SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Charlotte Observer's Report Condensed. Third Day. STATESVILLE, Oct. 25 .- Treasurer's eport read and referred.

The next Synod will be held in the First Presbyterian Church, Ra-

Rev. L. McKinnon presented the report on Education. It showed that there were sixteen candidates for the ministry under the charge of the Presbyteries, three less than last year. Of these sixteen, eleven are beneficiaries, two are receiving aid from the Church, and one is supported by a minister of Mecklenburg Pres bytery. The whole amount raised for education is $5,349, which is $3,161.84 more than the contributions made last year.

The following resolutions presented by the Agent, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in accordance with the recommendation of the Assembly, the last Thursday in February in 1880 be observed as a day of prayer to God, for the outpouring of His spirit upon our institutions of learning and the youth of our Church.

Resolved, 2d, That this Synod respectfully overture the General Assembly, to convene in Charleston, S. C., next May, to unite the educational interest of our Church with that of publication.

At this point in the proceedings Prof. J. R. Blake, of Davidson College, was invited to address the Synod, which he did at some length, in the interest of the college.

Rev. L. McKinnon, President of the Board of Trustees, also spoke. A committee, composed of Revs. L. C. Vass, H. G. Hill and J. H. Smith, was appointed to prepare a paper on the importance of the college and to arge the friends of Presbyterianism and learning to aid its endowment. The committee on Statistical Reports, of which Rev. L. C. Vass is Chairman, reported a condensed statement of reports from the Presbyte ries (embracing the facts and figures which appeared in Thursday's proceedings); also, the death of three ministers - Rev. R. Z. Graves, Rev. J. M. Anderson and Rev. John Douglas, and the following committees were appointed to bring in a minute of their death: On Rev. J. M. Anderson, Rev. F. H. Johnston and Elder John Burwell; on Rev. R. Z. Graves, Rev. S. H. Isler and Elder Gulick; on Rev. John Douglas, Rev. W. E. McIlwaine and Elder A. G. Neel. The report was received and adopted, and the Synod took a recess

AFTERNOON SESSION. The special order for the afternoon session, to-wit: Sabbath Schools, was taken up. The agent, Rev. L C. Vass, complained of neglect on the part of the Presbyteries in the matter of furnishing the proper statistics, but was able to report 8,872 Sunday School scholars, an increase of 645, and that there were signs of hopefulness and increased attention to the great work. The report recommended the reaffirmation of the resolutions of the General Assembly of 1879, to the effect that no part of the Church work was more important, and that its influence could be increased by systematic organization under presbyterial and sessional control. &c. The report brought out quite an animated discussion by the Rev. Mr. Vass, Dr. Smith, Dr. Wilson, Rev. Mr. Watkins, and Elder McDowell and others. Mr. Vass's report was adopted.

Rev. F. H. Johnston, agent for publication, next made his report, which was also taken up as a special order. It was shown that the total fund contributed for this cause during the year was $624.48; an increase of $80.24 over the receipts of last year. It was also shown that an inreased number of churches had contributed to the cause. On the subject of colportage it was shown that only two of the Presbyteries were engaged in it. The report further urged upon the church the necessity of supporting The Earnest Worker religious newspaper, published under the auspices of the committee. Adopted. At this point in the proceedings the Synod heard the editor of the North Carolina Presbyterian, Mr. John McLaurin, in behalf of his paper, and was also addressed on the same subect by Rev. J. M. Atkinson, who commended it in high terms, and set orth its necessity to Presbyterianism n the State. A resolution, introduced by Rev. F. H. Johnston, commendatory of the paper, and urging the ministers to aid it by efforts to extend the circulation and by contributing to its columns, was passed unanimously. The synodical agent of Home Missions, Rev. R. Z. Johnston, made a report, showing that the total con-EVENING SESSION. report, showing that the total contributions for this cause had been $4,947, an increase of $531, and equal to a fraction over 27 cents per mem-T. O. S. Ferguson, the senior member of the large tobacco manufacturing establishment of Farguson. Lacy & Co., and President of the Lynchburg National Bank, died Tuesday night. will be made a most agreeable one. The excursion is given for the purpose of developing more fully the community of interests heretofore existing between the Carolinas, Georgia and the port of Wilmington, and will doubtless affect much in that direction. The tickets issued are good upon any passenger train of the Cardins Central Rullway, the Raleigh & Augusta Atr-Line Railroad, the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio Railroad, and the Western North Carolina Railroad, for fifteen days, from and after October 28th, 1879.

Tax Collections-Encouragement

Tax Payors. Sheriff Manning turned over to the County Treasurer, on Monday, the handsome sum of $10,885, being the amount of taxes collected by him during the week previous. Of this amount $10,000 goes to the special fund, to pay off eld bonds, and $885 to the general fund. The above payment for the special fund very nearly wipes out the indebtedness entailed by the old bonds, the final consummation of which will result in quite a relief to the people of the county, next year.

Jury Trut Before a Mugistrate. The case of the State vs. John O'Brien, charged with committing an assault, was heard before Justice McQuigg on Monday. The defendant demanded a jury trial, which was accorded. M. Bellamy, Esq., appeared for the prosecution, and F. Darby, Esq., for the defence. The jury retired Monday for the defence. The jury retired Monday evening, and remained out all night, and, railing to agree, finally had to be discharged yesterday morning, when the case was set for reheating to-day. This is the first time we have heard of a magistrate's jury remaining out all night.

The Turpositine Trade.

The steady and rapid advance in prices for spirits of turpentine during the past eight or ten days has been a matter of surprise to a great many, but in seeking for a cause for this gratifying state of affairs in this branch of trade, it is not difficult to arrive at the conclusion that the upward movement is in the main a healthy one. and is not so much due to the manipula tions of speculators as to the demand for this product of the piney woods from the various trades using it. The principal consumers of spirits are the manufacturers of varnishes, and so long as the trades taking supplies from them continue to flourisb, as they do, the demand for spirits must continue to be a strong one. The railroad car builders, furniture, carriage and plano manufacturers, and house painters, are the chief customers of the varnish makers, and with the general revival of business all these trades are flourishing, particularly in the North and West. The opportunity, however, may be a favorable one for speculators, for the increased consumption, carrying prices to their present figure, has been altogether domestic, leaving the foreign demand yet to be supplied.

Rosins, tar and crude turpentine have al kept pace with the improvement in prices for spirits, the market closing firm all around yesterday at the advances obtained during the past week.

How long prices will hold up or how much higher they may go, will of course depend upon the demand, and the ability of producers to supply it. With regard to these it must be borne in mind that there can be no expansion of their business before the spring opens, and until that time distillers must rely for their supply of crude turpentine upon the crop of trees already "boxed," which, probably has not been greatly augmented during the past season. On the whole, the outlook is a favorable one for producers and distillers.
