There was a free trade demonstration at Delmonico's, New York, last week, in honor of a distinguished member of the British Parliament. The world moves and New York

A little while ago Jo Blackburn, who is eloquent but not wise, was hot for Tilden. Now he talks "thusly":

"He might as well be hermetically sealed in a terra-cotta casket and buried twelve feet under ground as be in his present situation. He is as dead as Thurman, politically speaking."

The Honorable (?) Mr. Voorhis, of New Jersey, who has been arrested for embezzlement, is a Republican. He was elected in 1878 because of division among the Democrats. A better man will now be elected in his place. The district usually polls 2,000 Democratic majority.

Here is good news in small compass. Mr. John Appleyard, of Selma. Ala., has been to Westminster, S. C. and examined the "Clement Attachment." The Selma Times says:

"Mr. Appleyard, who has been engaged in manufacturing cotton goods, in some capacity, for over fifty years, says it is, beyoud a doubt, the greatest invention of the age; that it will revolutionize the whole cotton manufacture of the country, and the South is bound to be the gainer.

John Sherman and Mr. Burchard Director of the Mint, got into a quar. rel, whereupon C. S. (cuss words, as Hon. Bardwell Slote would say,) flew around lively. This has reached the pious ears of Ratherafraud Burchard, (as Mrs. Partington calls Hayes,) and he now swears that John shall not attend his Sunday night prayer meetings until he C. S. R. in the field as a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1880. This is what the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore American, Republican, says, and it is stated upon the authority of "a confidential letter" received in Washington "from a close friend of General Grant." Court.

VOL. XXV.--NO. 48.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1879.

We quote the significant part of the American's special:

"The object of the writer of this letter, who is one of the principal managers of the third term 'boom,' appears to be to remove in good season whatever impression might exist among the admirers of General Grant that he is indifferent to a re-election to the Presidency, and to infuse renewed vigor into the Grant movement. The letter, after cautioning the observance of the greatest prudence and discretion, states that General Grant will, at the proper time, place himself at the disposal of the American people, and that meanwhile it is ex-pected that his friends will do everything in their power to bring about his nomina-tion, and will lose no opportunity to en-bance his political interests."

Gov. Vance, as our readers know, has been speaking in South Carolina The Columbia Register does not admire stump-speaking, and "would not ike to carry a bundle of anecdotes round the country and peddle them out to roaring audiences," but it acknowledges Vance's power and says: "Yet, be this as it may, ex-Governor Vance is a very extraordinary public speaker. He does move vast assemblies of men with uncommon power, and he touches and thrills the popular heart at times with masterly force and instinctive eloquence. * Governor Vance is a politician, it is true, and he may have their 'winnin' ways well developed. But he is something more-he is a man of genius; he has that touch of nature in him which makes him akin with ill men and their pursuits. Again, we believe, with all the ex-Governor's wit and humor and infinite drollery, he feels the igh promptings of statesmanship.

A Proposed Lecture.

We learn that Ray, S. Mendelsohn has kindly consented to deliver a lecture shortly. under the auspices of North State Lodge No. 222, I. O. B. B., for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum fund of the District Grand Lodge No. 5. The subject will be: "Anec dote and Aphorism." The lecture will no doubt be an interesting one, the object to be benefitted is a worthy one, and we bespeak for the lecturer a large audience. The time and place will bereafter be announced by advertisement.

Released on Bond. James Smith, colored, committed by Justice Dixon McRae, of Brunswick county, on the charge of larceny, was released from jail in this city yesterday on giving the necessary bond of $100 for his appearance at the next term of Brunswick Superior

Robeson Superior Court-The Wea-

Our Lumberton correspondent, A. B. C., gives us some items connected with the Superior Court, Judge Seymour presiding, which convened on Wednesday last. Business on the State docket is progressing satisfactorily and a number of cases have been disposed of. On Monday the jail had twenty boarders, nearly all colored. There are four capital cases for trial; one, the case of the State vs. McEachey, for the murder of Jim Currie, colored, near St. Paul's, came up on Friday, and a verdict of not guilty was returned. Yesterday the case of the State vs. Peter Leach, colored, for the murder of Sam Townsend, was to be tried, and to-morrow (Monday) the somewhat noted case of the State vs. Amelia Linklaw is set for trial and a senire of two hundred and fifty good and lawful men ordered to be summoned. This case, our correspondent says, will create quite a sensation. Our correspondent adds: "The weather is the warmest and driest ever known here in November, with a prospect to-day of rain. Business this fall has been quite large and satisfactory to the merchants, who have had to add largely to their fall purchases, and the spurt in naval stores and cotton has had a good effect."

Mayor's Court.

Two trifling cases were disposed of by the Mayor yesterday morning. One of the parties, a white man, charged with drunkenness, promised the Mayor that if he would let him off that time he would take an oath not to drink any more. The proposition, apparently made with the greatest sincerity, was considered by Mayor Fishblate and finally agreed to, Captain Cowan, the Clerk, being requested to administer the oath to the effect that he (the defendant) would not indulge in any intoxicating drinks, unless prescribed by a physician, during the next six months. When it came to the pinch, however, the young man wanted to make an exception of beer. saying he would like to take a glass of that occasionally, but the Mayor told him he A. Yates, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and upon which the party was discharged, with day evenings in each month. Prayer Meetan admonition and warning as to what would be the result if he should be brought up for the same offence again.

did Times

In an article in the last Raleigh Christian Advocate reference is made to a Conference that was held in Camden, S. C., commencing December 24th, 1818, and ending January 1st, 1819. The Conference bounds then reached from Upper French Broad, in North Carolina, to Southern Georgia, and from Wilmington, N. C., to the Alcovi river, in Georgia, was divided into seven Presiding Elder's districts, each district embracing about seven appointments, with forty-eight stations and circuits in all. Among the appointments was W. M. Kennedy, to Wilmington, N. C. Not one of the seventy-eight ministers who then received appointments is now living. The Rev. W. M. Kennedy alluded to was the husband of Mrs. Catharine G. Kennedy, who is still living, and, as President of the Ladies' Benevolent Society, devoting her energies to the noble and self-sacrificing work of providing for the poor and destitute in our midst. He was also the father of the present Mrs. Dr. A. J. DeRosett, of this city.

Robbery of a Farmer. Mr. Thomas Mashburn, residing below this city, was robbed on Friday last of about sixty dollars, mostly in silver. It seems that a well known youth of this city, by the name of Antone Swarn, had been stopping at his house for the two days previous. On Friday, about 12 o'clock, he (Mr. M.) went into the woods after a load of lightwood, and, upon returning, found that his trunk was missing, and also discovered the boy hurrying off with a small bag in his hand. Mr. Mashburn then commenced a search for the trunk and finally found it in his hog pen, buried under the straw, and his money gone. He then followed after Swarn, but failed to overtake him. It has been ascertained since that the boy was spending money quite freely in this city Friday night. The loss is quite a severe one to Mr. Mashburn, who is a hard-working farmer.

Chemical Fire Engine.

The new colored fire company, the organization of which was mentioned in Friday's issue, bids fair, if properly encouraged, to become a valuable auxiliary of the Fire Department of this city. They propose to purchase a chemical engine, such as is now in use in several towns that we know of, and has been found to be a valuable assistant in preventing the spread of the flery element. It is supposed that the cost will be from $300 to $400, and it is hoped that our property owners, insurance companies, &c., may help them in securing the amount necessary to purchase their engine. The Chief of the Fire Department appreciates the necessity of having such an engine. In a note to us he says: "It is very desirable to have one, as they are invaluable in stopping a fire in its incipiency."

Gymnastic. A gymnaseum club was organized in this city a few nights since and the following officers elected:

President-Geo. D. Parsley. Vice President-W. J. Willard. Secretary and Treasury-G. H. Smith. Governing Beard-Geo. D. Parsley, M. S. Willard, G. H. Smith, Thes. Radeliff, and W. Smallbones.

The organization was effected under most favorable circumstances, and the club bids fair to be a success.
