Senator Butler made the agricultural address at the Chester (S. C.) Fair. He was introduced by Senator Hampton.

Mr. Robert Bonner sold 87 fine horses recently. The prices low, and some of the horses were sacrificed. The highest price was $4,000 for "Keene Jim."

The Virginians are confident that the honor of the old State will be amply vindicated on next Tuesday. So be it. We hope a great victory awaits the friends of the McCulloch

It is worthy of note that two brutal New York policemen are to be tried. The penalty, on conviction, will be twelve months' imprisonment. New York is solely cursed with brutes with clubs.

The New York dry goods market is thus summarized in a letter of 29th

"The cotton goods market continues aclive and prices are firm. Brown and bleached cottons are scarce in all leading makes. Prints are in moderate demand; ginghams and dress goods are more active."

Money is being freely used in New York in getting up mass meetings. The Robinson meeting at Cooper Institute cost $7,000, and the Cornell blow-out about the same. The officeholders and office-seekers contribute the necessary sums.

The Richmond (Va.) State, in a graceful tribute to the excellence of Gen. Fitz Lee's recent address before the Army of Northern Virginia, says

"The orator, inspired by the remembrance of his own share in the noble deeds of the time, seemed not unlike the pious son of old Anchises relating the woes of his loved Ihum, as with tearful eyes he looked back upon its wasted ruins, but with a swelling heart recalled the imperishable busings of its defanders. But—Histon fuill heroism of its defenders, Bat-Ilium fuil!"

Gen. Grant has turned humorist. His last attempt in that line was at Virginia City. We have seen better, but such as it is we lay before our Hines and Simeon Grady, a few days since, and committed to jail here on Sunday night last.

- Goldsboro Messenger: The bart and stable of Dr. James H. Hay, at Prince and stable of Dr. James H. Hay, at Princeton, were destroyed by fire on last Saturday night. — The rise crop in this section turns out encouragingly, and the crop will doubtless be largely increased another season. — The local receipts of cotton in this market for the month of October will foot up 8,000 bales. The receipts up to Saturday last were 6,166 bales. September receipts were 2,117 bales. — While the going on here now—secretly, perhaps, but it is certainly going on—it is safe to say Mr. Kelly will not receive 12,000 votes in the city of Naw York. Gov. Robinson will carry this city by thirty five or forty thousand majority, at least, and it the anti-Cornell Republicans do anything like what seems to be promised of them, 70,000 majority in the city will be assured for Gov. Robinson. No man can overestimate the rottenness of the Tammany Hall organizareceipts were 2,117 bales. — While the cotton, thanks to the favorable weather, turns out better than was anticipated, there is every reason to fear a scarcity of corn. — Our thoughtful townsman, T. B. Hyman, Esq., is this week soliciting cash contributions and donations for the Oxford Ofton phan Asylum, and we are pleased to lear that our citizens are generously responding.

— Two white men, giving their names as Wm. Deavers and Rufus Nobles, were as rested by Officer Suggs, in this town, last Monday, on suspicion of having a couple of stolen steers in their possession, which they were offering to sell to the butchers.

- Tarboro Southerner: Mr. G. Zander died at his residence in Tarboro, on Saturday morning last, of consumption, in his 44th year. He was an amiable, good citizen, without an enemy in the world.

The new colored Episcopal minister arrived from St. Louis on Saturday, with his family, and preached to his congregation on Sunday morning and evening. This is as it should be. The new minister is highly spoken of as a man of knowledge and piety.

A little daughter of John W. Cotton in running around the corner of a street, ran right into the horn of a cow. "The British force detailed from the gar-rison of Khelat and Ghilzai is reported to have attacked and defeated a body of a street, ran right into the horn of a cow, meeting her. Nash items: Rocky Mount is in need of a good baker, and one who understands the business would do well here. Capt. Tom Avent, of this county, says that there is not a farmer in the county who will not be able to pay his debts and have money to spare. — Plymouth news: The money to spare. — Plymouth news: The corn crep of this county is good. > — One of the trains on the Richmond & Danville Railroad Tuesday night ran over and killed an unknown man near Harrisburg, Cabarrus county. It is supposed that the engineer of the train which killed him did not know of it, as he did not step to investigate the matter, and the discovery of the killing was made by the engineer of the next train that passed. It is probable that the man was a tramp and that he had lain down on the track and gone to sleep, or else fell off the train that killed him while stealing a ride.
