Let it pass!

Let it pass! Let it pass! Echo not an angry word; Let it pass! Think how often you have erred, Let it pass! Since our joys must pass away Like the dewdrops on the spray, Wherefore should our sorrows stay?

Let it pass! Let it pass! If for good you've taken ill;

Let it pass! Oh, be kind and gentle still! Let it pass! Time at last makes all things straight; Let us not resent but wait; And our triumph shall be great; Let it pass! Let it pass!

Bid your anger to depart; Let it pass! Lay those homely words to heart: "Let it pass!" Follow not the giddy throng; . Better to be wronged than wrong; Therefore sing the cheery song-Let it pass! Let it pass!

-All The Year Round. Confederate Bishops.

The Philadelphia Times of Monday says: "The Confederate brigadier is coming into considerable prominence in the church as well as in the State. At least half a dozen of the younger bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church were officers in the Confederate army, who entered the ministry after the war, and whose military experience doubtless laid the foundations of the character and capacity that are recognized in their elevation to the episcopate. It is not only the Southern dioceses that show a predilection for ex-soldiers. Bishop Quintard of Tennessee, Bishop Dudley of Kentucky, Bishop Peterkin of West Virginia, Bishop Harris of Michigan, and two or three others, including the Bishop-elect of Louisiana, Dr. Galliber, all served in the Confederate army, and so did at least three of the missionary bishops appointed by the House of Bishops -Elliott of Western Texas, Wingfield of Northere California, and Penick of Cape Palmas. We believe that no instance of this kind has yet occurred in the North, which is unfortunate; for there is no doubt that all of these men will make better bishops for having been good soldiers. The fact is that all the young men, 15 to 20 years ago, who were good for any thing, were in the army, and in choosing a man for almost any position, in church or State, an ex-soldier is pretty sure to turn up."

DR. C. McLANE'S
Celebrated American WORM SPECIFIC

VERMIEUGE

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.

THE countenance is pale and leaden-colored, with occasional flushes, or a circumscribed spot on one or both cheeks; the eyes become dull; the pupils dilate; an azure semicircle runs along the lower eye-lid; the nose is irritated, swells, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach, at others, entirely gone; fleeting pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels ir-regular, at times costive; stools slimy; not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult, and accompanied by hiccough; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable, &c.

Whenever the above symptoms DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE will certainly effect a cure. IT DOES NOT CONTAIN MERCURY in any form; it is an innocent preparation, not capable of doing the slightest injury to the most tender infant.

ANABEL'S SECRET

BY MRS. J. O. BRANCH. We desire not to anticipate the pleasure which the readers of the WEEKLY NEWS will derive from the perusal of this charming story, and there-fore will not speak of it here further than to say that in the management of an original and intense-ly interesting plot, not less than in her powers of description, her life-like delineations of character, description, ner life like delineations of character, and the pure moral tone of her reflections, the accomplished anther gives assurance that she inherits the genins of her gifted mother, Mrs. Caroline Lee Heats, whose works of fiction have been so universally admired and still rank among the most popular American books of their class. "Anabel's Secret" is developed in California, of which State the author was at one time a resident, and her vivid descriptions of some of the most wonderful scenery of that pictures que region are among the striking features of the story.

The new scriat will run through some eight or ten numbers of the Weekly. Subscribers who desire to have the story complete should send in their subscriptions at once.
