Proposition for a New Telegraph

A meeting of our business men was held at the Produce Exchange, yesterday at noon, in response to a call from Vice President R. E. Calder, to hear certain propositions in regard to the establishment of a new telegraph line here at an early day. The meeting was addressed by Capt. F. W. Foster, who stated that he had been taking some interest in the matter of cheap telegraphy, and who read a letter from the President of the American Union Telegraph Company, throwing out certain hints and suggestions in reference to the proposed line, and asking for an expression of opinion on the part of our merchants and other business men, in reference to the extension. A map was exhibited showing the present extent of the line, that portion of it to be completed by the end of Decem ber, 1879, and that expected to be finished during 1880. There was considerable interest manifested in the matter by those Capt. Foster, as the sense of the meeting, that he should write and obtain more definite information from the President of the American Union Telegraph Company in

He has been in charge here for two years past and has made many friends, but as the firm will now deal more extensively in naval stores, the services of Mr. Judge have also been secured.

There are a large number of strange colored people in the city in attendance upon the Annual Conference of the Free Will Baptist denomination, which is in session at Wooten's Chapel, corner of Ninth and Bladen streets. The Conference is said to be quite a spirited one, or at least the meetings in connection with it.

The case of Richard Maultsby, colored, charged with creating a disturbance at his house in the southern part of the city, on Wednesday night last, and which was continued over from Thursday morning, was called, but the evidence indicated the affair to have been of such a flimsy character, that the defendant was discharged.

These men were arrested by Officer Carr on the affidavit of Johnson's same two men who attempted to assassinate Mr. George Harper, near this city, some few years ago. Johnson's wife, or widow, states that on the same night which appeared in the STAR at the time, she was carried to the house of William Fisher, on Eleventh, between Orange and Dock streets, where they kept her concealed in a sort of cave, where potatoes were kept, to another point. At the latter place she of fifty men had scoured the woods in the the outlaw and his companions, when they took their departure, and finally succeeded in making their way to Cheraw, S. C., where Johnson had a sister hving. Here he soon afterwards got into a difficulty with his sister and attempted to kill her with an axe when she went for an officer to arrest him, but during her absence he took his wife and left for other quarters. Johnson's wife says her husband was killed about the mid-
