An Important Case for the Criminal Court.

Some months ago Mr. S. B. Newsome, resident of South Carolina, it is al leged, came to this city and succeeded in borrowing between $3,000 and $4,000 from Messrs, Kerchner & Calder Bros., he re presenting to the firm that he was worth property to the amount of about $40,000 unincumbered. It subsequently transpired, as it appears, that the property alluded to had been transferred to parties in Charleston under a mortgage previous to receiving the amount from Mesars. Kerchner & Cal der Bros. At the last term of the Criminal Court a true bill was found against Mr. Newsome for false pretense and a capias issued for his arrest. Armed with this document, and a requisition from Gov. Jarvis upon the Chief Executive of South Carolina, Constable T. O. Bunting proceeded to Cade's Depot, S.C. arrested Mr. Newsome, and brought him to this city, where he arrived Thursday night. At Florence he asked permis sion to telegraph to friends at Goldsboro to meet him here and go on his bond. Accordingly upon his arrival at the Sheriff's office, in this city, Dr. G. L. Kerby and Mr. John R. Smith were present and duly affixed their names to his bond of $2,500 for his appearance at the approaching term of the Criminal Court, upon which the defendant was released. Hon. W. T. Dortch, of Goldsboro, of Mr. Newsome's counsel, was also present. The money was obtained by Newsome with the understanding that he was to purchase cotton with it and forward the same to Messrs. Kerchner & Calder Bros., here, and his tardiness in sending in the staple aroused the suspicions of the firm and led to the investigation which culminated in the arrest of the enterprising South Carolinian. The trial of this case has been set for Wednesday next, and will doubtless be a very interesting one, when the character of

Solicitor Moore and Hop. D. L. Russell will appear for the State, and Hon. W. T Dortch and Mr. DuBrutz Cutlar for the de-

It appears that Jenkins, who was in charge of the mills, has been in the habit for some time past of filling bags at the mill and sending them to a cartain store in the northern section of the city. the two colored boys, who were also employed in the mill, being charged with conveying the stolen rice to its destination, Jenkins paying them out of the proceeds. The cases were heard before one of our Justices of the Peace yesterday morning, and at the conclusion of the investigation the three young men were ordered to give bond in the sum of $100 each, with good security, for their appearance at the approaching term of the Criminal Court, in default of which they were committed to jail.

It may be proper to state that there was no evidence of any collusion between the parties and the storekeener alluded to.

Colville & Taylor, situated at the foot of Walnut street, and in very short time it spread so rapidly among the piles of shavings and pitch pine lumber as to light up the whole of that part of the city before a general alarm was sounded for Their watchman, an gelderly man, who had charge of the mill property and of Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son's naval stores yard adjoining, said that he had made his rounds a little after 11 o'clock, when he had discovered nothing nousual, and had returned to a small building on the premises, where his attention was attracted to the fire by a bright light shining through the window. Looking out he discovered fire amongst the shavings in the saw room, and at once gave the alarm. The fire was discarped about the same time by the policemen on the best.

The flames had made good headway before the engines arrived, and the building in which the machinery of the mill was situated, as well as that of the planing mill belonging to Messrs. Altaffer & Hill, was enveloped in flames when the Little Glant, which was the first to put in an appearance, came upon the ground. The efforts of the firemen were at once directed to saving the proparty of Messre. Secunt & Son, adjoining. They labored at great disadvantage, but were successful in keeping the flames from the brick office, the immense piles of rosin in the yard, and the wharves and shed of Messrs. Worth & Worth, which at one time were seriously endangered, when the warehouse of the Mesers, Sprant, next the river, was in a blaze, and which was reported to contain some 300 barrels of spirits of tur-

The police and street laborers have my sympathy, and I would with much pleasure approve of the advance voted them by the Board of Aldermen, if the general prosperity of our city justified it; but so long as there are so many persons unemployed who would gladly accept those positions at the present pay. it seems quite as proper to regard their ne-cessities as those of the present incumbents. If there is other employment to be found at better prices, the police and street hands would do right to resign, and if their places could not readily be filled at the present prices, the Board of Aldermen would then undoubtedly be justified in advancing wages.
