There was an advance last week in breadstuffs and in many articles of merchandize.

There were but 465 deaths in New York last week, which is said to be the lowest death rate ever known in that city.

The preliminary celebration at Yorktown, Va., promises to be a success. On Thursday the people will gather. All of the Governors of the original thirteen States are expected to be present.

In nearly every Protestant pulpit iu Baltimore remarks were made on Sunday last upon the death of the aged Bishop Whittingham, of the Episcopal Church. His merits were cordially recognized by all.

Seven steamers sailed last Satur. day for Europe from New York loaded heavily with cargoes, the grain shipments amounting to over 200,000 bushels, and the flour to over 40,000 sacks. Of cotton there were 6,500 bales; 4,000 barrels of the new crop of apples were another feature; also 1,838 quarters and 150 tons beef, besides 300 carcasses sheep.

This time it is Rev. Dr. Lorimer, a famous Baptist preacher, late of Boston, but now of Chicago. What has he been doing? He has been stealing. Some Methodist clergymen heard him preach a sermon by Dr. Parker, of London. A newspaper procured the sermon and the comparison was made. It was seen that the "two great minds" had run very much in the same channel. Whole paragraphs were identical. Dr. Lorimer is really a man of ability and ought to be ashamed to pilfer another preacher's sermon because he is not present to trip of two thousand miles. He but recognizes the weakness of human nacould not speak of the Ingalls matter, as his connection with the case was that of a judge. This was right. In Chicago he was abused unmercifully by the Times for refusing to be pumped. The Times is a sort of scavenger paper anyway. He had not abused Tilden. He had said "that the general sentiment of North Caroling and of the South is unfavorable to him as a Presidential candidate." In this he spoke the truth. He thought Hancock was the man. We quote now the words of the reporter: "I am heartily tired of soldiers, and would prefer to see a civilian in the Executive chair, but we need a Union soldier to offset this Grant boom. Hancock was a better soldier than Grant, and I favor him because he has shown himself a friend of Constitutional government and civil liberty n the South.

You think, then, that Grant is the com ing man for the Republicans?"

"Does anybody with sense doubt it?" "John Sherman, perhaps, Blaine or Hayes."

"Ah! that, perhaps, is an important qualification. They wish they could doubt but the evidence, I fear, is too strong. What is your idea of the result in New York?"

Tilden is slaughtered if the State goes Republican this year. But it don't follow, in that case, that it is lost for the Demo crats in the Presidential election. The Democratic candidate will carry that State next year, for I believe that the idiotic internecine war, now going on between two actions of the party, will be beneficial in its effects, and tend to fuse and harmonize iscordant elements. You have heard the old story about the cats?"

The New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer takes the same view of the Democratic campaign in New York as that given in the STAR of yesterday, taken from the Baltimore Sun's Washington letter. The Enquirer's special says: the Ohio election will have not a whit of comes off two weeks from next Tuesday. The same issues do not exist here as there. The Democrats are running the campaign on strictly State issues; they being, in brief, the reduction of taxation and the carrying on of canal reforms. Both Mr. Robinson and Mr. Tilden are confident of victory. While not underrating the Kelly movement, they do not attach to it the importance given by Republicans; and they expect to more than counteract it by an inreased vote in the rural districts, where Robinson is especially strong. The Democrats are making no noise-Mr. Tilden never does; but they are working as men never worked before."

This is very cheering, and we hope the result will be as favorable as the

What Excursions Do.

Excursions, sometimes, are paying institutions. It is estimated by some of our business men that the late colored excursion from South Carolina spent from $6,000 to $8,000 with our merchants, and some even place the figure as high as $10,000. They only remained here a little over a half day, and we know of one merchant that retailed to them in that time goods to the amount of $200. Their purchases, too, were all paid for in small change, which at the time was exceedingly acceptable to our merchants. The fact that they had so much money to spend does not look very encouraging to the exedus scheme in our sister State; neither does it tally very well with the insane utterances and constantly reiterated slander of the Radical press North, which would have the country believe that the colored people of the South are a persecuted, wretched and starving class, who labor for the white people and are not remunerated for their services.

Young Bachelors in Troubic. We learn that some three or four young storekeepers on the wharf, who have their residence on Fourth street, where they keep "Bachelor's Hall," discovered a few days ago that they had met with quite a serious loss. It seems that they had two or three beds stowed away, awaiting the opening of the winter to bring them into requisition. Thinking it would be likely to turn cold in | ing the necessary repairs. The Isis left for a day or two, they went to look after their beds, and found only the empty ticks, the feathers having all been stolen and carried away. It appears that they have had two or three different cooks employed at intervals during the time they have been running their co-operative boarding-house, and to one of these they give the credit of having emptied their beds, but to which particular one they cannot say.

OPERA HOUSE.

The Chimes of Normandy. The bad weather undoubtedly kept many from the Opera House last night, but those present had every reason to congratulate themselves on being in attendance. "The Chimes of Normandy" is a far more pleasing opera with an audience than "Fatinitza," and it was rendered last night in s style that won the heartiest applause from an intelligent audience. The part of Serpolette is peculiarly an opportunity for Miss Richmond, and she certainly availed herself of the chances. She looked, acted and sang the part to perfection, and was ofter applauded. Mr. Armand, too, had a much better character for the display of his voice as Granicheux last night, than in the role of Julian on the previous evening, and was fully equal to the occasion. He has splendid tenor voice, which delights all listeners, and his acting is scarcely inferior to his singing. The Sheriff, was admirably done by Mr. Sturgess. as was to be expected, and he won new favor in his old part. In addition to an excellent voice, Mr. Sturgess has much ability as a comedian. Miss Girard was still suffering from hoarseness, and could not sing the part of Germaine with much effect, but the reason was so evident that the audience could but sympathize with and encourage her efforts. In its entirety the opera was charmingly presented, and the audience left at the close more than pleased with the entertainment.
