THE INDIAN WAR. A Lively Time Kept up-The Savages Strongly Entrenched-Troops and Horses Going to the Front.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.) RAWLINS, October 12.—It is believed here, on the evidence of a man who left the here, on the evidence of a man who left the command Thursday morning, that ever since Gen. Merritt reached Capt. Payne, he has been fighting the Indians. The savages seem determined to keep the troops from reaching the Agency and have fortified themselves in a commanding position. They are continually at work strengthening their position, and to dislodge them will require an additional force. Col. Brackett, of the Third Cavalry, with a detachment of six companies of cavalry, and two of infantry, will leave for the front Monday. Horses to remount the dismounted men of Payne's command will be sent forward to-morrow.

LATER.

The Utes Agree to Fight no More-They Obey Chief Ouray's Order-Captives from the White River Agency-Order from Gen. Sherman. WASHINGTON, October 13.—The following has been received by the Indian Com-

Los Pinos Agency, Oct. 9th.—Employe Brady and an escort of Indians have just arrived from White River. The Utes recognized and obeyed Ouroy's order. They withdrew and will fight no more unless stopped the trouble can be stopped by the forced to do so. If the soldiers are now Peace Commission to investigate offenses, and let the blame rest where it may. This will save life, expense and distress, if it can be accomplished.

LATER.-A runner is just in from the Southern Ute Agency, with a letter from the Agent. A general council has been held. The Utes will obey Ouray's request. They will stay at home and take no part in the White River trouble, and request Ouroy to inform them of their decision. STANLEY, Agent.

[Signed] I concur in the above. OURAY, [Signed]

Head Chief of the Utes. DENVER, October 13 .- Sapavaneiro, one of the most reliable sub-chiefs, who was sent by Ouray to the White River Agency, has returned to Los Pinos Agency. He reports that he saw white women and children at the White River Agency, in charge of Chief Douglass. He saw one of the emloyes, who was present when the Indians ade the attack on the Agency. This man killed one Indian and wounded another. Sapavaneiro thinks three or four more em ployes are alive. Meeker was killed. The report as given in the papers, that Sapava-neiro and Shavano took part in the fight, is natrue, and it is also not sure that Chief Douglass led the White River Utes. Ouray thinks Jack, a White River Ute, commanded the Indians in the charge on Thorn burgh's command.

Secretary Schurz immediately called on Gen. Sherman with the above dispatch, and as the result of the conference, Gen. Sherman sent the following instructions to Gen.

"The Honorable Secretary of the Interior has this morning called with a dispatch, given at length below, which is communicated for your information, and which should go for what it is worth to Generals Crook and Merritt. The latter on the spot can tell if the hostiles have ceased fighting. If so Gen. Merritt should go in every event to the Agency to ascertain the actual condition of the facts.
All Indians who oppose must be cleared out of the way if they resist. If they surrender their arms and ponies they should be held as prisoners, to be disposed of by superior orders. The Secretary of the Interior will send a special agent at once to Ouray, who is believed to be honest and our friend. He may prevent the Southern Utes from being involved, and the Interior-Department can be friend him afterwards, by showing favor to some of his special friends. But the murderers of the agent and employes must be punished, as also those who fought and killed Major Thorn-burgh and men. Please acknowledge re-

W. T. SHERMAN, General."

SUPREME COURT.

Interesting Political Cases-Constiturionality of Civil Rights Acts to be Tested.

[By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] Washington, October 12.—The Supreme Court reassembles to-morrow. On Tuesday the Court will commence the hearing of argument in a series of political cases, which, on account of their public importance, have been advanced.

The first case to be argued is the petition for a mandamus in behalf of the State of Virginia against Hop. Alexander Rives, Judge of the United States Court for the Western District of Virginia, who removed into the Federal Court the cases of two colored men, indicted for murder, on the ground that they were prevented from having any colored men upon the jury. Attorney General Devens and Mr. Willoughby, of Va., for Judge Rives, and Mr. Field, Attorney General of Virginia, and Judge Robertson for the State.

The next argument will be heard on the petition for habeas corpus in the case of Hon. J. D. Cole, Judge of a Virginia State Court, who has been indicted in the U. S. District Court, for alleged violation of the Federal statute of March 3, 1875, in refusing to put colored men upon a jury in a case where a colored man was indicted for murder. The principal arguments will be made by Attorney General Devens and Mr. Field, respectively, for the United States and for the petitioner.

These two cases will bring up the question of the constitutionality of the various civil rights acts. Immediately after these will probably be heard the case of Strander vs. State of West Virginia, which is that of a colored man who was convicted of crime under the statute of West Virginia, which expressly excludes colored men from getting on juries, the contention of plaintiff in error being that said law of that State is unconatitutional. Attorney General Devens and Mr. Willoughby will appear before the plaintiff in error, and it is understood that Senator Gordon, of Georgia, has been retained to assist the Attorney General of West Virginia in defending the suit.

most of the cars were badly damaged.

Both trains were behind time. The collision was caused by a mistake in train or-ders, the west-bound train having orders to meet the east-bound train at a point west of Bellton, and the west-bound train having orders naming a point east of Bellton as the place of meeting.

CINCINNATI, October 13 -A Wheeling (W. Va.) dispatch gives the following additional intelligence in regard to the collision of two passenger trains on the Balti-more & Ohio Railroad, at Bellton, West

Virgina, on Saturday night:

Both trains were filled with passengers, who miraculously escaped injury, with the exception of a little girl, who was slightly hurt about the face. Jasper, the fireman of the west-bound train, was seriously injured. A boy named Flanagan, aged fifteen years, who was stealing a ride, was instantly killed. His parents live at Clarkeburg, West Virginia. A negro boy, who was stealing his way to Clarksburg, between the tender and postel ear. tween the tender and postal car, was seriously injured. George Shinn, postal clerk on the western-bound train, was seriously injured, and taken to his home in Fairmount, West Virginia, where he now lies in a critical condition. The refrigerating car, containing butter, was crushed to pieces. The postal and baggage cars of both trains are total wrecks. The bodies of engineer Askew and fireman Smith were brought to this city this morning and taken to their homes. Jasper was taken to

A freedman who was inside then fired on the attacking party, wounding one of them. At this juncture the door was forced open, and Esther and her family, with a negro from a neighboring cabin, were carried away, several other negroes escaping. MERRITT'S COMMAND AT WRITE RIVER-FINDING THE DEAD-WOMEN AND CHIL-DREN MISSING-INDIANS ALL GONE.

[By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] RAWLINS, Wy., October 13.—Two couriers have arrived from the White River Agency. From them is learned the follow-

Gen. Merritt advanced upon the Agency on the 11th. On his way he found many dead bodies, among others that of Carl Goldstein, who left here with government supplies for the White River Agency. He was shot twice through the shoulder, and was two miles from his wagons. A teamster, named Julius Moore, who was with him when he left here, was found about one hundred yards from Goldstein, with two bullet-holes in his breast, and his body backed and mutilated. As the command advanced they came to an old coal mine, and in it was found the dead body of an Agency employe named Dresser. He had evidently been wounded and crawled into the mine to die. His coat was folded up and placed under his head for a pillow, and in his pockets a letter was found which, as near as the courier remembers, was as follows: "White River, September 29, 1 o'clock P. M .- MAJ. THORNBURGH: I will come with Chief Bouglass and another Chief, and meet you to morrow. Everything quiet here, and Douglass is flying the United States flag. We have been on guard for three nights and will be to-night—not that we expect any trouble, but because there might be. Did you have any trouble coming through the canvon?

"N. C. MERKER, (Signed) U. S. Indian Agent." On entering the Agency a scene of desolation was presented. All the buildings, except one, were burned to the ground; not a living thing was in sight except the com-mand. The Isdians had taken everything and decamped. The women and children were missing, and nothing could be found to indicate what had become of them. They have been murdered and burned, or taken away as hostages. The dead body of Father Meeker was found at a distance of about one hundred yards from his house, lying on his back, shot through the head. The left side of his head had been smashed in with some blunt instrument, a piece of a barrel stave driven into his mouth, and one of his hands and arms badly burned. The dead body of W. H. Post, Father Meeker's assistant, was found between the building and the river, with a bullet hole through his left ear and one under the eye. He and Father Meeker were naked. Another employe, named Eaton, was found dead and stripped naked. His face was eaten by wolves, and there was a bullet hole in his left breast. Frank Dresser, a brother of the man found in the coal mine, was found badly burned; a bullet had passed through his breast. The bodies of Eaton, Thompson, Price and Kridge, and all the other emyloyes not before named, were also found. Kridge was found two miles from the Agency, naked, and with a bullet hole through his
