WASHINGTON.

Annual Report of the Secretary of the Interior.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Secretary of the Interior has made his annual report to the President of the operations of the Interior Department during the past year.

It is a document of great length, covering sixty-five printed octavo pages, of which twenty-two are taken up with a fresh and spirited discussion of Indian affairs, and the Ute outbreak, the treatment of the Ponias, and the recent attempted invasion of the Indian territory by unappointed settlers.

The general conclusion of the Secretary, in view of the facts cited, is that notwithstanding a few isolated outbreaks, the general temper and disposition of the Indians has greatly changed for the better, and that if the present policy of Government be carried out with fidelity, the Indian element in American society.

The remainder of the report is taken up with a review of the business of the General Land Office, the Geological Survey, Accounts, together with brief references to geological surveys, pensions, patents, the census, and public institutions belonging to the United States.

The Secretary repeats his recommendation that further laws be enacted to arrest the indiscriminate destruction of our forests, especially in the mountainous regions of the country, and says: "It was predicted by many opponents of the policy pursued by the Department, that the investigations and prosecutions would not be covered by the proceedings, and that therefore the money appropriated and spent for this purpose would in a great part be money thrown away. This prediction has not been justified by the results. The sum covered on the Treasury during the last fiscal year on account of timber depositions was largely in excess of the sum appropriated, and a considerable number of cases are still pending in the courts, awaiting trial, which will, when judgment is obtained, very much increase the amount recovered. The prosecutions of depositories on public timber lands has therefore been a well paid business to the Government. But," he says, "of far more consequence is the fact that these have created a wholesome respect for the law, and strengthened the desire of good citizens who have the interests of the country at heart to see the unlawful destruction of public timber cease."

With regard to the Hot Springs of Arkansas, the Secretary says he considers it very desirable that the forests around the Springs be preserved from destruction by reservation, and recommends that authority be given for the withdrawal from sale of these wooded tracts. He also recommends appropriations by Congress for improvements in and about the Springs.

Comment on Release of Irish Prisoners—The Restoration of Paris as the Capital of France—Three British Options to be Offered to the Government.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.)

LONDON, November 27.—The Manchester Guardian's London correspondent says it is generally believed that if the release of the Irish prisoners on bail is not followed by an exhibition of anything like intolerable defiance, the trials will not be pressed forward at present. It is thought that the exhibition of authority of law has already done good, which might be lost if the government pressed the trials and failed to obtain conviction.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—In the opening of the session of the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Gambetta congratulated the House on the restoration of Paris to the legal title of capital of France. This restoration, he said, would render closer the bonds of national unity, and attest the confidence placed in the good sense and patriotism of the people of Paris. M. Gambetta besought the Chamber to forego all useless and passionate scenes, and devote itself to securing the grandeur of country and increased strength of the Republic.

Deputy Heintzen questioned government relative to measures for the relief of the sufferers from the commercial crisis. He moved that the public works be pushed and the import duty of grain be abolished.

M. Tierard, Minister of Commerce, replied that the government would promptly consider all proposals to ameliorate the condition of the population of the republic.

The order of day was voted.

MEXICO.

Progress of the Insurrectionary Movement—Mexican Army Declared by Deputies, &c.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.)

SAN FRANCISCO, November 27.—Mexican advices state that Capt. Lund, of the gun boat Diffenbach, after being arrested at Mazatlan and returned on parole, joined the insurgents. The inhabitants of Mazatlan were living in daily anticipation of an attack from the latter, who were still in force outside the city, and who were reported to have captured a train with $80,000 specie. Gen. Manuel Marquez had driven the government troops out of Duraz, and was in possession of the city.

GALVESTON, November 28.—A News special from San Antonio says a lauro letter in the Express states that the Insurgents of Durango, who about attacking the city of Parol, where the remnant of Gov. Trias' troops retreated after the defeat at Chihuahua. Gen. Trevio, with three hundred men, is in Durango acting on the defensive. Gov. Ansona, of Yucatan, with three thousand men, is opposing Palmito, who is backed by the Federal Government. The Mexican army is greatly demoralized by desertion, and the government finds great difficulty in providing men to oppose the insurgents in Durango, Chihuahua and other States.

NEW ORLEANS.

Proceedings of the Kellogg-Spofford Commission.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.)

NEW ORLEANS, November 27.—Several members of the Packard Legislature were examined by the Kellogg-Spofford Commission to-day. The witnesses received money to vote for Kellogg, as well as all knowledge of the bribing of others. A large number of witnesses testified to the fact that Thomas Murray, who was witness for Spofford before the Commission in Washington, and who they would not believe him on oath. Several witnesses were then called to show that Blackstone had admitted in conversation the receipt of money, and that others had been bribed. The testimony, however, was mainly to conversations with various persons in which bribery was talked of or admitted.

P. M.—A. K. Lewis, Notary Public, testified before the Kellogg-Spofford Commission to-day that Jeremiah Blackstone came to his office with Seymour and others, and made an affidavit charging bribery and corruption in the election of Kellogg.

Several witnesses were called to testify to the good character of Murray, and Kellogg introduced Mrs. E. B. Kemp to show the truthfulness of Francis Garrett, but her testimony was decided to be inadmissible.

GEORGIA.

Arrest of Ten Men Charged with Killing.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.)

ATLANTA, November 27.—Ten men from DeKalb county were to-day taken before U. S. Commissioner Smith on the charge of kidnaping a man named McAlpin, his son and daughter. All three were terribly beaten, but it did not appear that they were assaulted for any political or other reason in violation of the United States statutes, and the case was dismissed, but it will probably go before the State courts. It is claimed that the girl was intimate with negroes.

THE ARCTIC EXPLORERS.

Unfavorable Reports from the Jeannette Exploring Expedition.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.)

SAN FRANCISCO, November 27.—The whaling bark Helea Mar arrived here from the Arctic ocean last night, bringing the crew of the bark Mercury, abandoned in the ice October 24th, north of Herald Shoals. The bark Helea Mar was also fast when the Helea Mar left. The captain of the latter fears the Arctic exploring yacht Jeannette will be frozen up in the ice pack, in which case there is little hope of her getting out.

MIDNIGHT SPARKS.

THE IRISH AGITATION.

Excitement over the release of the Irish prisoners.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

LONDON, November 28.—A Sirgo, to-day, the magistrates decided that the evidence which Mr. Kea proposed to present in favor of Mr. Killen was irrelevant, and concluded to close the case, and committed Killen for trial, admitting him to bail. Mr. Killen refused to leave the Court and had to be carried out. The Court was then ordered to be cleared, but Messrs. Davitt and Kea remained in defiance of the order. When the telegram containing the above particulars was dispatched, Mr. Killen was in jail and Mr. Kea was addressing an excited crowd.

Mr. Kea succeeded to call as witnesses the Crown Solicitor, the Catholic Archbishop of Dublin, and one of the members of the House of Commons for Tipperary. This finally broke down the patience of the magistrates, and they refused to receive evidence offered to accept the same amount of bail as in the case of Daly and Davitt. Mr. Kea protested against the proceedings, and said he had arranged with his client not to stand bail. The magistrates said Killen was a man of high standing, and a bornly refused, and offered a passive resistance to his removal from Court by hanging on the arms of the two policemen, with his feet just off the ground. Mr. Kea afterwards announced that the Mayor had given him the use of the Town Hall to protest against the decision, but this the Mayor denied. Mr. Kea then proceeded to denounce the stipendiary magistrate as a "police spy." Persons acquainted with the English forms of procedure were astonished at the forbearance of the Court toward Mr. Kea.
