The Washington Post has interviewed quite a number of Southern Congressmen in regard to the New York Herald's Grant boom in the South. They all tell the same story -there is no such boom, it is all newspaper sensation. Gentlemen from West Virginia, Arkansas, Missouri, Louisians, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi. Virginia, and perhaps other States, all agree that there is no such boom, and that only a few hungry Mce seekers, "fools or rascals," are clamoring for or meditating the Grant suicide.

House Breaking and Robbery. The residence of Mrs. Fore, near the cor ner of Fifth and Princess streets, was on-tered and robbed on Wednesday night last, It seems that the family, with the exception of Mr. C. H. Fore, were absent in the country, and he only slept at home. On Wednesday evening, about 7 o'clock, he went home to dress for the lecture, when he found that the house had been entered by a window and the rooms ransacked, the bureau drawers having been opened and their contents scattered about the floor. while the lock of his own trunk had beer close, and great excitement prevailed and picked and a number of articles contained much interest was manifested. These therein stolen. An old knife was foundlyposed to have been the instrument used in opening the trunk. The keys to the differ ent spartments, drawers, etc., had been taken from a cupboard, where they had been concealed by Mr. Fore. All the circumstances went to show clearly that the robbery had been committed by some one familiar with the premises. Suspi cion naturally pointed to a colored girl about 14 years of age, named Jane Wi liams, who had been living with the family but was discharged about three weeks ago, Warrants were issued the same evening and placed in the hands of Officer N. Carr, who with a couple of special deputies, went to the house of the girl's mother, on Chesnut, between Tenth and Eleventh streets. At Officer Carr entered the door June Wi liams, who at the time was sitting at the fire with other members of the family, immediately arose, made for one of the back room and sprang through a window, landing in the arms of Officer C. H. Strode, who, with another special deputy, was on the watch outside. A search of the premises resulted in the discovery of a number of stoles articles, which included eleven handker chiefs, one white apron, a lot of ribbons and edgings, two jars of preserves, etc. One of the handkerchiefs was found in the girl's pocket, and the most of the other articles were recovered here. WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW?—As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a Female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regalate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world renowned as a benefactor of the race; children certainly de man up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are pauly sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been sayed from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
