and as there were two cases against each, for failure to appear on the 9th and 10th insts., the fines and costs in each case amounted to $11 00. In the cases of Taylor and Moore this was paid and the defendants discharged, while Houston was committed to jail in default of payment.

The law is very sweeping and explicit as to who shall work the roads, and the duties of overseers. No exemptions are allowed for any cause, where the persons are physically able and between the ages of 18 and 45 years, and are otherwise liable.

Mayor's Court. There was only one individual before this tribunal yesterday morning, but inasmuch as he represented two cases and is a pretty regular guest of the city's, he merits more than a passing notice. He (William Phinney) was first arraigned on the charge of disorderly conduct, and the case being fully proven, and being an extremely dis orderly one, he was sentenced to a fine of $25 or 30 days in the city prison. On the charge of resisting an officer (the second case against him) he was also found guilty and sentenced to $25 or 30 days imprisonment, the extreme penalty of the law in both cases. The fines in both cases amounted to exactly $50, and his exchequer having recently been depleted exactly of this amount, he retired to the city prison, there to remain for the space of sixty days.

The bale of cotton to be raffled for the Hood children, chances in which have been taken at Kasprowicz's cigar store and at S. Jewett's book store during the past week, was disposed of last night. One hundred and eight chances were taken and the net amount realized will be about $54. Chance number 25, taken by Mr. W. A. Whitehead, won the prize on a throw of 42 out of a possible 54. The amount realized will be forwarded at once.
