"Looker-on in Venice." Ah, Mr. State, is that the way you read it?

Richmond is a tip-toe to see Seigle's amateurs' that are to excel all others in "Pinafore."

The Richmond State will soon move into handsome quarters. A good paper, that has succeeded because it richly deserved it.

Seven steamers left New York on Saturday for Europe. They were beavily loaded with breadstuffs, provisions, etc. Over 175,000 bushels of grain were carried.

When Roscoe Conkling and Henry Ward Beecher appeared together as the speakers at a Brooklyn Stalwart meeting, there was peculiar fitness in the association. Tilton and Sprague ought to have been there with their shot-guns.

The returns from Ohio at the hour we write indicate that Foster, Republican, is elected Governor by a large majority. What the complexion of the Legislature is we are unable to say. The result is not a sorprise to thousands of Democrats.

The Norfolk Repudiators are withdrawing their subscriptions from the Norfolk Virginian because of its out-spoken denunciations of their set. We have no doubt that in this case it will prove to our respected contemporary "that honesty is the best policy."

A New York letter of the 11th thus sums up the market for last

"In commercial and business circles the week has been altogether a satisfactory one. An immense quantity of goods, of all descriptions, have been distributed, and values, with scarcely an exception, have been firmly maintained on all the leading staples, including groceries, hides and leather, iron and metals, chemicals, petroleum and dry goods. Commodities, in which there is always more or less speculative activity, such as breadstuffs, provisions and cotton. have likewise shown much strength. Merchants, all around, appear to be making money, and the croakers, for the time be-ing, have totally disappeared."

John Pool will soon issue a sort of manifesto, ukase, pronunciamento, ball, or something of the kind, to his brethese in distress in the South, now known as the "Outs." The Baltimore Sun's letter from Washington thus refers to the matter:

"Ex-Senator Pool, of North Carolina, will, it is reported, issue in a short time an open letter to the Republicans of the South, embodying the sentiments expressed by him at the recent meeting of Southern representatives in this city, and urging all representatives in the South to vote against any candidate for the Presidency nomi-usted on the idea of a solid North. Mr. Pool justly takes the view that if a solid South is to be condemned then a solid North cannot be defended."

been tried in Wayne Court for the murder of Babel Autry, in Sampson county, and was convicted and sentenced to be hanged on November 21, 1879. - Mt. Airy Visitor: Rev. C. C.

- The Statesville American explains that the $25,000 recently recovered by Maj Wilson, for the Western North Carolina Railroad, in Florida, belongs exclusively to the eastern division of the road, and is no part of that claimed by the west-

- A correspondent tells the Salisbury News that Professor Mitchell, the wellknown slack-rope dancer, gave an exhibition for the benefit of the church at Old Fort, and a snug little sum was realized. The string band furnished the music for the occasion.

- Weldon News: The carrierpigeon that we mentioned several weeks ago as being brought down here from Trenton, N. J., to let loose for an experiment, made his way safely home in time to go to roest that night with his mate. So we are informed by the parties who had the pigeon

-Greenville Express: The steamer Edgecombe still sticks near Sparta. Her partner, the Greenville, the largest steamer ever run on Tar river, was launched at Washington Tuesday, amidst the firing of guns, the clapping of hands and the waving of flags. One of Washington's fairest daughters broke a bottle of wine on her bow. She will make her first trip next

- Fayetteville Gazette: Capt. W. B. Draughon has been appointed Chief Marshal for the Fair. — There were present at preaching last week at Cape Fear Baptist Church, in the lower part of this county, four old men, whose combined ages sum up 321 years, viz: Nathan Williamson, aged 85, Malcom L. McLean, aged 81, Daniel Butler, aged 79, and William Butler, brother of Daniel, aged 76.

- Greensboro State: Judge Mo-Koy is stopping at the McAdoo House, and being a little unwell this morning had his breakfast sent to his room. A young lawyer, seeing the servant carrying the break-fast to his room, concluded that the Judge was sick, and rushed off at once to spread the news and lay pipe for the appointment of his successor. The Judge is hale and hearty, however, and will keep somebody waiting for his shoes a long time.

- Lenoir Topic: We learn that during the session of Court at Marion, Judge Schenck issued bench warrents for the immediate arrest of the magistrates charged with failing to comply with the road laws. - The increase in the value of taxable property in Caldwell county, during the past year is over $100,000. Who will say Caldwell is not prosperous? There are 1,583 more sheep in the county this year than last-notwithstanding the crop of dogs has been about the average.

- Monroe Enquirer: The revival meeting at the Methodist church closed on last Sunday night. At the services Sunday morning 17 new members were received into the church and up to that time there had been over 50 conversions. — We regret to learn that, while cleaning off one of the rollers of their carding machine yesterday—the machine being in metion—Mr. Henry Shute had his right hand drawn in under the roller and badly lacerated on the back of it by the teeth of the cards.

- Lincoln Progress: Mr. Wm. R. McLean, of South Point, Gaston county, father of J. L. McLean, Esq., of this place, met with a serious accident on the 2d inst. Mr. and Mrs. McLean had started to Charotte and accidentally drove into a yellow jacket's nest, and the mule attached to the buggy ran away and threw them both out, breaking Mr. McLean's arm near the shoulder and otherwise injuring him. Mrs. Mclean was also painfully, but not seriously injured. - Mooresville Gazette: Mr. John E. Jamison, a worthy and estimable man living near Mooresville, was seriously in-jured last Tuesday at his cotton press. He was, we understand, arranging something in the press preparatory to putting in a bale of cotton, and standing in a stooping posture, when the heavy follow-block above, weighing 600 pounds, fell, striking him on the back and fastening him beneath its ponderous weight. The combined efforts of two men were required to extricate him from his perilous aituation. He is now ly ing it is feared, in a dangerous condition. - According to the Mooresville Gazette, Roe Reid, colored, was doing some work about a gin house, the machinery of which was run by horse power. In some unexplained way he became entangled in the machinery, and his head was caught between the large cog-wheel and the cylinder or drum which revolves upon it, and there he stuck. In a moment it was thought his head would be crushed to a jelly, but Joe's occipital and parietal bones were too well hinged for that. His head wouldn't go through, and the wooden cogs could make no impression upon it. He brought the whole machinery to a dead lock, in spite of the combined efforts of four or six horses to keep the wheel in motion. When released from his perilous position, he scratched his head, and said, "By golly, that thing hurt right smart," and then went on about his business. - Charlotte Observer: Ex-Congressman Robbins, of the Seventh District, at Surry Court last week, expressed the opinion that Mr. Tilden would be the next Democratic Presidential neminee. —— It

- The Local Preachers' Conference for North Carolina will be held at Clayton, on the North Carolina Railroad, fourteen miles from Raleigh, on the 23d, 24th, 25th and 26th of October, 1876. All local preachers in the State who are members will be entertained by the citizens there. - John Mills, a young man who lives near Mooresville, met with a somewhat remarkable death day before yesterday afternoon. He came to Mooresville with a bale of cotton, sold it, and later in the day was drinking. In the afternoon he went to his wagon, and in the attempt to get in lost his balance and fell backward to the ground, his head striking first. Several citizens who saw him fall, lifted him into the wagon, supposing that he was simply "dead drunk." Shortly afterwards his father went to the wagon and found that he was dead. - Goldsboro Messenger: Hon.

Duncan K. McRae is among the lawyers n attendance tat the Superior Court. Col. McRae made his maiden effort in the legal fraternity, of which he is now a shining member, in the old Wayne Court House at Waynesboro. That was thirty-eight years ago. — The Disciples annual convention will convene in Kinston to-day. The Disciples' denomination embraces a most worthy element of our citizens, and their church is growing rapidly. - Shortly after the special train on the Atlantic & North Carolina Road had left town yes-terday evening, a young man, samed John Faircloth, of New Hope Township, in this county, was found lying near the track of the road, in front of Royall's bakery, with his right leg badly crushed by the train. He seems to have been in an intoxicated condition and probably fell off the car platform, but he claims that a negro man pushed him off. —The Association of the Primitive Baptists, was beld with church at Nahunta, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the attendance of Sunday being estimated at over 3,000 people.

Fire at W hiteville. We learn that a fire broke out in the store of Messrs. C. D. Baldwin & Co., at Whiteville, Columbus county, at about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, which resulted in the total loss of both store and stock. The flames also communicated to a bar-room in the rear of the store, kept by a man named Elkins, which was also destroyed. Other stores in the vicinity made a very narrow Mayor's Court.

Wm. Edwards, a colored youth, was ar raigned on the charge of knocking a rock through a glass in the window of Messrs. Brown & Roddick's ten cent store, corner of Second and Market streets, on Monday afternoon. Defendant was ordered to pay a fine of $2 50 or be imprisoned for five days, on condition that he pays for the glass; otherwise his incarceration to be for ten days, the Mayor remarking that there was too much of the rock-throwing in the streets, and be was going to put a stop to it if possible.

Jane Foy, colored, charged with acting disorderly, was let off on the payment of Online Verge of Starvation.

A colored man by the name of Sandy Bell was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Justice Gardner, charged with wilful abandonment. It subsequently transpired, upon investigation, that the wife and seven small children of this man were almost on the verge of starvation, their weak condition and haggard and pinched appearance moving the sympathies of the magistrate to such an extent that he took the poor creatures before Col. Taylor, Clerk of the Auditing Committee of the County Commissioners, who provided them with something to eat. To-day it is thought that they will be sent back to Pender or to the County Poor House. It seems that Bell and his family came here from Pender county some time in June last, since which time his wife and children have received fifty cents. His case has not yet come up for a hearing.

Magistrates' Court.

Thomas Morrisey, colored, had a hearing before Justice Gardner, yesterday, on a peace warrant sworn out by one Mary Durant, colored. The case was dismissed on destroy plants, shrubbery, &c., in front the payment of costs, in default of which the defendant was committed to the Sheriff and lodged in jail.

Opera House To-night.

To-night John A. Stevens, well supported by a selected Company, will appear at the Opera House in "Unknown," for the first time. Splendid scenery to correctly present the drama is transported with the Company, and appearances indicate that a large audience will be present. The Company played in Norfolk Monday night, and the Norfolk Landmark of Tuesday speaks of them as follows:

"Last night the eminent and popular actor, Mr. John A. Stevens, assisted by a superb Company, presented at the Opera House his pleasing romantic idyl, entitled 'Unknown,' to a very large, fashionable and delighted audience. "Mr. Stevens should, and we believe does.

feel highly complimented by so brilliant a reception and the universal and hearty approval of his masterly rendition of the character of "Harold," afterwards the "Unknown." The manly charm of his fine personal appearance in the first act awoke an interest which was followed by the grandest triumph in his incomparable impersonation of the poor, unfortunate and demented brother of "Bessie Merribright." He played this difficult part to perfection. There was nothing lacking, neither did he overdo the character. He won the sympathies of the audience and carried it with him, winning the most cordial and heartfelt applause. Miss Lottie Church as "Bessie Merribright, was the next great attraction. She is a charming and talented artiste, and captivated the entire audience, winning a host of friends and admirers. Mr. W. H. Cooper as "Albert Stormking" was excellent, his fine acting receiving a well-merited recognitior. Mr. W. H. Bailey made an admirable "Jack Salt." Mr. G. F. Ketchem, as "Jimmy," was a host within himself, and his every appearance was a signal for loud laughter and enthusiastic applause. His comic specialties between the second and third acts were very amusing. Mr. C. B. Hawkins, as "Pat," played the Irishman like a child of the ould sod. Mr. R. Delorme as "Dr. Richard Brinkton;" G. R. Sprague as "Arnold Tyson;" Miss Angie Griffiths as "Louisa," and Miss Ada Ward as "Annette," were all good. In fact, the cast is a powerful one, and we most cordially and unreservedly commend Mr. Stevens and his superb company to our brethren of the Press in other cities, and to the public at large."
