HE MORNING

VOL. XXV.--NO. 34

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1879.

WHOLE NO. 3,812

The prices of merchandize have advanced generally. The great increase in cereals will not benefit this part of the South. The fact is the revival of business so far has benefited but few in this section. The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger thus gives the advance in prices:

"Present prices, compared with those of October, 1878, show the following increase: Cereals, 40 per cent.; coffee, 10 do.; tea, 331 do.; sugar, 1 do.; rice, 6 do.; pork, bacon, hame and lard, 15 do.; butter and cheese, 174 do. The advance appears due less to speculation than to the demand for consumption. The general increase of bu-siness activity, and the consequent ability of people to spend money more freely, were shown in the grocery trade by the enhanced decand for high priced goods and the 'fancy groceries,' which are strictly

The recent election in California cost that State $72,876.16. This was the legitimate expense. The items include the salaries of the registrar and his deputies; the salaries of the precinct boards of registration; the salaries of the election officers; the rent of the polling-places, advertising, printing, buggy hire, maps, telegrams, and delivery wagons. The whole makes the expense of registering, receiving, and counting each vote, $1.77. What the candidates and their friends expended is not included in the above, but must have been very heavy.

The only good news we have seen recently from New York is contained in the following dispatch of the 28th: "The bottom has begun to fall out of the Tammany machine, and from rumors and the actual appearance of things Mr. Kelly will be a forlorn figure-head in Tammany Hall on election day. About fifty of the General Committee seceded from the wigwam last night and this morning. Among ough, of Kelly's own District, and Mr. Daniel M Doebler, also of the Eighteenth District The weak county ticket nominaled by Tammany has driven hundreds of workers from the organization. They say that they are tired helping to elect the same men year after year. The German auxiliary organization to Tammany Hatt, which has beid meetings in the Teutonia Assembly Rooms, has gone to pieces. What remains now is on paper only."

Ben Butler has a telling way of exposing in few words the weak point of an adversary. It appears as if a proposition had been made to him by Mr. Adams, the Democratic candidate for Governor, that both should withdraw. He said the proposition was as amusing as if during a heated naval engagement, "when the life of a State is at stake, a man in a little cockle boat, with not even a swivel on board, should go up to the admiral of one of the fleets and say, If you will withdraw from this contest with your fleet I will."

The piety of the representative bloody-shirt flapper and hater of the South finds melodious expression in the versicles of the lawless shricker of the Hooded Hawkeye:

Grant us, good Lord, four years of strength Grant us from lawless force a sweet release; Grant us the dawning of a brighter day; Grant us the blessing of a hero's away; Grant us deliverance from brutal might; Grant us an arm that dare defend the right;

Grant us the man whose actions for him Grant us the shield that gleams before the Grant us the man in whom our hopes we Grant us the "man on horseback," grant us

Secretary Sherman showed very plainly n his New York speech that the Democratic party is without principle or object except the spoils of office. Balt. American, severely Statement.

Unfortunately for the "visiting statesman" his speeches perform the same service for himself. John has no principle, and his only object is to keep his hands on "the spoils of Baldwin's store was burned with the entire stock of goods. He has lost very heavily. He was insured for $3,500, but that does not cover his loss. He lost at least $2,000 by the fire. The store was supposed to have been robbed, and then set on fire by the robbers. - The Whiteville Academy has 88 pupils at this time.

— Red Banks dots: Elias Bullard, an honest and industrious colored man living near here, had his stable and crib burned about two weeks ago, losing his entire crop of corn of 100 bushels. — Our church was dedicated on the second Sunday in this nonth; the Presiding Elder, Rev. L. L. Hendren, preached the dedicatory sermon. — On last Saturday night Mr. D. R. Baxley, of this village, discovered that one entire end of his house was in flames, which fortunately he succeeded in putting out. The fire had been applied from the outside, and there were unmistakable, evidence of its being the work of an incendiary. We also learn that several weeks ago some one applied the torch to the house occupied by Rhoda Chavis (Lowrie). — Alfordaville brief: Mr. Milton McPhaul got his gin house, gin, eleven bales cotton and several other things in the house burned into ashes last Saturday morning before day.

Frank Moseley, a white man, charged with being drunk and down on the pavement on Fourth, between Orange and Ann streets, on Wednesday night, where he was discovered by the police fast asleep, was released on the payment of costs.

Stephen White, our old English friend brief allusion to whom was made under this head yesterday morning, was again ar raigned before the Court for indulging in his old habit of worshipping too devoutly at the shrine of Baccage. He volunteered a statement to His Honor to the ef fect that he was an Englishman, recently arrived here from Burgaw, was in the neighborhood of 75 years of age, had met with the misfortune of getting both legs, an arm and other members of his "body corporate" broken or dislocated, had been a play actor, as well as an author, confining himself strictly to postry, and wound up by beseeching the clemency of the Court, repeating the oft-quoted lines.

"That mercy I to others show, That mercy show to me," concluding with the assurance that if let of this time he would get away from this city as fast as his old legs would carry him. Such an eloquent and pathetic appeal could but have its weight with the Mayor He couldn't help but "pity the sorrows o the peorold man," and he tempered justice with mercy by telling the old disciple of Shakespeare that he was free to go whither he would, so he absented himself forthwith, and let the places in Wilmington that then knew him know him no more forever The old man then took his little bundle and departed, and the Court adjourned.

Decided at Last. The case of the State vs. John O'Brien for an alleged assault, which has been pending before Justice McQuigg for several days past, was finally decided yesterday. It will be remembered, that the defendant demanded a jury, which was accordingly summoned and the case heard, when they retired and remained out all Tuesday night, failed to agree upon a verdict, and were discharged, making a mistrial. Another jury was then summoned and the case set for a hearing in the County Commissioners room yesterday morning. This time there was quite an array of counsel, M. Bellamy, Esq., appearing for the prosecution, and Messrs. F. H. Darby and John L. Holmes for the defence. There were quite a number of witnesses examined, followed by argument of counsel, after which the jury retired, and soon afterwards brought in a verdict of guilty. Justice McQuigg then suspended judgment on the payment of costs, which will amount to considera ble. The defendant, through his counsel prayed an appeal to the Criminal Court, which was granted, he being required to was given and I at James and more

The peculiar working of our system of jury trials before magistrates is exemplified in this case, which was a trivial one, in a most unfavorable light; about forty persons, as jurors and witnesses, being forced away from their business to attend this trial, and the verdict of the jury and the judgment of the Court are immediately set sside by an appeal to the higher Court. Had there been no jury in the case the Justice himself would have been required to decide the matter, whom, if either party was dissatisfied, he could then have appealed, and the stands was queb a desertit parwers not
